

Huskers Entertain Twice:

Kramer-less Michigan And Wisconsin To Meet Improving Husker Cagers

By BOB MARTEL
Staff Writer

"Be it ever so humble, there's no place like home." So read the wire received by Cornhusker coach Jerry Bush from Coach Bob Ferri of Santa Clara, and after last Monday evening's performance all Nebraska fans agree.

The Cornhuskers will entertain the University of Michigan Wolverines on the friendly Coliseum basketball court tomorrow evening.

The Michigan quintet will be without the services of their captain and last year's most valuable player, Ron Kramer, All America end in football for the past two seasons, will be in New York on a personal appearance tour with the 1956 All America football squad.

Pete Tillotson, 6'6" veteran guard, will replace Kramer at the pivot post.

The remainder of the starting lineup will include George Lee, 6'3" sophomore, and Randy Terrier, 6'5" letterman, at the forwards and M. C. Burton, 6'5" of the freshman squad last season and were instrumental in helping the frosh beat the Michigan varsity a year ago.

The Wolverine club has considerable strength off the boards and plenty of speed with which to operate its quick break. The defense usually employed is a switching man to man defense.

Coach Bill Perigo has high hopes for a first division berth in the Big Ten Conference after finishing ninth last season.

Coach Bush will undoubtedly go with the same starting five that played the big part in the victory over Iowa last Monday.

Captain Rex Ekwall, who is pacing the Husker scorers with 40 points in the first three games, will team with Don Smidt at the forwards, Big Ron Parsons, who did an outstanding job against the Hawkeyes, will again get the nod at center, while Gary Reimers and Jim Kubacki will quarterback the club from their guard positions.

The University of Wisconsin basketball squad will invade the Coliseum Monday evening for their game with the Cornhuskers.

The Badgers, who finished eighth in the Big Ten Conference last season, are not expected to do much better this year. They were beaten in their season opener last weekend by South Dakota in an overtime contest.

Coach Bud Foster, who is in his 23rd season at the helm of Wisconsin's basketball team, has only two lettermen returning. They are forwards Bob Litzow 6'2½" and Glenn Borland 6'1".

Litzow, was ranked as the third top scorer a season ago with 259 points, 191 of them in Big Ten play, where he ranked 21st in scoring as the third highest scoring sophomore in the conference. Litzow tallied 119 field goals last season to set a new mark in that category by a Wisconsin sophomore player.

Borland, a nifty left-handed shooting forward, hails from Oelwein, Iowa, and saw limited action as a spot player last season. He was most impressive against Nebraska, tallying 14 points after entering the game late in the first half.

Ray Gross, 6'7", 230 pound junior, will start at center while Dave Leichtfuss, 6'1½" junior varsity letter-winner, and Brian Kulas, 6'3" sophomore, will be at the guards.

The Big Dipper:

Wilt Chamberlain Listed As 'Phenom' By-Veteran Basketball Observers

"He's for real." That's what Darrell Hall, Assistant Managing Editor of the Daily Kansan had to say of Wilt "The Stilt" Chamberlain.

In a telephone conversation with this writer, Hall said, however, that there was much room for improvement in the play of the giant Kansas center.

He however, declined to mention where the flaws were in Chamberlain's play.

The Kansas writer said that although "The Dipper", as he prefers to be called, was great in his debut, the other four members of the starting five were way below par.

"Spotlight jitters", is what Hall blames for this poor showing. He claims that once the boys get used to working with Chamberlain that there will be no stopping the Kansas quintet.

According to Hall, the Kansas club could win the Big Seven crown even without the big Philadelphia pivot man. The Jayhawkers lost only two men by graduation and they were only reserves. Lettermen Maurice King and Gene Elstun were both All Big Seven choices last season so Chamberlain isn't exactly playing in slow company.

In closing, Hall reverted to his opening statement. "He's for real and if you don't believe me wait until February 9 and then you will see for yourself."

That's what we're afraid of Darrell, That's what we're afraid of.

Husker Swimmers Prepare For Initial Meet

By BOB MARTEL

The athletic spotlight will shine on Hollie Lepley's mermen tomorrow afternoon when the annual Freshman-Varsity Meet gets under way at the Coliseum pool.

This is the meet that tells all. Fans will get a preview of what they can expect this year from the varsity and a look at next year through the frosh team.

Lepley lost some of his better swimmers when Dick Hill graduated, Wyman Kenagy joined the Marines and 1955-56 captain Tom Houchen dropped from school. Also lost to the squad is Steve Gaines, a promising diver who understudied Gene Cotter last season. Gaines decided not to return to the University this year.

Lettermen who will wear Nebraska colors this season include: Big-Seven Diving Champion Gene Cotter, Carl Bodensteiner, Lincoln junior who was outstanding last season, John Holeman, Omaha junior, Paul Schorr, Lincoln junior, Bill Tagney, Omaha senior who will probably dive behind Cotter this season and Doug Thorpe, Lincoln junior.

Four members of last season's freshman squad who are expected to be a big help this year are Bill Norik of Lincoln, Ron Renfer of Wyandotte, Michigan, Jerry Farrell of Hastings and Charlie Arizumi of Honolulu, Hawaii.

The freshmen squad will be composed of Frank Thompson of Lincoln, Gery Keller of Lincoln, Ron Buckland of Lincoln, John Griffith of Columbus, Ross McClas-son of Lincoln, Jim Pokorny of Schuyler and Ernie Hafke a transfer student from Iowa State who makes his home in Lincoln.
