

The Varsity Glee Club . . . To Present Annual Spring Concert Thursday

Debate This Week:

Legislative Hassle Seen Over Budget

By SARA JONES News Editor

An expected legislative floor fight will probably produce a close vote on the move to restore $1 million cut by the Legislature's Budget Committee from Gov. Anderson's recommendations on the University Budget.

The budget bill is expected to come to the floor this week. Under the rules of the Legislature, debate could begin immediately.

The governor approved a $3.2 million increase for the University; $2.3 million under the Chancellor's original request.

The Budget Committee slashed $1 million off the governor's figure.

The University has been working hard to rally support on the floor to restore this $1 million.

Sen. Otto Kotouc of Humboldt and Otto Liebers of Lincoln are expected to be among the leaders of this fight.

Sources indicate that the action of the Board of Regents to raise tuition might have a favorable effect on the Legislators in any attempt to raise the extra million in tax funds.

The tuition increases are estimated to produce $1 million during the next two years.

Gov. Anderson has taken no stand on the matter of the budget increase other than his $3.2 million recommendation. He said that the Budget Committee had studied the problem more thoroughly than he had.

Wednesday the legislators will take an afternoon bus trip to the University Medical College at Omaha to view the physical plant, in connection with the Governor's recommendation to eliminate the requested special medical college building levy.

Sen. John Adams introduced a resolution Thursday to the effect that the Chancellor and the Regents be asked to appear before the legislature to explain the tuition increase.

He asked that University students attend the session Tuesday morning at 9 a.m. when the resolution would be discussed.

Hardin remarked that it might be a good thing for the University if the resolution did pass.

"This would give us a chance to present our case to the entire Unicameral, instead of the few senators on the committee we have dealt with," he said.
