30 Voice Choir: RAM Glee Club To Give Annual Winter Concert

The University's newest musical organization will present its annual winter concert Wednesday in the concert hall of Selleck Quadrangle.

The 30-voice glee club sponsored by the Residence Association for Men will sing traditional Christmas songs in its concert at 8 p.m. Organized last year, the club was designed as part of a program to set up special interest clubs for the 950 independent students living at the men's residence halls.

Dick Oehring, senior music major, is director of the club.

The volunteer group practices twice a week and is comprised of students representing most of the colleges on the NU campus.

Monday the club presented a concert at the Lincoln Air Force Base and Tuesday is scheduled for a concert at the Orthopedic Hospital.

The concerts include numbers by an all-quadrangle French horn quartet and music selections range from Robert Shaw to Stravinsky and Bartok.

Carol Haerer: University Grad Gives Paris Show

Carol Haerer who, graduated from the University two years ago, has just returned from a one-person art showing in Paris.

Miss Haerer, a native of North Platte, is 23 years old. When in school, she was rated an unusual student by her instructors for her rapid progress from the realistic stage of painting to the impressionist i.e., and then to abstract expressionism.

Her travels included seeing Morocco when French troops and Arabs were within eyesight, and spending her last half year in Europe living under the roof of an abandoned spaghetti mill in Genoa. Miss Haerer announced her immediate concern as getting adjusted to the Midwest and to begin painting.

Ag College: Christmas Music Set Wednesday

Traditional Christmas music will highlight the annual College of Agriculture Christmas program Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

The program, which is open to the public, will be held in the Activities building on the Ag campus. The event is jointly sponsored by the Ag Student Union and Executive board.

A piano prelude and the lighting of candles by Arley Waldo will set the Christmas atmosphere. Bill DeWulf will open the program.

This will be followed by the invocation given by the Rev. Ralph Lewis of St. Paul's Methodist Church. He also will give the benediction. The Rev. Rex Knowles, University Presbyterian and Congregational pastor will deliver a Christmas address.

The seventy-five voice College Choir, under the direction of Mrs. Altina Tullis, will be joined by the audience in singing traditional Christmas carols. The choir will sing other selections during the program.

In addition to the choir, two trios will offer vocal selections. One is composed of Mary Fritts, Janice Montgomery and Jacquelyn Shaffer. The other trio includes Lavae Anderson, Kay Blomquist and Norma Pugsley.

Accompanists are Rogene Lees and Grace Finch.

Carolyn Edwards and Willa Waldo are general chairmen for the event.

Tickets may be obtained in the Ag Union Activities office.

Suretyship: Law Essay Contest Announced

A competition for an outstanding suretyship essay written by a Nebraska lawyer or law student will be conducted by the University College of Law, Dean E. O. Belsheim announced today.

The author of the winning article will receive $500, contributed by the Universal Surety Company of Lincoln. C. E. Havekotte, president, said the company is supporting the competition "in an effort to promote the publication of scholarly works in the area of Nebraska suretyship law."

Dean Belsheim said the essays, postmarked no later than May 15, 1957, may be submitted by:

Any member of the Nebraska Bar, except members of the law faculties of the University of Nebraska and Creighton University; and any law student from Nebraska or person studying law in Nebraska.

Manuscripts should be sent to Dean Belsheim and they will be judged by a committee from the College of Law, including Scott Van Alstyne, Jr., assistant professor of law, and Bill Lorenson, editor-in-chief of the Nebraska Law Review.

The winning essay is expected to be published in the Nebraska Law Review, Mr. Van Alstyne said.

A frank message to graduating electronic and mechanical ENGINEERS

You know it... we know it... so let's be frank about it.

The demand for engineers—experienced or graduate—far exceeds the supply. And, from now on in, you are going to be sought after more than a triple threat halfback for next year's varsity.

You will be promised many things (including the moon with a fence around it), and for a young man just getting started these things are pretty hard to resist.

So, again, let's be frank. We at Farnsworth won't promise you the moon. (Although we are working on some ideas that may eventually get you there and back.) We are an old, young organization. Old, in the sense of being pioneers in the field of electronics. (Our technical director, Dr. Philo Farnsworth invented electronic television.) Young, by being the newest division of the world-wide International Telephone and Telegraph Corporation, devoting our efforts exclusively to research, development and production of military and industrial electronics, and atomic energy.

All of which makes Farnsworth big enough for stability and technical perspective, yet small enough for mobility, flexibility and recognition of the individual. Here you will be associated with and encouraged by a team of eminent scientists and engineers with many "firsts" to their credit in the field of electronics. Here you will be heard... not just one of the herd.

We earnestly invite you to hear the whole fascinating Farnsworth story. We're pretty certain it will make the decision for your future easier.
