Vets Dominate Selleck A Club; Prusia Most Valuable Player

By JIM COURTNEY Staff Sports Writer

The results of the Selleck A League have been tabulated with not too surprising results as the team consists of a well balanced cage squad that boasts the talents of superior basket-ball players.

ly deserves the honor of being named to the All-Star team. His rangy form presented a formidable barrier to opponents under the basket during the season. Dick's rebounding ability was unexcelled as was his ball handling thus Dick Prusia earns a berth on this year's Daily Nebraskan All-Star team.

Next in line to claim his laurel earned during the season's play is Larry Naviaux of MacLean house. Larry proved to the men of Selleck he could play basketball as well as football as he gunned the MacLean five through the season. Last year he was selected on the All University first team.

Third to come into the limelight and step into the ranks of the All-Stars is Clarence Cook, football end and Husker thin-clad from Hitchcock house, Clarence was a foremost reason of the Hitchcock house winning the A league in intramural basketball this season and playing in the championship game in the State basketball tourney. His versatility on the hard court floor was indispensable to the Hitchcock crew in their winning season thus Cook earns a berth on the fantasy five in Selleck play. Cook was selected on last year.

Next to reap the laurels of cage play in intramurals this year is Bessey's contribution to the set of dream players. Doug Chappel by name is the person who sparked the Bessey house to their seasonal finish. Doug contributed much to the Bessey crew in the way of rebounding and points which kept his team in top contention for the crown at all times. Doug was on last year's All-University selections for second team. Last but far from being least on the cage crew is Joe Houfek from Canfield. Last year the cage star was selected for All-University first team of intramural competitors in the sport of round ball. This year Joe is making another strong contention for the team by earning a berth on the first team of A Selleck team of mythical selections. Joe's cage ability was not to be denied and his outstanding play throughout the season compelled opponents to rate him as one of the best in intramural play.

Thus the first team is composed entirely of veterans of last year's All-University basketball selections and one from last year's A Selleck league All-Star team.

The second five of the fantasy squad is composed of Ron Golus of Gus I, Wayne Copes of MacLean house, Dick Reimers also of MacLean house, Stewart Schmidt of GusII, and Bill Fisher of Andrews.

En route to their romp, the Buffs won 10 of 14 events, including three clean sweeps. The sweeps came in the mile run, the 440 yard dash and the discus.

High man for the Huskers was Keith Gardner, with wins in the 60 yard dash and 60 yard low hurdles. He also took a third in the 60 yard high hurdles, the first time he has lost in that event this year. Eddie Dove and Otis Rhodes, both of Colorado finished ahead of the "Jet" Gardner's time in the 60 yard lows was :6.8 which set a new meet record, the old one being :6.9.

Don Phillips and Bill Hawkins led the broad jumpers finishing first and second respectively. Phillips flew 23 ft. 3/4 in. for his best mark of the year. Hawkins jumped 22 ft. 11 1/4 in. for his second. This was the best event the Huskers enjoyed all day.

The pole vault had Ken Pollard and Colorado's Jesse Undlin in a tie for first at 13 ft. 6 in. This marked the second time that Pollard has cleared this height and appears to be improving with every meet.

The Javelin throw saw three men go over the former meet record of 177 ft. Ken Yob of Colorado tossed it 225 ft. 1/2 in. for the

Scoring Tempo Pleases Coach

The scoring procedure in last Saturday's second spring football scrimmage was a complete reversal of the previous weeks meeting. Saturday, the Whites beat the Blacks and Yellows, 42-18. The No. 1 Whites beat the Blacks, 24-18. The No. 2 Whites beat the Yellows, 18-0. The previous Saturday, all four teams could muster only 6 points.

Coach Bill Jennings seemed pleased with the showing of the boys over the previous week's showing.

Numerous players stood out in the game type scrimmage Saturday. Leo George, a left halfback on the first white team, ran 60 yards for a touchdown the second time his club got the ball. George Cifra, top white fullback, recorded a 43 yard jaunt. Larry Naviaux sparked several No. 1 white drives with lengthy gains including one 25 yard dash to set up the final touchdown. Quarterbacks George Harshman and Roy Stinnett, both veterans, each passed for a pair of touchdowns. Backs were not the only ones to come in for praise. End Mike Lee and tackle Don Olson both former Grand Island prepsters turned some fine defensive tricks. Lee also caught two Harshman passes for TD's. Seniors Marling Hilding and Jerry Peterson also turned in some fine defensive work.

Roster Grows:

Four more Gridders Join Alum Prep For Saturday's Annual Contest

By BOB WIRZ Staff Sports Writer

The Alumni football squad have added four names to its roster in preparation for Saturday's contest with the Husker varsity.

Bill (Rocky) Mueller of Omaha said he would play if "it was a warm day with no snow." Mueller was a Husker star from 1947-50. The speedy back is now an attorney in Nebraska's largest city.

Jerry Jacupke also announced he will attend but only if "you order a cool day and pad the seats on the bench." Jacupke was at Nebraska from 1944-47.

Sam Vacanti is the third addition. Vacanti was an outstanding quarterback just after the second World War. As usual Sam is expected to do some passing and probably will again handle the point after touchdown job. Last year he converted twice in the 14-0 Alumni win.

Jack Carroll is the final addition announced to date. Carroll is presently living at Ogallala where he is a coach.

More additions are expected later on in the week. The total is over thirty now and last year some 55 attended the annual contest.

This is the sixth game in the series that has seen the Varsity winning on all but two occasions.

The Varsity won in 1951-53 after the '50 opener ended in a 13-13 tie. Last years contest was the only shutout for either squad.

Bill Jennings is expected to go with veterans at most positions in the opening minutes of play Saturday. The varsity has been hampered quite a bit this spring first by the state basketball tournament and then by bad weather.

However, after a Saturday scrimmage, Jennings was pretty well impressed with the showing of the squad. The scrimmage was mostly an offensive battle with 10 touchdowns being scored in the afternoons workout.

The baseball team is hoping for better weather before this week end and their two game series with Drake. The squad has been forced inside all but a few times this year. The Friday afternoon game is slated for 3:00 p.m. and the All-Sports day clash is at 10:00 a.m.

Coach Tony Sharpe will probably use two or three hurlers in each contest in order to give them some work and will also rotate his infielders and outfielders.

Tennis Coach Ed Higginbotham will send his squad to their first meet of the year against Creighton at 11:00 on Saturday. The meet may possibly be played inside the Coliseum if weather is bad.

The track squad will try to regain winning form at noon when they take on Colorado A&M in the only home outdoor duel of the cam-

Tarheels Are Well Balanced Says Ekwall

By MIKE LOUGH Staff Sports Writer

"Well-balanced" is Rex Ekwall's description of the undefeated North Carolina basketball squad. North Carolina, you will remember, squeezed out Kansas by one point (54-53) in the finals of the NCAA tourney at Kansas City last Saturday night. Ekwall witnessed the dramatic triple overtime battle.

Rex's real reason for being on hand though was the annual East-West Shrine's basketball game which he played in. He was NU's representative for the underdog West team which pulled a 64-60 upset victory.

When interviewed, Ekwall praised Iowa State's Gary Thompson for his part in the Western cause. Thompson, whose 16 made him high point man for both teams was honored by Ekwall who said the flashy guard "sparked" the Western allies to victory. Ekwall also had much to say for SMU's Jim Krebs. Krebs was installed as pivot for the West and landed nine points.

Ekwall pointed out two "good shooters" for the East. Grady Wallace of South Carolina and his worthy rival, Lennie Rosenbluth of North Carolina particularly impressed Ekwall. Rosenbluth led the East with 14 tallies and Wallace, the nation's leading er-game scorer was hot on his tail with 12.

From there the conversation turned back to the "well-balanced" North Carolina club. When asked what he thought of the undefeated (32-0) Tarheels after All-America Rosenbluth fouled out in the fourth stanza Ekwall mentioned that he (Rosenbluth) was the only senior on the starting five. This indicates that everyone should watch out for the NCAA champ Tarheels next year.

Ekwall gathered four points in the Shriner game. He played about 50 per cent of the time and saw action in both halves. Up on the rack above his bed now stands the mute evidence of his competition at Kansas City—a trophy with the inscription "Ararat Shrine East-West All Star K.C., Mo. 1957." And over in his closet are the showy yellow, red and green Shriner basketball jersey and trunks which he keeps to show to his posterity.

Rex's immediate plans after graduation are "maybe playing AAU ball with the Peoria Caterfillers or Goodyear Tires." Looking further into the future he says he has "to go to the service in about a year."

Dick Nicholson, Colorado forward is partially blind in one eye. Nicholson, who rounded out his varsity basketball career this season, kept the blindness a secret until recently. He decided to let everyone know in an article appearing in the Denver Post last March 14. Nicholson injured the eye while catching in an intramural softball game at Boulder (Colo.) junior high school in 1943. He can see slightly but has no side vision out of the right eye.

Bobby Reynolds

Bobby Reynolds, former All-American griddler, may be unable to play in the Alum-Varsity game on All-Sports Day Saturday. The former Nebraska great is hampered by a sprained ankle and unless the injury responds to treatment, he will miss All-Sports Day for the first time since he graduated.
