

Filings For Student Council Open April 1

Filings for positions of college representatives on Student Council will open April 1, according to Harry Dingman, chairman of the general election.

Application blanks will be available in the office of Frank Hallgren, associate dean of student affairs on that date, he said. Filings will close at noon on April 6.

Eligible are freshmen and sophomores with a cumulative average of 5.0 and who are bona fide members of the college they propose to represent.

The colleges listed shall be entitled to the number of members as follows: Agriculture, two, (at least one woman); Arts and Sciences, three, (at least one woman); Business Administration, two; Engineering, two; Law, one; Pharmacy, one; Teachers, three, (at least one woman and one man); Dentistry, one.

The Council is composed of 15 college representatives and 13 representatives of campus organizations.

Candidates shall be listed on the ballot in the order of their filing. No student may withdraw his filing after it has been accepted by the Dean of Student Affairs, according to Bev Deepe, second vice president and chairman of the Elections Committee.

Each applicant must have his grade average, college, and class certified by the registrar and must have his application signed by 25 bona fide students within his college, according to Bev Deepe.

Filing also includes the photographing of each candidate, which will be done at the Council's expense. This process will take place during the week of April 8-12 from 12 to 3 p.m. on each of those days in Burnett Hall, B-7, Miss Deepe said. Candidates may sign up on a time schedule for the photographing when they return their applications to Hallgren's office, she said.

Each candidate will also be required to sign a pledge agreeing that if elected, he will serve the Council to the best of his ability and will arrange his schedule to permit attendance at the regular meetings of the Council. These meetings are held each week at 4 p.m. on Wednesdays.

Each applicant will also submit a statement of the principles he would uphold in serving the Council, Dingman said.

Rules for pre-election campaigning will be discussed in the Council meeting Wednesday and announcement of them will be made following that, Miss Deepe said.

The general election of the college representatives will be held on May 6 from 7:30 a.m. to 7 p.m. in the Student Unions on Ag and City Campuses and in Love Library, according to Bev Deepe.

Charlie Trumble has been appointed by President Bruce Bruggman to serve on the election committee in an advisory capacity for the remainder of the Council term. Trumble was a representative of the College of Agriculture on the Council last year and a member of the Elections Committee.

E-Week Dedicated To Dean Roy Green

By BOB JAMESON
Special Staff Writer

The E-Week Board has announced that this year's Engineer's Week, April 25 and 26, will be dedicated to Roy Green, retiring Dean of the College of Engineering and Architecture.

Dean Green graduated from the University in 1914 with a B.S. in Civil Engineering. He got his M.S. in C. E. at Columbia University and then taught at Texas A. & M. for four years, where he attained the rank of professor.

In 1920, Dean Green came back to Nebraska and founded Western Laboratories, a consulting engineering firm, of which he was president and manager until 1943.

During this time, his influence spread throughout the state. He had a part in the design and planning of most of the major highway and airport construction done in these years. During the war years, he worked closely with the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, Missouri River Division.

Mr. Green was a strong promoter of the State Licensing Law, which passed in 1937. This law provides for a State Board of Examiners for Engineers and Architects, whereby engineers obtain their professional license. Dean Green has served as secretary or chairman of the board ever since.

In 1943, Mr. Green became a teacher again. He taught civil engineering courses at the University until 1945. He then became Dean of the College of Engineering and Architecture.

Many things have changed since Dean Green took over as chief executive of the engineering school.

During W. W. II, enrollment was low, but in the postwar years, the returning veterans swelled the student body to an all time high. Many problems arose, but under the Dean's capable leadership, they were solved and a record number of engineers were graduated with no decline in the quality of their instruction.

Dean Green has always had a great personal interest in his students and has given much of his own time to counseling and helping young engineers. This was especially evident at the outbreak of the Korean conflict, when student attitude became very poor because of the knowledge that they might be called to fight at any time. Dean Green spent many evenings counseling and combatting this initiative-dulling attitude.

Physical additions to the college in the last few years include Ferguson Hall and the renovation of several other buildings.

The Dean's influence is felt during college life and also after graduation. He has served on the Engineering Council for Professional Development Accreditation Committee and the Committee on Student Selection. He is active in the American Society of Engineering Education.

All graduate engineers who work in Nebraska meet him again when they face the State Board of Examiners. Practicing engineers are also interested in the large number of professional papers which Mr. Green has written.

E-Week is the primary activity of the Engineering College during the year. It is designed to show the public the applications and influences of engineering in everyday life and to give students a chance to apply what they learn in the classroom. The main attraction is "Open House," featuring displays made by the students.

This year, the displays and celebrations have a new purpose. They will emphatically express the appreciation of the College of Engineering and Architecture students for the work, interest, and leadership so unselfishly given to them by their Dean — Roy Green.

Cooler Weather Forecast Monday

Diminishing blizzard conditions but colder weather were forecast for Monday by the U.S. weather bureau.

