"Good Boys"

Progress is being made on the Interfraternity Council Ball, missing from the campus for two years. A band has been contacted and fraternity presidents have signed a resolution supporting University rules pertaining to social functions.

institution they are attending as students. It is more than a house's president, however, who will be relied upon to keep order at the Interfraternity Ball—it will be the responsibility of every man there.

...Without Representation

The Nebraska Unicameral voted down an attempt to revive LB 27 which calls for a Constitutional amendment to allow 18-year-olds to vote. Twenty-two votes were needed to overrule committee action which killed the bill last week. The vote was 17-17.

for he will get his chance. But the possibility of getting that chance wasn't so great for those young men who went to war for Uncle Sam in 1950 and never got the chance.

Practical Plans

The Wall Street Journal reports that Dartmouth University, planning intelligently for the future, has come up with a faculty proposal to the board of trustees for some major changes. The college would be switched from a two-part academic year to a three-part year. Each semester, then, would be 11 weeks.

added. The theory is that students would be able to graduate in three years rather than four and full utilization would be made of the classroom facilities.

A word or two before you go...

FRED DALY Editor The Interfraternity Council —by an almost two-thirds majority—voted Wednesday to keep the 5.0 grade average for initiation. The vote was taken after a report from an IFC Alumni Advisor's Committee recommended a two-year trial period with a 4.5 grade average requirement.

nics, band concerts and egg rolling, comes graduation. Graduation, according to Older Folk, is one of the Great Moments in a young person's life. It means one can start treading the Great Highway of Life. It means one can start supporting oneself.

Wednesday I noted that Letterip has suddenly become pyrotechnic. Everyone has been getting nasty letters but me, a frustrating situation to one who desires notice above all things. But if Letterip has given me no reason to be ireful, I can vent my righteous wrath against the poetic endeavors which have made the Campus Green a parody of literature.

Doc's Diagnosis

If I can take a few minutes of your time today, I'd like to talk to you about the new Republican policy, commonly termed "Modern Republicanism." Until recently I had no idea what exactly was meant by this term. However, last Monday night I became rather well informed on this subject.

Party favors: Spring separates happily mated in sportswear at MAGEE'S. Carol McCoy, shining example of campus co-ordination in sportswear, chose Modern Jr.'s 2-pc. polished cotton plaid under Bernhard Altmann's new Lambswool Cardigan in white.
