

Journalist:

Whitehead To Deliver Mellett Talk

A two-time Pulitzer Prize winner, whose book has been heading the best seller list for weeks, will be the featured speaker at the University annual Journalism Day celebration, May 4.

He is Don Whitehead, veteran Associated Press correspondent, now Washington bureau chief for the New York Herald Tribune. His book, The FBI Story, was a best seller from the start, selling 150,000 copies the first five weeks.

Whitehead will deliver the 28th annual Don Mellett lecture in journalism, according to Dr. William Hall, Journalism School director.

The Mellett lecture, sponsored by New York University, is delivered on a different campus each year. It was established in memory of a Canton, O., newspaperman who was murdered because of his crusade against vice and corruption in local government.

Starting out in the weekly field, Whitehead transferred to the Associated Press, where he became a night editor. During World War II he saw action as a war correspondent in Africa and Europe.

Whitehead won his first Pulitzer Prize in 1951 for a series of stories he wrote after witnessing the fall of Seoul to Communist troops. His second Pulitzer Prize followed within three years. It was given to him for his day-to-day log of President Eisenhower's post-election trip to Korea.

James To Travel To Iowa Confab

Dick James of Hastings has been selected to represent the senior class of the University's School of Journalism at the annual Iowa Press Association conventions at Des Moines, Ia., today and Saturday.

He will appear Saturday morning on a panel discussion with three other college seniors concerning journalism students' attitudes toward the weekly newspaper field.

Chatfield: University Seeks Man For Counseling Service

A search is now going on for a "highly qualified man" to be in charge of the University Counseling Service, according to Lee Chatfield, director of the Junior Division and Counseling Service.

Gordon Henley, assistant professor of Educational psychology and measurements, and Charles Neidt, chairman of the department of educational psychology and measurement, are assisting Chatfield in the search.

The department hopes to obtain a "diplomat," a person with a Ph. D. of E.D.D. in counseling, five years of experience beyond his training and who meets the high standards set up by the American Psychological Association, according to Henley.

"If we can obtain such a man, we will be the only school in the Big Seven to have one," Henley said.

Chatfield would probably re-

Mitchell Case: Hearings End; 'Study' Goes On

By GARY RODGERS Staff Writer

No more hearings of the Mitchell Case will be held, but the Faculty committee on Privilege and Tenure will continue to study the case for some time before they reach a decision, according to committee chairman David Dow.

At the time of last hearing, Feb. 21, it was reported that another hearing was contemplated but probably would not be held until the later part of March. Dow said Thursday that this was not true, but that, "no further hearings are planned at the present time."

The hearings were held in the investigation of complaints made by Dr. C. Clyde Mitchell, former professor and chairman of the department of agricultural economics. Dr. Mitchell claimed in 1956 that certain administrative officials of the University had threatened his academic freedom.

The case has now been through an entire year of hearings and deliberations, and is now pending in the committee. Dow said he did not know when the committee will reach a decision, but the definitely will reach one and make a report.

The Committee met for about an hour and a half Thursday. Dow said they have been meeting every week recently and that they spend most of this time on the Mitchell case. However, he said that many other things have come up in the past year that the committee has had to consider and that this along with the fact that much of their work is done by mail, accounts for the long time that has elapsed since the matter was brought up.

The committee has heard from Mitchell several times since the last hearing, Feb. 21, but has not released any new evidence.

Square Dance Club

The Swing 'n Cheat Square Dance Club will hold a dance on Friday, at 8 p.m. in the YWCA basement. Everyone is invited date or stag.

1958: McQuistan Elected NU Yell Squad King

Bill McQuistan was elected Yell King Wednesday, according to the Yell Squad.

McQuistan will replace Don Beck, last year's yell leader. He is a sophomore in Agriculture, Corn Cob member and a member of Theta Xi. McQuistan was elected by vote of last year's cheerleaders.

Elected as assistant yell king is John Madden, who is sophomore in Teachers College. He is also a member of Newman Club, Kosmet Klub worker and a member of Delta Tau Delta.

Other members of the Squad include Don Bell, freshman in Arts and Sciences, Varsity rifle team and a member of Sigma Chi; Brent Chambers, freshman in Business Administration, Union Dance committee, University Theater and a member of Kappa Sigma.

Lyle Burry, freshman in Pharmacy, is another new member of the Squad. He is in Junior IFC, Red Cross and a member of Kappa Sigma. Charlene Anthony, freshman in Teachers, is a member of Red Cross Board, Union and Alpha Chi Omega.

Margaret Marshall, freshman in Arts and Sciences, is a member of Red Cross board, Aquaquettes and a member of Gamma Phi Beta. Holdovers from last year's team include Ann Wade, junior in Home Economics and pledge trainer of Phi Beta Pi and sophomore Karlene Krueger is WAA secretary, Newman Club member and a member of Alpha Omicron Pi.

Applications For Student Council Due

All members of organizations, filing for Student Council should have their applications in before vacation, Harry Dingman, Elections chairman announced at the Student Council meeting Wednesday.

Some applications have already been sent in but not all organizations are represented as yet, he said.

Applications have been accepted for the college representatives for Student Council. They are agriculture, 8; Arts and Sciences, 11; Business Administration, 7; Engineering, 4; Law, 2; Pharmacy, 2; Teachers, 17, and Dental, 2.

Dave Keene announced that Mary DeMars has been selected to introduce ex-governor Val Peterson at the honors convocation where he will speak.

Mortar Board: International Students To View State In Tour

Members of Mortar Board, women student's honorary activity society at the University, will use part of their Easter vacation to show 35 international students samples of Nebraska community life.

A committee of Mortar Board girls will take the foreign students

April 15-18:

AFCW Confab Slated

Nearly every major college in the nation will be represented at the national convention of the American Federation of College Women, to be held on the University campus, Monday through Thursday.

Three-hundred-fifty student delegates from 122 schools will register at University High School from 2 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday.

The coeds will be housed in the University Resident Halls for Women.

The principal speaker will be Dr. Harriet O'Shea, associate professor psychology at Purdue University, Lafayette, Indiana.

National president is Pat McPherson of Smith College, Northampton, Mass., and president-elect is Joan Heusner, University Junior.

Other officers for the convention include: Carol Wiltse; treasurer; Pat Arbutnot, program chairman; Margaret Edwards, University of Tennessee, housing and registration chairman; and Sally Wilson, publicity chairman.

The convention will consist of discussion groups, including a banquet at the Cornhusker Hotel and a picnic at Pioneers Park Wednesday evening.

Banquet speaker will be Miss Margaret Killian, professor and head of the department of home economics at the University of Omaha.

Miss Mary Jane Mulvaney, University assistant professor of physical education for women, is executive secretary-treasurer.

KK Contest To Select 'Muscle Men'

The Kappa Kappa Club will hold a contest to select two muscle men for parts in the May 24 and 25 production of "South Pacific," according to Jerry Brownfield, chairman.

Winners will be selected by the female cast members of South Pacific, and will receive shrunken heads as prizes, in addition to the part in the show.

All entrants will receive an imported South Pacific coconut and a bag of velvet nuts for taking part in the contest.

The basis for the selection will be brawn only, and the judges' selections will be final. Winners will not need to spend much time at rehearsals, since the parts require no speaking or singing.

Details on applications for the contest will be announced immediately following Spring Vacation.

by bus to Omaha, Grand Island, Lexington, Curtis, Holdrege, and Hastings. The tour, similar to annual excursions begun in 1951, will be made Monday through Wednesday April 15-17.

The tour committee is composed of Virginia Hudson, Dorothy Novotny, Marian Sokol, Shirley Richards and Beverly Deepe. Miss Sue Arbutnot, a University Teachers College staff member, will serve as chaperone.

Assisting with arrangements in local areas are Mrs. James Shomberg, Grand Island; Harold Stevens, Lexington; H. K. Douthit, Curtis, superintendent of the Nebraska School of Agriculture; Mrs. Ray Magill, Holdrege; and Stanley Matzke, Hastings.

Miss Hudson said an effort will be made to show the foreign students, whose homes are in a score of different countries including Hungary, highlights of Nebraska's economic, social and home-life structure.

The group will stay overnight in private homes in Grand Island and at the School of Agriculture at Curtis. The tourists will have lunch with Commercial Cattle Feeders at Lexington and will inspect the Central Nebraska Public Power and Irrigation District operations at Holdrege.

The itinerary: Monday, 7:30 a.m., leave from Student Union; 9:30 a.m., Tour Boys Town; 10:30 a.m., visit Joslyn Memorial, Omaha; Noon, lunch, Union Stockyards, Omaha; 2:30 p.m., leave for Grand Island; 5:30 p.m., arrive Grand Island for overnight stay.

Tuesday, 9:00 a.m., leave Grand Island; 10:15 a.m., coffee and inspection alfalfa mill; 11:30 a.m., lunch with Lexington Cattle Feeders; 3:30 p.m., arrive Nebraska School of Agriculture, Curtis, for high school program and overnight stay.

Wednesday, 8:45 a.m., leave Curtis; 11:45 a.m., lunch, Franklin School, Holdrege; 1:00 p.m., tour Tri-County District; 3:00 p.m., arrive Hastings to visit Hastings College and House of Yesterday; 6:00 p.m., dinner in Hastings, prior to return to Lincoln.

GOLDENROD 215 North 14

NOW! WASH FINE SWEATERS AT HOME FOR EACH

with instant dissolving

Sweater-Fluff

COLD WATER SOAP PEARLS

New beauty secret for WOOL, CASHMERE, ORLON, NYLON, DACRON, RAYON AND SILK!

Just soak, squeeze, rinse. Tiny Sweater-Fluff soap pearls dissolve instantly even in hard water... restore original fluff and lustre to fine fabrics with amazing ease.

NO SHRINKING! NO BLOCKING! NO FADING! NO MATTING!

ENOUGH FOR 125 TO 150 SWEATER WASHINGS!

FAMILY SIZE $1.25

"What I probably like most about this job," says Tom, "is that you're never tied down to one desk and the same routine. There's always a new problem... a new approach needed... new people to meet and work with."

But first, what does a Systems Analyst do? "Briefly, we study a customer's present system—payroll, inventory control, billing or whatever—and convert it to a mechanized system using either conventional IBM business machines or IBM's high-speed electronic computers."

Tom works out of the IBM Baltimore Office with some of America's biggest companies as his customers. Graduated from Johns Hopkins in August, '55, with a B.S.I.E., he came immediately to IBM. During his training period, Tom studied IBM's Punched Card and Electronic Data Processing Machines. He learned their uses, their applications, and was instructed in the theories and methods of data processing.

Studying customer's present system

Diversified Assignments

A leading aircraft company was Tom's first major assignment. "My job there," he explains, "was to analyze the application of IBM's latest electronic computer—the 705—to regulate the flow of materials and machines used to fill Government contracts."

Then came a short, but highly satisfying assignment. At the Bellwood Quartermaster Corps, Tom set up a "SOAP" system (System for Optimum Automatic Programming) de-

"What's it like to be A SYSTEMS ANALYST AT IBM?"

Two years ago, college senior Thomas Wheeler asked himself this question. Today, a Systems Analyst in IBM's Data Processing Division, Tom reviews his experience and gives some pointers that may be helpful to you in taking the first, most important step in your business career.

finied by Tom as "converting the flow of instructions and information into the most efficient operation for an IBM magnetic drum computer. Bellwood," Tom points out, "is the Inventory Control Center for all

A problem in inventory control

Quartermaster centers in the country. The new system will achieve balanced supply and demand of material throughout the entire U. S.—will save money for the Government—and relieve many men from the drudgery of details."

For the past six months, Tom has been working with the Statistical Services Division of Headquarters Air Research & Development Command. "We are designing and implementing a system to link eleven reporting centers to Headquarters by wire transmission," Tom reports. "Data transmitted to Headquarters by this system will be coordinated and then processed by an IBM 650 electronic computer."

Explaining IBM's 705 electronic computer

Why Tom chose IBM
How does a senior like Tom, who was interviewed by at least twenty companies while in college, select his future employer? "In my case," Tom says, "the choice was easy. IBM offered the best opportunities. I knew IBM sales were about doubling every five years—and when I considered the tremendous growth potential of the electronic computer field—I had no trouble making up my mind.

"Besides, I was impressed by the caliber of IBM personnel. They had a broader outlook and an approach to business which I can best describe as professional.

At the control panel of IBM's 650

"My future? It looks good—very good. I've already received two generous raises in less than two years, and at the rate IBM and the electronic computer field are expanding, my future is both assured—and rewarding!"

IBM hopes this message will help to give you some idea of what it's like to be a Systems Analyst in the Data Processing Division. There are equal opportunities for E.E.'s, I.E.'s, M.E.'s, physicists, mathematicians, Liberal Arts majors, and Business Administration graduates in IBM's many divisions—Research, Product Development, Manufacturing Engineering, Sales and Sales Assistance. Why not drop in and discuss IBM with your Placement Director? He can supply our brochure and tell you when IBM will next interview on your campus. Meanwhile, our Manager of College Relations, P. H. Bradley, will be happy to answer your questions. Just write him at IBM, Room 11904, 590 Madison Ave., New York 22, N. Y.

This Arrow University oxford shirt was such a smash hit last season, you asked for an encore. And for good reason! The collar is button-down—both front and center back. Full length box pleat in back. Pencil-line stripes on white backgrounds—plus white and five solid colors. Arrow University, $5.00 up. Shantung stripe ties, $2.50.

ARROW —first in fashion SHIRTS • TIES

Patronize Daily Nebraskan Classified Want Ads