Sunday, over four and one-half inches of wet, slushy snow made driving conditions hazardous in and around Lincoln. The snow continued into early morning Monday.

East-West roads into Lincoln were closed early Sunday evening, halting all bus and auto traffic. Snow plows, which had twice cleared highways, were beaten off by Sunday's blizzard conditions.

Judo Experts Scheduled To Appear at Union Stag

Union Stag Attraction: Air Base Experts Demonstrate Judo

Top attraction at the Union Stag Wednesday will be a demonstration of judo techniques by the Air Force Base team, according to Bob Handy, Union activities director.

In a special demonstration for the Daily Nebraskan, two members of the team showed some of the techniques which have earned them honors.

Sgt. John McCoid, possessor of the black belt and Airman 2nd

All tickets and money for the Union Stag, scheduled Wednesday, must be turned into the Union Activities Office Monday between 2 and 6 p.m., according to Jon Bicha, ticket sales chairman.

The Union hopes to have a sell-out for the Stag, according to Bicha, as there are less than 50 tickets left at the present time.

class Ed Brady, who holds the second degree of brown belt, put on the demonstration.

Airman 1st class Leslie Milbourne, another member of the four man team, explained the significance of the belts.

There are about four colors of belts, he said. The first is a beginners belt, the second is the white belt. Two members of the Lincoln team hold the brown belt.

The other two members wear the black belt, which indicates, "they are considerably above average." There are ten degrees of black belt.

Only two men in the United States wear the fifth degree, he said.

Square Dance

The Faculty Square Dance Club will meet Saturday at 8:15 p.m. in the Ag College Activities Building.

Two men in Japan wear the tenth degree of black belt, a right which only seven men have achieved since 1864.

A special board passes on the degree of skill of members, Milbourne explained. In order to win the belt, a candidate must know a great deal about anatomy, as well as the actual holds, for they must explain to the board which muscles are involved in which holds, he said.

In some of their demonstrations, the team uses a ten-year-old boy and an eight-year-old girl to show how persons of this size can throw full-grown men.

Legend has it that the art of judo was first discovered by a Chinese philosopher.

In looking out of his window one winter he observed that the branches of the oak and elm trees were often broken by the weight of the snow, for the sturdy branches attempted to resist the weight.

The slim willow trees, whose branches gave with the snow and forced it to slip off, never broke, however.

The system, then, as worked out by the philosopher king, is based on the principle of turning one's opponent's strength against him.

The door prizes that are to be given away at the Union Stag are on display in the Union Lounge.

The prizes include: a Michael Stern suit, valued at $67.50; Roblee shoes, valued at $15.95; a Stetson hat, valued at $10.95; a Van Heusen shirt, valued at $5.00; a Wembley tie, valued at $2.00; hose, valued at $1.00; two belts, valued at $2.50 each.

Four McGregor sports items are included in the prizes. They are: bay Ivy slacks, valued at $7.95, a bay Cardigan jacket, valued at $7.95; a pair of bay Bermuda shorts, valued at $5.95; and a bay knit T-shirt, valued at $4.00.

Magic acts, a pistol shooting exhibition, a wrestling match, a comedian and a smorgasbord are on the program for the evening.

The price for tickets is 75 cents. They are on sale in the Union and can be purchased from house representatives.

Italian Professor To Give Lectures

Alfredo Rizzardi professor of the University of Bologna will deliver a public lecture Monday at 11 a.m. in Love Library Auditorium on "American Literature in Italy."

He will meet informally with students on Monday afternoon and Tuesday.

Rizzardi is in this country as a visiting professor. In the past he has been visiting professor at Harvard, Chicago and Notre Dame Universities.

He is one of the few Italian experts on American literature, according to the University English department.

22 Bills Introduced:

All-Campus Elections Set For NU 'Unicam'

Elections for the three top executive positions of the 1957 NUCWA Mock Legislature will be held Tuesday at the Union.

A total of 22 bills have been filed to date and will be introduced in the Mock Legislative Session, slated to begin Wednesday, according to Biff Keyes, NUCWA vice president.

Bills covering a wide variety of subjects were filed, while bills stressing the broadening of the tax base led in filings according to Bob Krohn, chairman of the bills committee.

Also receiving considerable attention by the senators were problems of raising the minimum standards of schools, hiking the pari-mutual tax, reducing the voting age to eighteen years and limiting of water for irrigation purposes.

The candidates chosen to run for governor are Sara Alexander, John Nelson, Janice Larsen and Dave Mossman and Jack Pollock. Running for the office of lieutenant governor are Bob Ireland, Sara Jones, George Moyer, Bob Swanson and Tom Novotti. Candidates for secretary of state are Hal Hoff, Betty Parks, Kathryn McCrory, Mary McKnight and Jane Lumbar.

Two different people have introduced similar bills into the legislature. The bills and their senators are Reduction of Age of Electors to 18 Years, Saxton Crawford, District 6, and Dick Foster, District 20, have introduced the bill while Fred Swartz also submitted it. The other bill is Pari-mutual Tax, submitted both by Tom Henderson, District 39, Wayne Thompson, District 20, and T. R. Smith, District 6.

Others bills and their districts representing them are:

Jim Hyink, District 42, is submitting Removal of Restraints against Inter-racial Marriage while John Kastl, District 24, is

Special Faculty Senate Meeting

Staff members of the University Administration have been asked to attend a special meeting of the Faculty Senate which has called for Tuesday at 4 p.m. in Love Library auditorium.

Greater utilization of space will be discussed.

Dr. Floyd Hoover, University Registrar, explained the problems of the lack of classroom and laboratory space as the undergraduate enrollment increases.

Proposed solutions to the problem include beginning classes at 7:30 a.m. and increasing laboratory periods from two to three hours.

Chemical Honorary

Newly initiated into Phi Lambda Upsilon, honorary chemical society at the University, are four undergraduates and 12 graduate students who rank high scholastically and show an aptitude for original research. The four undergraduates, pictured studying a nitrogen analyzer, are (left to right) Larry Ruth, James Bora, Kazys Almena and William Ebert.

The other members, all graduate students, are Richard Alice, Ronald Bambury, Raymond Barkley, Vernon Bell, Ralph Benck, Walden Bus, Jerald Dirks, Mack Hunt, Jack Koenig, Gordon Luikart, Darrel Schindler, and Carl Tipton.

The society also honored Raymond Barkley as the student with the highest grades last year.

submitting Dimming of Vehicle Lights and Licensing of Psychologists.

Glen Hossman, District 18, is introducing bills, Old Age Assistance, Reissue of Revised Statutes of Nebraska 1943 and Registration Fees for Commercial Trucks.

The combination of Tom Henderson, Fred Swartz and Thompson are introducing two bills; Establishing a Parkisan Legislature and Sales and Corporate Income Tax. Henderson is also submitting Creation of a Gas and Oil Conservation Commission.

Crawford is submitting three bills: State Fair Employment Practice Act, Combined Income and Sales Tax Act and Abolition of Capital Punishment Act.

Wayne Hennessey, District 40, is submitting Minimum Standards of Schools; Clarence Castner, District 9, is introducing Legalizing Bingo, and Derena Turner, District 27, is introducing Limitation of Water for Irrigation Purposes.

Five candidates for lieutenant governor of the NUCWA Mock Legislative Session to be held Wednesday, Thursday and Friday have expressed their platforms to the Daily Nebraskan.

The elections for the officers of the Session will be held Tuesday in the Union from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. Candidates and their platforms are:

Bob Ireland
Bob Ireland, news editor of the Daily Nebraskan, IFC publicity chairman, Spring Day publicity chairman, Kosmet Klub worker, member of Sigma Chi and a sophomore in Arts and Sciences, states that he is in favor of a combination income and sales tax to replace the existing property tax.

Ireland added that Nebraska's present tax system is outdated for many ways and should be revised to insure a more equitable distribution.

"I am supporting an increase in the University of Nebraska budget to the degree of 3.2 million dollars," he said. "I think some compromise is in order between the Nebraska taxpayers and the University and feel that the 3.2 figure is a fair one."

"Some program must be initiated on the University campus, whereby effective student criticism of teaching personnel is inaugurated," Ireland added.

Sara Jones
Sara Jones, news editor of the Daily Nebraskan, member of the debate team, YWCA, NUCWA, member of Alpha Xi Delta and a sophomore in Arts and Sciences, stated she advocates a realistic approach to the problem of the budget, which is not a separate issue but part of the general problem of the Nebraska tax system.

The tax base in the state is too narrow to provide adequate revenue for all state activities and the University must suffer with the rest of the state. Before the University can be provided with sufficient revenue, the tax base must be broadened, Miss Jones added.

"On the parking problem of the University, I don't believe cars are required for freshman and sophomore students," Moyer said.

"The state of Nebraska is currently suffering drought conditions and although I believe the University needs an increase of funds, I believe they should also look into this problem realistically," he commented.

Moyer said he believes his experience in the past two years on the University debate team has qualified him for the job of lieutenant governor. He also added that if he is elected, "I won't call the governor every morning to see if he had died."

Bob Swanson

Bob Swanson, president of Selleck house, RAM council and a senior in Business Administration said:

That as lieutenant governor, he will try to effect cooperation and good feeling among the factions represented.

Swanson believes that the lieutenant governor should not allow personal convictions and opinions to enter into his leadership of the legislature.

"Drawing on my past experiences, I believe that I can preside over the body, giving each individual an equal opportunity to be heard."

Colloquium

Fred Phelps, Teaching Assistant in Physics, will discuss the question of correlation between photons in Coherent light rays in a physics colloquium Thursday at 4:15 in Room 210, Brace Lab. Tea
