ROTC Elects Candidates

Voting for the Miss Army, Miss Navy and Miss Air Force took place in Wednesday, Thursday and Friday ROTC classes. Men voted for one candidate out of the three finalists for their ROTC branch. The girls chosen for these titles will be announced in the Nebraskan Tuesday. One of these three girls will be chosen for Honorary Commandant by an all-University election, November 28. The Honorary Commandant will be presented at the Military Ball, Nov. 30. The nine finalists are Miss Army, Carol Link, Courtney Campbell, Coco Ahlund, Miss Navy, Arlene Hrbek, Diane Knotek, Diane Pederson; Miss Air Force, Linda Buthman, Barbara Sharpe, Pat Stolder.

'Pledge Sneak' Dance

The "Pledge Sneak" dance, sponsored by the Junior IFC in cooperation with the Junior Panhellenic Council, will be held Nov. 16 between 9 and 12 p.m. and will feature the orchestra of Johnny Cox.

Question: What's funny, honey? Answer:

Sticklers!

IF YOU'RE A SMOKER who's never tried a smoke ring, get in there and start puffing. While you're at it, remember: Lucky smoke rings come from fine tobacco. This makes no difference to the smoke ring, but it does to you. You see, fine tobacco means good taste, and Luckies' fine, naturally good-tasting tobacco is TOASTED to taste even better. So make your next cigarette a Lucky, and call your first smoke ring a Proud Cloud.

STUCK FOR DOUGH?
 START STICKLING!
 MAKE $25

We'll pay $25 for every Stickler we print—and for hundreds more that never get used! So start Stickling—they're so easy you can think of dozens in seconds! Sticklers are simple riddles with two-word rhyming answers. Both words must have the same number of syllables. (Don't do drawings.) Send 'em all with your name, address, college and class to Happy-Joe-Lucky, Box 67A, Mount Vernon, N. Y.

What young people are doing at General Electric

Young engineer sells million-dollar
 equipment to utilities

Selling electric equipment for a utility substation—a complex unit used in power transmission and distribution—requires extensive technical knowledge of the products involved. Men who sell such complex equipment must also know a customer's requirements, what will best fill his needs, and how to sell the merits of their products to the executives who buy such apparatus.

One such man at General Electric is 31-year-old Allen J. Clay, an apparatus sales engineer serving the electrical utility companies in the Philadelphia-Allentown area.

Clay's Work Is Important, Diversified

For Clay, technical selling is not a door-to-door job. As a representative of General Electric, he must be ready to discuss customer needs with vice presidents or help solve intricate problems with skilled engineers. His recommendations are based on his own engineering background, and are backed up by the know-how of the Company's best application engineers. His interest in working with people carries over into his community life, where he takes a part in many local activities—Rotary, Community Chest, Boy Scouts, and his University Engineering Alumni Association.

27,000 College Graduates at General Electric

Allen Clay is a well-rounded individual who has come to be a spokesman for General Electric wherever he goes. Like each of our 27,000 college-graduate employees, he is being given the chance to grow and realize his full potential. For General Electric has long believed this: Whenever fresh young minds are given freedom to make progress, everybody benefits—the individual, the Company, and the country.

Educational Relations, General Electric Company, Schenectady 5, New York

ALLEN J. CLAY joined General Electric in 1946 after receiving a B. E. E. from the University of Virginia in 1945. A naval officer during World War II, Clay managed the Charlottesville, Virginia, office from 1950 to 1955.
