

On The Social Side: Two 'Queens' Crowned Over The Last Weekend

By JAN FARRELL
Society Editor

The cancellation of classes Monday capped a perfect week-end for everyone on campus. It gave everyone time enough to recover from the many parties last week. Congratulations to Ann Wade, Pi Beta Phi junior in Home Economics, who was named the 1957 "Delt Queen" at the Delta Tau Delta formal last Saturday, and to Joyce Shuey, from Lincoln, who was named Theta Chi Dream Girl" at their formal Saturday.

At the Delta Delta Delta "Champagne Formal" Saturday night a "Delta Dream Man" will be crowned. The winner of the title will be chosen from all the pinmates and fiancés of the Tri-Delts presently attending the University.

This week-end there are four formals and the last of the sorority initiations.

Monday there were announcements of two engagements and two pinnings.

ENGAGEMENTS:

Juleane Voigt, University alumna from Lincoln, to Jim Pike, sophomore in Business Administration from Moreland, Ga.

Cecilia Steinauer, from Lincoln, to John Haley, Theta Chi senior in Engineering from Valley.

PINNINGS:

Bev McVeigh, Alpha Omicron Pi senior in Teachers from Herman, to Denny Vogel, Delta Sigma Phi senior in Business Administration from Manitoba, Can.

Lynn Lueders, Alpha Phi freshman in Teachers from Kansas City, Mo., to Lynn Lightner, Phi

Knowles: Niebuhr, Theologian, To Appear

The appearance of Richard Niebuhr for the Montgomery Lectures next week will mark the first time that the University has invited a theologian to the campus, according to Rex Knowles, University pastor.

Niebuhr will deliver three lectures, on April 3 and 5 at 8 p.m. in Love Library Auditorium. He has selected the general theme of "Radical Monotheism" for the lectures with sub-titles as follows: Monday, "The Idea of Radical Monotheism"; Wednesday, "Radical Monotheism in Religion" and Friday, "Radical Monotheism in Western Culture."

Though Niebuhr has written many books, the two for which he is most noted are "The Meaning of Revelation" and "Christ and Culture". Knowles said.

A study group on the philosophy of Niebuhr will be held Friday from 3 to 9 p.m. at the Presbyterian-Congregational student house, Knowles stated.

Students who wish the opportunity of familiarizing themselves with Niebuhr's works, so as to get the most benefit possible out of his lectures, should plan to attend the study group, according to Knowles.

Reed, Barton Corp. Establish Scholarships

The Reed and Barton Corporation of Taunton, Massachusetts has established five scholarships to be made available each year to undergraduate women students of selected colleges and universities throughout America.

This year the University was chosen as one of eight participants. Reed and Barton will award one $500 scholarship, one $250 and three $100 scholarships for the best opinions on silver, china and crystal designs.

In addition to the five scholarships there will be 100 other awards. The 100 runner-ups will have the choice of receiving a $25 Savings Bond or table merchandise of slightly higher value.

The Scholarship programs rules are:

Eligibility: Duly enrolled women students of the University are eligible to enter Reed and Barton's Scholarship competition.

Entries: On an official application form an entrant will simply tell which types of design (silver, china and crystal) she likes and why. (Telling why she liked it best, why it suits the way she wants to live, etc.)

Newspaper To Sponsor Dinner Series

The Nebraska Farmer has been sponsoring a series of dinners with departments on Ag Campus, according to Dr. F. E. Eldridge, Associate Director of Resident Instruction.

The purpose of the meetings has been to acquaint staff members of the Nebraska Farmer and the departments on the Ag campus with the activities and problems of each of the groups.

Nebraska Farmer staff members have made tours of eight departments. During the tours staff members are acquainted with the facilities of the department and are given a chance to talk over experimental work that is being carried on.

Orchesis Slated Friday

Mary May Mong, president of Orchesis, demonstrates creative dancing for (from front to rear) Sharon Brown, Barbara Jeager-Shaur and Janet Dworak. The Old

West will be depicted in creative dancing by the Orchesis, the modern dance group, in its annual spring concert this weekend. Curtain time Friday and Saturday will be at 8 p.m. in Howell Memorial theater.

The program includes: "Indian Nocturne", "Westward Ho, the Peoples", "Dangerous Dan McGrew", and "Western Ballad".

'57 Drive: Charities Selected For AUF Support

World University Service, National Multiple Sclerosis Society, American Heart Association, National Association for Mental Health and Lancaster Association for Retarded Children are the charities to be supported by the 1957 All University Fund drive.

The five charities were chosen last week by the AUF board members according to the results of the student preference poll taken last month, Art Weaver, AUF president said.

The dates for the 1957 AUF fall drive have been announced as Nov. 5 through 19. The AUF Auction has been set for Dec. 11.

Twenty-five percent of the money collected during the drive will go to WUS, 20 percent each will be given to Mental Health, Heart and Multiple Sclerosis, and 10 percent will be given to LARC School. Five percent will be kept as an AUF expense and emergency fund.

World University Service aids students and faculty members in under-developed and war torn countries through a program of mutual assistance.

Money given to Mental Health, Heart and Multiple Sclerosis will go to the Nebraska divisions of these national charities to be used for research and care within the state.

This year $100 was contributed to the Hungarian Relief Project out of the expense and emergency fund. Only 2 1/2 percent of the fund was used for AUF expenses.

Contributions made during the All University Fund faculty drive which is no win progress will be divided among these five charities. Faculty members may still contribute during the drive which will continue through this week.

Home Economics Hospitality Day Set

The Home Economics Department will host nine hundred high school girls April 12 at their annual Hospitality Day, according to Shirley Richards, student chairman.

The theme for the event is "Focus Your Future on Home Economics." The day's activities have been planned so that each girl will catch a glimpse of the opportunities in Home Economics and the college life of a coed.

Shirley Richards is the student chairman and Miss Jean Stange is the faculty advisor. The other committee members are: Evonne Einspahr, Alice Ann Sides, Lou Forney, Judy Erickson, Daren Boning, Carol Smith, Patsy Kaufman, DeLoree Kieckhafer, Bev West, Gertrude Sokol, Vivian Long and Sara Alexander.

Singapore Vulnerable

Australia's top general in Malaysia in World War II says Singapore no longer is the strategic military base it was.

Lt. Gen. Gordon Bennett, on a visit here, told newsmen nuclear weapons made Singapore insignificant as a base. One well-placed A-bomb could nullify it.

NU Art Collection: University Galleries Receive Additions

Norman Geske, director of the University Art Galleries, announced seven gifts and 15 purchases as additions to the permanent collections at the University galleries.

Presented as memorials to the late Mrs. Minnie Latta Ladd, former president of the Nebraska Art Association, were the following three works:

"Nightshade," oil still life, by John Wilde, presented by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Woods; "Pieta," oil, by Leonardo Cremonini, presented by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Woods and "Piazza," engraving by Rudy Pozzatti, presented by former University art department chairman, Dwight Kirsch.

Other gifts to the gallery collections include the work of University graduate, Carol Haerer, who recently returned from two years' study in France to present a one-woman show here. Her "Fire Flowers" oil is also a gift by the Thomas Woods.

Mrs. Samuel Brumer presented to the University the following:

George Constant's "Sun Bather," described by Geske as representative of an artist known widely abroad; Nicholas Vasilief's "Green Cloth," an oil still life, "With its rich, brilliant, extremely personal color contrasts."

Geske noted that the abundance of gifts to University collections "distinguishes this year's permanent acquisitions and shows that the University collections have achieved the status of being worthwhile receptacles for works of art in the judgment of collectors."

Purchases selected both from the 1957 NAA show and from other sources are:

Peter Blume's "White Factory," to the Nelle Cochrane Woods collection of the NAA collection; Raphael Seyer's "Yasuo Kuniyoshi," also to the Woods collection and his "young Woman," to the F. M. Hall collection.

The following works were presented to the F. M. Hall collection: Morris Graves, "Eagle of the Inner Eye"; Constantine Brancusi's "Head of a Girl"; William

Scott's "Orange Still Life"; Reginald Pollack's "Landscape with Figures"; Wolf Kahn's "Self Portrait" and Alexander Calder's "Rooster."

Purchases included three other works of a former University art faculty member, Rudy Pozzatti, added to the Hall collection: "Enchanted Flute," a wood cut; "Ferroviova," an ink drawing and "Dumomo," an engraving.

Two books, "Thirteen Pems by Owne" illustrated by Ben Shan and "Woodcuts and Linoleum Blocks," by cubist painter, Max Weber, were also presented to the Hall collection.

The only piece of sculpture among the permanent acquisitions is the wood carving "Horse" by an unknown 19th Century American. Geske said the carving, which wvidently had once been used in a harness show, was found in New York state.

Geske said he had "No doubt that the wood sculpture will become one of the most popular of tions."

"We have started in several new and fruitful directions by this year's purchases," Geske said, "and I believe we can be well satisfied."

The permanent selections and gifts were announced at an afternoon gallery talk Sunday, the closing day of the Nebraska Art Association exhibit at the Morrill Hall galleries.
