Kosmet Klub Begins Judging

Tom Sloan (left) alias "The Henchman" and Bill Einfeldt, "Mr. Frown," display their roles in Sigma Chi's Kosmet Klub skit, "Porky and Beth." The Sigma Chi skit was one of several judged Tuesday night by members of Kosmet Klub's judging committee.

Judging for the 1956 Kosmet Klub Fall Revue began Tuesday night and will continue through Wednesday. The theme of this year's Fall Revue is "Classical Capers," and will feature the top skits from competing fraternities plus the traditional curtain acts. Morgan Holmes, Kosmet Klub active, will act as master of ceremonies for this year's Revue. The show which will be held on Dec. 14 in the Coliseum has been a tradition on the University campus for many years. Tickets will go on sale after Thanksgiving vacation and may be obtained from any Kosmet Klub worker.

Reservations Available: Military Ball Program Announced

The 1956 Military Ball program has been announced by Bill Rucker, chairman of the program committee.

9:00-9:40—Dancing to Richard Maltby
9:40-10:00—Grand March and the Presentation of the Honorary Commandant

10:00-10:10—Lincoln Drum and Bugle Corps
10:10-10:35—Naval Aviation Cadet Choir
10:35-11:20—Dancing to Richard Maltby
11:20-11:40—Naval Aviation Cadet Choir
11:40-12:00—Arthur Murray Dancers

12:00-1:00—Dancing to Richard Maltby
Music for this year's Ball will be provided by Richard Maltby and his 16 piece college dance orchestra. Featured will be the group's two singers, Franky Crockett and Eddie Dano.

Miss Crockett, who is beginning her second year with Maltby's orchestra, won the runner-up spot in the 1955 Miss Florida contest. Dano, in his first year with Maltby, is a recording artist for VIK records. He spent the summer in a series of singing engagements for summer resort hotels.

Maltby's 16 piece orchestra was rated the "Most Promising New Orchestra" in 1955 in a Cashbox Magazine poll.

A new feature of this year's Military Ball, the reserved seating facilities at the Coliseum is certain to please everyone. In past years, it was not uncommon for a couple to become separated from the couple they were doubling with for the entire evening.

The climax of the evening's festivities will be the presentation of the Honorary Commandant. The nine finalists have been selected by a joint committee representing the three ROTC branches.

The Lincoln Drum and Bugle Corps will play five numbers. They will feature Joan Poskany, the National Senior Amateur Baton twirling champion in 1952, in a baton twirling exhibition.

In addition the Arthur Murray Dancers of Lincoln will present an exhibition of dancing which will include the following: Fox Trot, Waltz, Swing, Samba, Mambo, and Merenque.

Library Blaze Quelled Quick

Fire of undetermined origin caused several hundred dollars damage Tuesday evening on the second floor of Love Library.

Quick action by library staff members checked the blaze until the Lincoln Fire Department arrived. The fire, discovered by University students studying in the room, was extinguished in a matter of minutes.

Damage, which was confined to a small area in the American Literature-Orr room, was limited to burned drapes, damaged venetian blinds, a window frame, small space between the wall and frame of the building and possible water damage to a rug in the room.

The loss was not covered by insurance.

Theatre: Greek Myth Called Basis For Drama

An original play by Oscar Mandel, assistant professor of English, will be presented Friday and Saturday nights at 8 p.m. at Howell Memorial Theater.

"The Garden of Asclepius," based on a Greek legend, involves the love of a step mother for her husband's son.

The role of Asclepius will be played by Steve Schultz. Other leading roles will be taken by Bill Wagner, Joe Hill, Jan Farrell and Charles Alcorn.

Supporting roles will be played by Bill Baker, John Laberson, Noel Schoenrock, Rod Holmes, Milton Grimes, Diana Peters and Skip Weatherford.

Max Whittaker is the director, and Bernard Skalka, with the assistance of Diana Peters, will handle the production.

Because of the limited seating capacity, people who wish to make reservations for their season's tickets or buy single tickets should do so immediately. This may be done at the box office any day this week between 8 a.m. and 3 p.m.

Winter Here Again

Duck hunting weather returns to Nebraska today after a one day respite with colder temperatures and continued windiness predicted. Today's high is expected to range in the 50's.

Delta, Quad Out: Faculty Group Rejects Skits

Kosmet Klub Fall Show scripts of Delta Tau Delta and Selleck House of the Selleck Quadrangle have been rejected by a committee of faculty members from consideration for finalist scripts.

Announcement of the decision came Tuesday evening as judges began the first half of judging. Final selection is to be announced following tonight's judging.

Bill Bedwell, president of Kosmet Klub, was informed of the action by J. P. Colbert, Dean of Student Affairs, in a letter which stated that a committee of five faculty members chosen by Colbert had examined all the skits and had found the two scripts to be unacceptable.

H. P. Davis, chairman of the sub-committee on student organizations, stated that the scripts were submitted to the five faculty members and each was to be classified, "acceptable," and "objectionable." Three "objectionable" votes disqualified a house, Davis said.

"Acceptable" scripts had a few questionable parts but could be amended to be suitable for presentation, Davis said. He also stated that one of the skits received five "objectionable" ratings and the other received three.

Glen Sperry, chairman of the Quad KK skit, said that he could possibly understand the objections and that his organization was working on another script which he would submit today. The first skit, based on The Odyssey, was entitled "Ulysses." Sperry said that his group was now working on a script with the theme of "War and Peace".

The synopsis of the Delt skit was taken from the Broadway hit "Damn Yankees" and was followed closely in context. The skit, entitled "Damn Okies" portrayed a group of Nebraska football players willing to give up most anything to beat Oklahoma.

Bedwell stated that the scripts were submitted to Colbert's office more than a week ago.

Colbert's letter included mention of the agreement which Kosmet Klub had made with the committee on student affairs in regard to submission of all scripts to the student affairs office.

The annual Kosmet Klub show was reinstated this year after being suspended last year.

Editors Convene In Ohio

The annual Collegiate press convention was held in Cleveland Ohio from Nov. 8 through 10, according to Sam Jensen, Nebraska editor.

University delegates included Linda Butnman, editor of the Cornhusker, Janet Kuska, managing editor and Gene Spence, business manager of the Cornhusker, Jensen and George Madsen, business manager of the Nebraska.

About 800 students attended the thirty-second annual convention, representing forty-one states, Hawaii and Canada.

The purpose of the convention, according to Jensen, was to give the delegates a chance to increase their knowledge of college yearbook and newspaper procedures. They were also able to discuss various technical problems through panel discussions and question groups. "Short courses" were offered in photography, display and other subjects.

The judges of American Student Publications were present and gave their views on how yearbooks and newspapers can be improved. The five University representatives to the convention stated that it was quite helpful to them in their press work. Miss Butnman remarked, "I feel that the convention more clearly defined the duties of the yearbook and the methods by which one can be improved."

Commandant: Nine Finalists Vie For Title

Nine finalists have been selected by a joint group of Army, Navy and Air Force ROTC representatives for the Honorary Commandant title to be bestowed at the Military Ball, Nov. 30.

Three girls will compete for the title of Miss Army. Carol Link was Homecoming Queen this year, and has been a beauty queen finalist.
