

Krutch: Well Known Drama Critic To Lecture

Joseph Wood Krutch, critic and man of letters will lecture at the University May 7, 8 and 9.

He will be the guest of the department of English, the Research Council and the University Committee on Convocations.

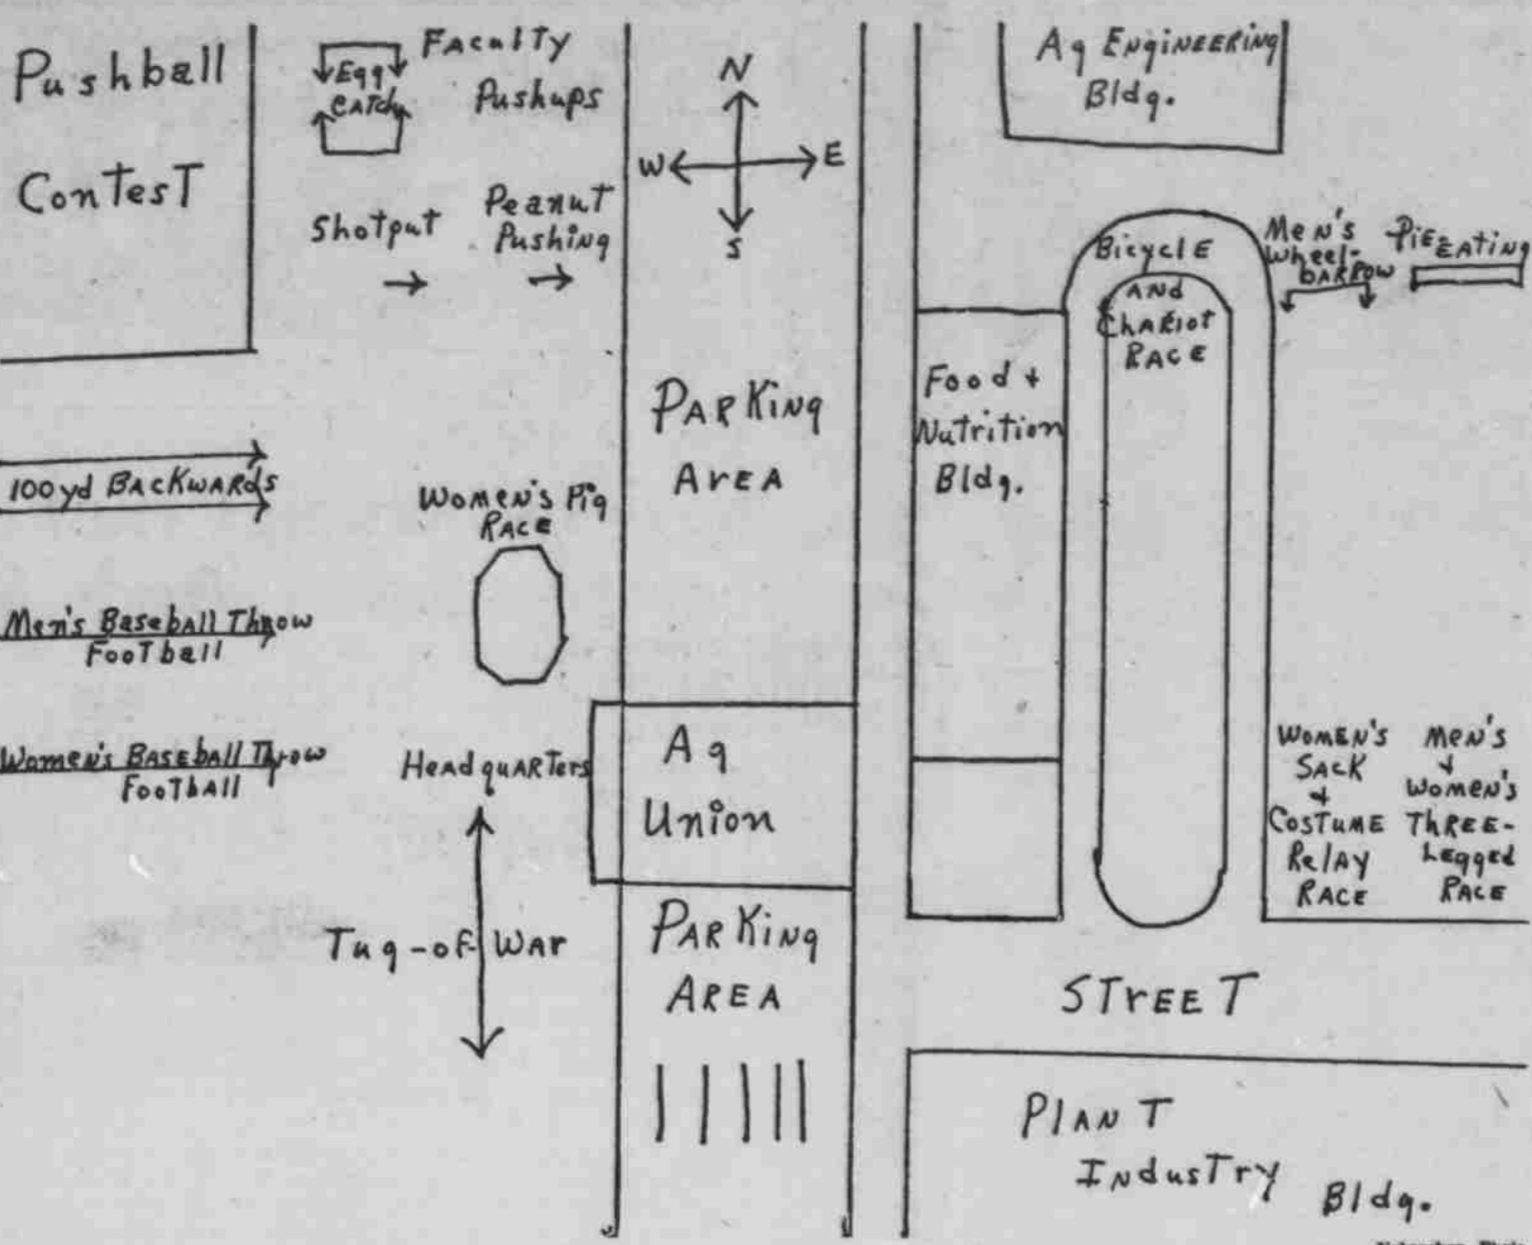

During his stay at the University Mr. Krutch will meet with the faculty and students in a number of classes.

On Tuesday at 8 p.m. in Love Library Auditorium he will address the public on the general topic, "Wisdom versus Know-How," or "Man the Maker versus Man the Thinker."

Krutch has written many volumes of literary criticism. His particular interests are the eighteenth century, drama and American literature.

Krutch was for many years Brander Matthews professor of dramatic literature at Columbia University, and he was an editor and drama critic on the Nation from 1924 until recently. His essays and studies appear regularly in such periodicals as the American Scholar, House Beautiful and Harpers.

Krutch has lived in Arizona in the past few years, and has become something of a naturalist. His most recent books have dealt with his observations of changing nature.

Friday Night: Holloway To Play For Street Dance

Bud Holloway and his orchestra will be featured at the Street-Light Strut, Friday in front of the Union.

Holloway's orchestra consists of eleven men and is the largest band in Lincoln.

The dance will begin at 8:30 p.m. and will be held between 14th and 15th on 'R' Street. No parking will be allowed in this area after 5:30 p.m. Friday. ALL cars violating this rule will be towed away, according to Judy Decker, chairman.

The dancing area will be decorated with Japanese lanterns. Tables will be placed around the dancing area.

Bob Krumme will be master of ceremonies at intermission. The Union board will cut a huge three tier birthday cake which will be served at the dance. The winner of the whisker contest will be announced at this time and there will also be entertainment. During the dance, participants may enjoy reduced prices in the crib and cafeteria and the carnival in the Union parking lot, Miss Decker said.

The band has been together for about three and a half years, and the personnel, except for three men, is exactly the same as when it was started. Rod Barker, vocalist, has sung on KOLN-TV for two years and also appeared on a show last September which featured Peggy Lee and Jimmy Wakely. Del Whitcomb is featured as guitarist with the band.
