German Universities To Offer Fellowships

Competition is open for over 65 awards for study in Germany during 1957-58, it was announced today by Ken Holland, President of the Institute of International Education. Competition closes March 1.

Fifty awards are offered by the Federal Republic of Germany. These fellowships provide 200 Deutsch Marks monthly for nine months beginning November 1, and round-trip travel from New York to Germany. They are available for study in any field at a West German institution of higher learning.

Ten fellowships for study at the universities and other institutions of higher learning are offered by the Deutscher Akademischer Austauschdienst. Each fellowship provides 3,150 Deutsch Marks for the academic year. Candidates must be unmarried.

Two awards which include tuition and a modest stipend for maintenance are offered by the Free University of Berlin.

Two $1500 awards for prospective teachers of German are offered by the Germanistic Society of America. They are for one year of study in the field of German language and literature at a West German institution of higher learning. Candidates must be under 30 years of age and preferably unmarried. A master's degree is desirable.

Other awards available to American students for study in Germany include a tuition and maintenance award at the University of Cologne. This is open for all fields of study except of civil, mechanical or electrical engineering; architecture; mining and metallurgy; electron optics; chemistry; physics; or mathematics for engineers. These are offered by the Aachen Technische Hochschule.

The Bavarian Ministry of Education and Culture is offering two tuition and maintenance awards, available at the Universities of Munich, Erlangen or Würzburg, or at one of the four philosophical institutes in Bavaria. Candidates under 30 years of age are preferred.

Loads Of Help

University student James Garth catches up on his dentistry studies with the help of his wife Norman and their seven children. With their parents are Brent (background), and from left David, 8, Sidney, 20 mos. Richard 3, Whitney, 4 weeks, Kristine, 6 and Fred, 4.

Thirty-Year-Old Freshman Working For Two Degrees

A freshman with seven children? It sounds impossible but that's the case with Garh James, 30-year-old freshman in Dental School.

James, who hails from Utah where he was an assistant professor of bacteriology at Utah Sae College, already possess two degrees which he earned at Utah State in 1947 and 1951. He is now shooting for more; Dr. of Dentistry and specialist in orthodontia.

The two degrees will take a total of five years to earn but Garth says he is no sorry he left his position a Ua. The change meant sacrificing two-thirds of his former income, giving up a four-bedroom house and moving his entire family to a strange new locality.

"But we're no complaining," Garth said, "I'm more enthusiastic now than when my wife, Norma, the kids, and I had a family conference last year and decided to give up teaching and turn a dentistry."

Garh chose the University for his new school because of his experiences during the war years at Pery State Teachers College and because of the good reputation of the Nebraska Dental College.

"Nebraskans are the most friendly people I have ever known and with the challenge that faces me I wanted to be among friendly people," Garh added.

Garh works during his spare time — about 18 hours a week — in the University's department of bacteriology as a research assistant to support the family.

He has rented his house at Logan, Utah, but he money he said, makes care of the mortgage and x payments. The only entertainment, besides running after the children, is connected with their family belongs to the Lincoln branch of the Later Day Saints. Las summer he worked as a consultant at S. Elizabeth hospital where he earned some of his tuition and book money.

Garth plans to stay in Nebraska, "if out enthusiasm stays as high as it is now and I make the grade in Dental School."

"I have one other advantage," Garth said, "I have a remarkable wife."

Chancellor Commends Ak-Sar-Ben

Chancellor Clifford Hardin has commended Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben for its recent grant of 20 additional scholarships of $150 each for use at the College of Agriculture next school year.

The scholarships will be used "for assistance of young people coming from drought-affected counties."

At the recent Board of Regents meeting, Dr. Hardin said, "The University wishes to thank Ak-Sar-Ben for the help it has given to our students in the past and for the timeliness of these particular grants, given at a time that the drought has dealt severely with certain parts of the state."

Foreign Film Ticket Sales Near Finish

The Union Film Committee announced that 700 of the available 750 tickets to the 1957 Film Society have been sold. Last year over 50 people were turned away from the Capitol Theatre opening night.

Tickets are still available at the Union for $2, but the supply is limited. The first film in the series, Genevieve, stars Dinah Sheridan and John Gregson and was chosen "Best Picture of the Year" by the British Film Academy. The film will be presented at the Capitol theatre at 8:00 p.m. this coming Wednesday.

New Requirements: NU Journalists To Serve Internships

Journalists, as well as doctors, at the University soon will be serving internships.

One of the new requirements for a professional certificate in journalism is that students serve 12-week internships.

The other requirements under the new program to go into effect starting with the 1957-58 school year are: completion of 26 hours of journalism courses with a grade average of 83, a grade average of 77 in all other courses, and completion of a two-hour senior research project in the major interest field.

"Internship programs are becoming increasingly popular with schools of journalism around the country," Dr. William E. Hall, school director, said. "They are recognized as an important adjunct to professional training by other professions, such as medicine and engineering."

The Scottsbluff Star-Herald is the first Nebraska daily to make a summer internship available under the new program, Dr. Hall said. The position will pay $50 a week.

The school is recommending that internships be completed following the junior year and that they be served in the fields in which students are specializing. The school will help students obtain such positions but responsibility for fulfilling the internship requirement will rest with the students.

Work on University publications or at the University radio station will not be considered equivalent to an internship. However, Dr. Hall emphasized that such work is important in helping students gain experience.

Concert: Faculty Men Plan Recital This Week

Three University of Nebraska faculty members will present a recital Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the Union ballroom.

They are: John Blyth, associate professor of piano; Dale B. Ganz, assistant professor of voice, baritone; Jack Snider, assistant professor of brass instruments, French Horn.

The public is invited to attend and there is no admission charge. Mr. Blyth and Mr. Snider have presented concerts together in more than 60 Nebraska communities in the past two years.

Mr. Blyth has studied piano with Rosina Lhevinne and James Friskin at the Juilliard School of Music at New York City. He also has studied with Dr. Robert Pace at Columbia University.

Mr. Snider, plays French Horn with the Lincoln and Omaha Symphonies Orchestras. He has conducted numerous clinics in the state and has appeared as French Horn Soloist with many Nebraska High school bands and orchestras.

A native of Nebraska, Mr. Ganz studied with John Charles Thomas in Los Angeles. He is director of the University Men's Glee Club and of the St. Paul Methodist Church choir, one of Lincoln's foremost church musical organizations.

Harvey Hinshaw, assistant professor of music, will accompany Mr. Ganz.

The program includes: Mr. Blyth—La Terrasse des Audiences du clair de lune, by Debussy; Saudades do Brazil, by Milhaud; and Toccata by Ravel.

Mr. Ganz — Star Vicino, bu Rosa; Der Tod, das ist die kühle Nacht und Standchen, die by Brahms; Lord Randall, by Scott; and an Irish ballad, by Lehrer. Mr. Snider and Mrs. Blyth—Concerto, by Gliere.

Four Schools Give Training Fellowships

The Universities of Alabama, Kentucky, and Tennessee announce the Fourteenth Annual Southern Regional Training Program Fellowships for students interested in public affairs and public careers and who will receive their bachelors' degrees in June.

The fellowships offer talented students opportunities to serve an internship in a public agency such as TVA or a state or local government department. In the 1957-58 academic session students will be enrolled in graduate courses at Alabama, Tennessee, and Kentucky.

On completion of the twelve months training period, each fellow receives a certificate in public administration. Each may be awarded a masters degree by any one of the three universities upon completing a thesis and passing examinations.

Full information on eligibility requirements and other information may be obtained from the Educational Director, Southern Regional Training Program in Public Administration, Drawer 1, University of Alabama.

Each fellowship grant has a value of 1,950 and the applications must be submitted by March 9, 1957.

Ag Scholarship Winners

Miss Alyce Ann Sides and Paul Rodney Johnston, seniors in Agriculture at the University, were among 20 seniors in agricultural colleges throughout the U.S. who recently were awarded scholarships by an antibiotics production company. The company hopes to encourage more promising young people to make extension work a career, particularly in the field of animal health.

A Campus-to-Career Case History

Manager Joseph S. Manning discusses a customer service request with Office Supervisor Catherine Hazleton.

"Like having your own $3,000,000 business"

Joseph S. Manning graduated in 1950 from Wesleyan University with a B.A. degree and a major in Bio-Chemistry. But chemistry, he decided, was not to be his career. He became intrigued, instead, by the opportunities in the telephone business, and joined New York Telephone Company in 1951.

Today Joe Manning is Business Office Manager in Parkchester, Bronx, New York. In this position he is responsible for about 27,000 telephone accounts which bill some $250,000 a month. 35 people work under him.

"It's like having your own $3,000,000 business," Joe says. "And it's pretty much an independent operation, which I enjoy. I'm in charge of all business office functions, and of personnel training and development. I also spend a lot of time out with my customers, making sure that they have the telephone service they want and need. It's an absorbing job.

"The phenomenal growth of the business is one of the reasons why advancement opportunities are so good in the telephone company. Since 1943, for example, the number of telephones in our area has almost tripled. Growth such as this, going on all over the country, makes the telephone business especially attractive to anyone seeking a career with a future."

Bell Telephone Companies offer many interesting career opportunities, as do Bell Telephone Laboratories, Western Electric and Sandia Corporation. Your placement officer has more information about all Bell System Companies.
