

Fraternity League C: Delta Upsilon Places Two On Frosh Club, But ATO Brings Home The Championship

By JIM COURTNEY

With the University intramural basketball competition now in completion, the only remaining thing to be done is shower the outstanding cagers of the various leagues with their deserving laurels.
Beginning with the Class C Fraternity league we find the All-Star team dominated with basketballers from the Delta Upsilon quintet. The DU's placed two men on the mythical five while the other first team positions went to men from Alpha Tau Omega, Phi Delta Theta, and Sigma Nu.

Winning berths on this fantasy five were Joe Walker of Sigma Nu, Chuck Dorsey of Phi Delta Theta, Hale Kreyjek of Alpha Tau Omega, and Joe Miller, coupled with Bob Krumwiede, for the Delta Upsilon squad.

Joe Walker, ace pace maker of the Sigma Nu five, has followed in his brother's footsteps of two years ago as he earns a berth on the All-Star team. His brother, Cecil, paced the Sigma Nu team to a league championship in 1954-55. Joe's timely jump shots kept his cage mates in contention for the league lead at all times during the season.

Chuck Dorsey of the Phi Delta team was equally impressive in his fore-court play. Chuck's nimble hand could always seem to lead the ball through the hoop. His ball handling and point scoring were the mark of any cage star.

Hale Kreyjek played the silent boonsman for the ATO quintet. The freshman footballer and high jump specialist for Valentine last year turned his talents to the sport of round ball for this winter and the smooth plying of the Tau bulwark earned him a berth on the NEBRASKAN All-Star team.

The problem of who was to get the most attention on the DU team was something of a difficult choice. The only thing possible was just what the opposing teammates did. They selected both Joe Miller and Bob Krumwiede to the mythical five. Both men deserved this honor as they combined to bring the Delta Upsilon to the second rung of the loop ladder in fraternity freshman competition.

The choices of the second team of the All-Star selections went to Gene Suponchick of Sigma Phi Epsilon, Jim Cripe of Beta Theta Pi, Jim Moore of Phi Delta Theta, Jim Cook of Alpha Tau Omega, and Lee Cochran of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

The final results of the Class C fraternity Freshman league ended in rather a close finale. The Sig Eps ended cage competition with a half game lead over the DU five. After the Delta Upsilon cagers had led the league for a major part of the season, the Eps rallied to snatch the crown from them in the final games of the season. In third place was the hard court team of Alpha Tau Omega. The Taus finished only one full game behind the league leading

Another Honor: Ekwall Named To Game; Joins Cyclone Thompson

Rex Ekwall, captain of the Cornhusker basketball team, has been chosen to play in the sixth annual Ararat Shrine East-West game to be held at a Kansas City next Monday night. The former three time Star-of-the-Week and scoring leader for the NU was chosen for this honor along with Gene Elstun of Kansas, Gary Thompson, Iowa State, Curt Jensen, Utah; Cal Grosscup, Tulane and Larry Friend of the University of California. Four members are yet to be named.

Ekwall scored 307 points for the season to raise his three year total to 854 and a new Husker record. He also led the team in rebounds with 214 to prove he could do more than score, and was the team floor leader in every game. Last Saturday during the finals of the state high school basketball tournament, Rex was awarded the Joe T. Brown memorial trophy for outstanding sportsmanship and general all-around team play.

The senior from Holmesville is now playing AAU ball for Kitlow, and played in his first game last night against the Peoria Caterpillars in the Pershing Auditorium. His being named to the West All-Star team capped his most successful season in a Husker uniform.

The East, to be coached by Frank McGuire of North Carolina thus far has named Lennie Rosenbluth of North Carolina, Jim Ashmore, Mississippi State, Gerry Calvert, Kentucky and Harv Schmidt, Illinois.

Once Was 97 Pounder: Foreign Student Champ Weightlifter

Through the ranks of body-building advertisements the one phrase, "I was a 97-pound weakling once" always stands foremost in the display. This bit of words always seems a falsehood to most readers but in one instance it is a truism. Four years ago, when he was 17, Vic Basha who is a student studying civil engineering at the University, weighed 95-pounds. Now at the healthy age of 21, Vic boasts 185 pounds on a 5-9 frame. Vic is at present reigning as Nebraska's Table Tennis Champion. In addition to this he placed fourth in the Mr. Universe contest last year. Last winter he won the Midwest Weightlifting championships at Omaha. The lad can proudly exhibit a figure of 46 inches in the chest while displaying only a 29 inch waist.

The lad from Syria has a busy schedule. He instructs weight lifting courses at the University, puts in nine hours a week with his body conditioning, practices table tennis 10 hours a week, and in conclusion studies for his civil engineering courses.

Score Worth Million Bucks?

Herb Score, 23 year old left hander for the Cleveland Indians is now the talk of the major league training camps. The young strike-out king with 306 of them in the past 476 innings, is being bargained for by the Boston Red Sox. This in itself is nothing unusual but the Red Sox are offering the total of $1,000,000 for the 20 game winner last season.

Many Boston fans see one million dollars is a little hard to believe as does Score himself but Joe Cronin, General Manager of the Red Sox stated, "I made a serious cash offer."

When Cronin offered the sum for a sure 20 game winner like Score the General Manager of Cleveland, Hank Greenberg promptly refused.

Air Force-Coaches Basketball Battle Nets $2,256.68

The cage tilt between the "Clumsy Colonels" and the "Corny Coaches" has netted the total of $2,256.68 for the dayroom fund sponsored by Lincoln civic clubs.

Twenty civic clubs are assisting in furnishing dormitory dayrooms for the airmen of the Lincoln Air Force Base and the proceeds of this game was added to the total all ready collected.

The coaches won the contest 38-34 but now the colonels of LAFB have challenged the victors to a Baseball contest scheduled for June. Also it has been reported by many Lincoln residents and LAFB personnel that the basketball affair become an annual contest.

'Upset' Spurs Panty Raid At Michigan

Basketball fever broke into a panty raid in East Lansing, Michigan Saturday night when word reached the Michigan State campus of the Spartan's 80-68 NCAA basketball tourney upset over Kentucky.

Campus police turned back students estimated at from 800 to 1,300 from 10 women's dormitories.

The police succeeded in foiling raids of two women's quarters at the eastern end of the campus and the students moved on to a pep rally at the Union building.

They went across the street to another set of women's dormitories. Police again turned them back.

But a co-ed threw a pair of white panties to the cheering crowd and as they fluttered down one policeman said it was like waving a red flag in front of a bull.

Campus police, reinforced by East Lansing police, held back the students but one broke through the cordon to retrieve the underwear.

Police scuffled with the crowd and took eight students into custody. They were released later but will have to face the dean of students.

Police also said the girl who threw the panties will be called before the dean.

Haney Optimistic: Braves Liked For Runnerups; Rookies Empress Skipper

By BOB WIRZ
Staff Sports Writer
Two losses to the St. Louis Cardinals in the final weekend of play last year kept the Milwaukee Braves from becoming National League champions. They finished one game behind the champion Brooklyn Dodgers.

Manager Fred Haney took the Braves to spring training this season with high intentions of improving their faults and winning the coveted title this year. Although the Grapefruit season is still young it looks like the skipper may have solved two of the biggest question marks.

Two second year men appear ready to move into the starting combination. Outfielder Wes Covington and second baseman Felix Mantilla are pleasant surprises. Covington has been clobbering the ball in early exhibitions and may start the regular campaign in left field ahead of Bobby Thompson and Andy Pafko. Last season, playing only in a utility role, Covington hit .283 in 75 games. Many of the appearances were as a pinch hitter. His only weakness seems to be defensively where he also is improving.

Mantilla might surprise at second base where Danny O'Connell and Jack Dittmer played last year. O'Connell is a weak hitter and Dittmer went to Detroit in a trade during the winter. Mantilla had never played a game at second until this winter. He had always been a shortstop but the management thought a change wouldn't hurt and the 22 year old lad responded quicker than expected. He can cover a lot of ground and he also hit .283 in utility work last year.

The remainder of the squad appears fairly well set. Joe Adcock, Johnny Logan, and Eddie Mathews round out the infield. Adcock pounded 38 home runs last season while driving in 103 runs. Logan will again be at short where he played in all but six games last season. Mathews also will supply power from third base. Although only 25, Ed has five years of experience in the majors. He hit one less homer than Adcock in 1956.

Frank Torre and either Mantilla or O'Connell will provide the bench strength needed.

With leftfield still somewhat in doubt the other two outfield posts are set. Young Hank Aaron, last year's batting champion, will be in right field. Aaron will be bidding for his second straight title. Billy Bruton again is set to start in center field. Bruton has been raising his batting average each year and may top .290 this season. The fleet footed star has been mentioned in frequent trade rumors lately but he undoubtedly will still be around when the season opens.

Chuck Tanner and Earl Herah, a rookie from Wichita, will help out in pinch-hitting.

Del Crandall will again be the Milwaukee catcher except when Bob Buhl is pitching. Buhl likes to call his own game and Crandall goes by the book. Del Rice will catch Buhl and relieve Crandall on other occasions. Rookies Bob Roselli and Sammy Taylor have shown promise in this department. Taylor played with Topeka in the Western League last season.

The pitching department is again strong. Buhl (18-8), Lew Burdette (19-10), Gene Conley (8-9), and Warren Spahn (20-11) will be the regular starters. Burdette and Buhl had their best years last season. Conley started slow when his arm was hurting and then warmed up after the All-Star game in July. Spahn raised his lifetime record to 203 wins. At 38 he may be slowed down some.

Ray Crone, Taylor Phillips and Bob Trowbridge also are around for spot starts and relief work. The latter two looked good the last two months of 1956. Ernie Johnson also will be on hand for relief work.

Two or three pitching berths are still open. Fighting for these jobs are: Joe Jay, Dave Jolly, Red Murff, Lou Sleater, and Juan Pizarro.

Pizarro is an outstanding prospect up from Jacksonville where he won 23 games and lost only 6. The 18-year-old struck out 318 batters and posted a 1.77 ERA. Although he may be a year away from stardom the Braves are taking a long look at Pizarro this spring.

The Braves could go all the way this year or they could fall to third or fourth place. Their success depends on how well the youngsters take over in left field and second base. Second place looks like the position that Milwaukee will continue to dominate in 1957.

Colorado Defeats IS Five Times Since '48 In Basketball Series

Colorado has scored its greatest basketball triumphs in its short Big Seven conference history by traveling to Iowa State. The Buffs have defeated the Cyclones five times since joining the circuit in 1948. Oklahoma is next with the Buffs showing four triumphs at Norman, the last three in succession. The Buffs have won three times at Nebraska and twice each at Kansas and Missouri. Kansas State has held the Buffs back every time except in 1955 when the Wildcats lost 60-63.
