

Tournament March 5: Ag Vets, Chemists, MacLean, Beta's, Newmanites Lead Respective Leagues In Intramural Play

Another week has passed in inter-mural competition with nine teams still remaining undefeated. MacLean is still on top of the A Selleck league with a 9-0 mark, picking up two victories this past week. Beta Sigma Psi continues to lead the 5-A fraternity league with a 7-0 record, winning another game last week. Beta Theta Pi still holds the ticket in the 8B fraternity league sporting an 8-0 record.

Other teams still undefeated include: Delta Tau Delta, 10-0, in the 9-B Fraternity league, Delta Upsilon, 8-0, in the 10C Freshmen league, Ag Vets, 12-0, in the Ag College league, Newman Club, 9-0, in the Independents league 12, the

A-Chemists, last years all college champion 10-0 in the Independents league 14 and Park Avenue, 10-0, in the Independents league 15.

A new leader has taken over the 4 A Fraternity league. Delta Upsilon, 8-2, by virtue of two wins last week has gone 1/2 game ahead of Delta Tau Delta, 7-2. In the 7-B Selleck League, Bessey Hall capitalized on a Hitchcock loss to move into a tie for first place, each team having a 6-2 record. The Farm House Scrubs nudged the AGR Scrubs out of fourth place in the Ag College League 11.

The rest of the leagues remained pretty much the same with Canfield and Hitchcock still fighting it out for first place in the 2-A Selleck league. Each team has an 8-1 record and might carry their tie all the way to the end.

Another tight battle is taking place in the 6-A Fraternity league. Acacia is just 1/2 game ahead of Pi Kappa Phi, Acacia with an 8-1 and Pi Kappa Phi with a 7-1 mark.

The best four teams in each league will be entered in the All University Tournament beginning March 5th.

Managers of the teams that will qualify for the Tournament are urged to check their House and team rosters before the tournament begins.

Deadline February 27: Rag To Pick All Star Team, Announce Rules For Voting

The Daily Nebraskan Sports Staff will attempt to choose an All-Intramural Basketball team again this year, but will go about it in a different manner.

Letters will be mailed out today and tomorrow to the managers of

THE DAILY NEBRASKAN STUDENT UNION
30 February 1957

To the Intramural team manager:
The Daily Nebraskan Sports Staff will endeavor to pick another all intramural team for the basketball season.

If you desire recognition, the following rules must be complied with:

1. You must choose an All-Opponent team and fill in the form at the bottom of this letter.
 2. The ballot must be turned in to the Nebraskan office not later than noon on the 27th of February. Any ballots submitted later than the above time and date will not be considered.
 3. You must submit a ballot if you wish a member of your team recognized. If you do not submit a ballot, you will not be represented on any of the All Star teams regardless of the number of votes one of your players receives on other ballots.
- Please conform to the above rules and turn your ballot in as soon as possible.

Thank You

KU-K State Battle Set For March 6

March 6 is the date when Kansas and Kansas State will meet to decide the Big Seven championship.

The Kansas State team trails the Jayhawks by one game and need to win the rest of their games including the big one with their intrastate rival to at least gain a Big Seven Tie in the loop.

Husker Springs Into Spotlight: Gymnast Ervine Krist Star Of The Week Pick

By STAN WIDMAN
Staff Sports Writer

Ervine Krist, a junior in Engineering College from Omaha has been chosen as sports star of the week for his outstanding performance in the Gymnastic meet against Kansas State, Saturday.

The contest, which the Cornhuskers won 68-39 saw Erv take three firsts and two second places out of seven events, a feat which really earned him his award. His first places were in the Trampoline, his specialty, the horizontal bars and tumbling. His two second places came in the flying rings and the Free Exercise events.

Krist started his road to gymnastics fame in high school while a senior at Benson High in Omaha. He won the state high school trampoline in 1953 and placed in three other events, the horizontal bars, tumbling and flying rings. He was chosen as third all-around gymnast in the state because of his excellent showing in the tournament.

Another top Cornhusker gymnast, Ed Strictler, was chosen as the all-around gymnast that year.

One of Erv's top thrills and biggest honors also came as a result of his showing in the tournament. He was named Omaha's best Gymnast Athlete by the Y.M.C.A. at their annual athlete's awards dinner.

Last year, which was his first as a varsity letterman, he won the trampoline in six out of seven meets. He also scored heavily in the other events winning several places in the horizontal bars and flying rings.

Oddly enough, his top thrill came in his only losing effort in the trampoline. He finished second to the fourth top trampoline artist in the country at the all college meet held at Colorado last year. Thirteen colleges entered this meet with over 25 men entered in the "Tramp" event. Besides his scoring in the trampoline, he also took fourth in the parallel bars and third in tumbling at the meet.

Erv modestly explained that tumbling is one of his weaker events but because he noticed a couple of girls watching him at Boulder, he didn't realize what he was doing and consequently came up with a third against some of the best tumblers in the country.

This year, he has won the trampoline in every meet but the dual against Iowa at Chicago. He won tumbling twice against Kansas State and against Chicago University. Erv has scored high in every meet this year and is second in total points to Ed Strictler on the Husker team. He set a personal scoring record Saturday with 26 points for one afternoon.

Erv has another year of competition ahead of him. Right now he ranks as one of the top trampoline men in the country as well as one of the top all around gymnasts.

With continued experience, he should rank with the all time Nebraska greats such as Bruce Riley, Tom Kidd, Danny Foge' and his present teammate Ed Strictler.

The Nebraskan Sports Staff join with the rest of the university in wishing him luck in the coming meets and congratulating him for being chosen Star of the Week.

Wilt 'Stilted,' Smith Scores 44

Although the Nebraska Cornhuskers suffered an embarrassing defeat at the hands of Kansas State Monday night the game provided definite proof that the Wildcats are the team to beat the Kansas Jayhawks if any of the Big Seven cage teams are to administer the dastardly deed. The impressive scoring machine of Tex Winter established the fact that it has the scoring punch, consisting of Bob Boozer and Jack Parr, to lead the Kansas team a merry chase when the two meet in Manhattan March 6. The Kansas State team trails the Jayhawks by one game and need to win the rest of their games including the big one with their intrastate rival to at least gain a Big Seven tie in the loop.

In another game played Monday night, the league leading Kansas team coasted to a 76-56 win but they played the last nine minutes without the talents of Wilt "Big Dipper" Chamberlain, who proved his fallibility when it comes to fouling out of a basketball game. This was the first time in Wilt's basketball career that he has fouled out of a game. He also set another individual record for himself when he tallied the lowest number of points in his college basketball lifetime.

The big man only pushed 11 points through the hoop and lowered himself from the first to the third rung on the national scoring ladder. Loneski paced the Kansas cagers to their win with 28 points but had to bow to Don Schwall of Oklahoma for individual scoring honors. The rangy sophomore poured 30 points through the hoop to lead the Sooners in tallies.

In a non-loop game played last Monday night, the Missouri Tigers walloped Marquette University by a score of 98-76. The unpredictable Tiger team was paced by veteran guard Lionel Smith who potted 17 buckets for a total of 44 points.

In doing this Smith set a new record of scoring more points than any other player in Tiger history. This was 8 points more than the last record held by Norman Stewart when he set the mark last season.

GARDNER FLYING HOME — shown racing to victory in the Nebraska's Keith Gardner is Oklahoma last Saturday. The pushed this weekend by Kansas State ace Dolan McDaniel.
