

Recent FCA Conference Proves Successful

Sports enthusiasts got a real shot in the arm Sunday when the Fellowship of Christian Athletes visited the Nebraska campus.

Among the big names visiting the University were Bob Feller, Carl Erskine, George Kell, Clendon Thomas, Billy Krisher and Jimmy Joe Robinson.

These gentlemen toured the religious houses on campus last night and also appeared before the "N" club, where they spoke to the Cornhusker athletes.

They talked of the association between athletics and christianity and how they are making use of these aims to combat juvenile delinquency.

Don McClenon, former Eastern Oklahoma Aggie basketball coach and founder of the group, told a gathering at the Lutheran Student House that J. Edgar Hoover, FBI chief, stridently backs the bulk of juvenile delinquency to the lack of spiritual training in the home and that 60 of the nations youth had never been in a church.

McClenon stated that industry had been using athletes very successfully as endorsers of various items such as razor blades and group hoped to reveal, primarily cigarettes and that by making use of this hero worship theory and linking it with religion, the to the youth of America, the importance of spiritual happiness in live.

It was not all religious talk, however, as the athletes told of various experiences during their careers.

Kell, comparing Ted Williams, Stan Musial and Joe DiMaggio, rated Williams as the best hitter. He called Musial a better fielder and base runner but claimed that the Splendid Splinter held the edge at the plate. DiMaggio was termed the better of the three and one of the all time greats.

The Baltimore Oriole third baseman who holds a lifetime batting average of .312 told the gathering that he did not intend to remain in baseball after his playing days were over.

Feller, who recently retired from the game after pitching for Cleveland for 20 1/2 years, called the left field fence in Boston's Fenway Park "The green monster." The Van Meter, Iowa fireballer claimed that every time a right handed pitcher threw sidearm at the Red Sox ball park, his hand would scrape the wall. He called the no hit, no run ball game he pitched in 1946 against the New York Yankees, his greatest thrill.

Erskine, who pitched a no hitter against the New York Giants this past season, picked the Dodgers to repeat in the National League this season. The veteran right hander called both Milwaukee and Cincinnati definite threats and installed the St. Louis Cardinals as a possible dark horse club.

Robinson, former halfback at Pittsburgh and the first draft choice of the Cleveland Browns in 1949, could not understand why the Bobby Layne-Ed Meadows incident received so much publicity. He called this rough type of play an everyday occurrence in the National Football League.

Oil wells and yachts were the topics of conversation for Thomas and Krisher. These All Big-Seven Sooners claimed that all the oil in the world could not lure Bud Wilkinson from Norman.

The fellowship was hosted in Lincoln by Dr. Rex Knowles of the Student Presbyterian House.

Back Coach On Inside: Will Bill Jennings Be Next Football Coach?

By WALT BLORE Sports Editor

It appears more certain than ever that Bill Jennings will be appointed to fill the head coaching vacancy.

The 39-year-old former Oklahoma

Elliott . . . undecided

great who was called out of retirement by Pete Elliott seems to have the inside track on the job vacated by his boss in favor of summer clinics.

Athletic director Bill Orwig said Monday afternoon, that "We will probably choose one of the members of the present staff." That means that Jennings is the man.

Orwig had previously stated that if a member of the staff were to be selected, the backfield coach would be the most logical choice. Jennings has most likely turned down the offer made by a Southwest conference school, rumored to be Texas, for Nebraska. If Elliott should suddenly change his mind, then the graying former aid to Bud Wilkinson might still leave. But with the announcement that Elliott will leave about to break it appears doubtful that Jennings will go.

Orwig . . . in the middle

Jennings played with the 1939-1941 Oklahoma teams as an end.

He still holds the pass-catching record for the University of Oklahoma.

The problem of selecting a staff will confront university officials immediately after Elliott's replacement.

Jennings . . . waiting

When queried about the present staff, Orwig said, "Of course we expect he (Elliott) will want to take some or all of the present staff with him, but we will do everything possible to get them to stay."

The announcement that Elliott is the head coach at California is expected tonight.

By GARY PETERSON Intramural Editor

Sigma Chi fraternity and Canfield House of Selleck Quadrangle won the fraternity and independent titles of the intramural track meet held Thursday.

Sigma Chi piled up 90 and a fourth points in running away from the other fraternity teams. Phi Delta Theta took second place with 66 and a half points. Other in the top nine were: Delta Upsilon, Alpha Tau Omega, Farm House, Theta Xi, Phi Kappa Psi and Sigma Nu.

The race for the team title in the independent action was a little closer. Canfield scored 62 points to Manatt's 44. Hitchcock was fourth with 14 points; Gus I and MacLean tied for fifth place with nine points each. Avery finished seventh and Benton, Gus II, and Seaton II were eighth.

Individual honors for the meet went to Ken Pollard of Delta Upsilon who scored 36 points. Pollard won first place in both hurdle races; his time 7.3 in the lows tied the existing All University record. His 13 foot Pole Vault was also a record. In addition Pollard took first place in the high hurdles, third in the high jump, fourth in the broad jump, and second in the 60 yard dash. Behind Pollard were: Bob Lammel of Canfield with 25 and a half points, Don Phillips of Manatt with 23, and Frank Morrison of Sigma Chi with 20 and a half points.

Numerous other records went by the boards besides Pollard's. Independent records that fell were: One Lap Run, 28.3 by Don House of Manatt; 440 yard Run, 50.8 by Joe Mullens of Seaton II; 880 Yard Run, 1:58.8 by Knolly Barnes of Bessey; Mile Run, 44.3 by Bill Melody of Hitchcock and Shot Put, 55' by 2 1/2" by Dave Williams of Gus II.

Tankmen Drown Wildcats, Set Sights On Cyclones

The Cornhusker Swim Squad won its second straight swim meet at the expense of Kansas State, 56-25, in the Coliseum pool. In amassing their 56 points total, the Nebraska tankmen took first place in all but two events.

Ron Renfer was the big gun for the Huskers as he swam to two first places, one in the 50 yard free style and the other in the 100 yard free style.

Fritz Helmdoerfer also had a part in two of the Husker firsts as he won the 200 yard butterfly and was on the first place 400 yard free style relay team. A pleasant surprise for the Huskers has been the diving of Bill Tagney. He has beaten Big Seven diving champion Gene Cotter two straight times and will probably be giving Cotter a run for his money in every match. It's quite possible that these men are the two best divers in the Big Seven.

Other Nebraska firsts include: Bill North in the 220 yard free style, Carl Bodensteiner in the 440 yard free style, and the 400 yard medley relay and 400 yard free style relay teams.

The only K-State firsts were in the 200-yard breast stroke and 200 yard backstroke, won by Buzz Newman and Tom Coblenz respectively.

This Saturday, the Cornhuskers take on the Iowa State Cyclones at 2 p.m. in the Coliseum pool.

The Nebraskans "will be trying to extend their unbeaten season against the team which finished second in the Big Seven tournament last March. Coach Holly Lepley has expressed some optimism of the team's chances against the Staters basing them on the fact that Iowa State lost eight of their ten best swimmers through graduation.

A terrific diving battle should take place as the Cyclones have two outstanding divers to match Cotter and Tagney. Outstanding for the Cyclones should be Miamik in the 200 yard breast stroke.

Summaries: 400 yard medley relay—1. Nebraska (Arisum, Holeman, Farrell, Thorpe), 4:37.5. 400 yard free style relay—1. Nebraska (Helmdoerfer, Thorpe, Farrell, Arisum), 4:15.2. 50 yard free style—1. Renfer (N); 2. Tagney (N); 3. Arisum (KS), 25.1. 100-yard free style—1. Renfer (N); 2. Arisum (KS), 37.3. 220 yard free style—1. North (N); 2. Bodensteiner (N); 3. Coblenz (KS), 2:28.4.

A Campus-to-Career Case History

What's a civil engineer's job in the telephone company?

Claire Hruska graduated in 1953 from the University of Washington with a B.S. in Civil Engineering. Today he's with The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company. "I supervise construction at every stage," Claire says. "Every telephone building is designed around the equipment that will be in it. When a building is needed, I work closely with the architect to make sure his plans fit the needs. Then I check the contractors' bids. When the contract is let, it's my responsibility to see that the builder sticks to the plans in detail. "Right now I'm handling the construction of several telephone exchanges, a large office building in downtown Seattle, and additions to other buildings. It's satisfying work, because I'm on my own a lot, and getting the jobs done is up to me. "I've got a career that offers big assignments and responsibilities, and real opportunities to get ahead in a business that's growing rapidly. That's what I was looking for."

Claire Hruska is typical of the many young men who are finding rewarding careers in the Bell Telephone System. For more information on career opportunities in the Bell Telephone Companies, Bell Telephone Laboratories, Western Electric and Sandia Corporation, see your placement officer.
