

Vol. 32, No. 89

LINCOLN, NEBRASKA

Tuesday, May 7, 1957

Tickets On Sale:

Ball To Feature Jazz Musicians

Tickets for the Interfraternity Ball, featuring Jay McShann, Kansas City jazz artist, are now on sale, according to Dick Youngs-cap and Roger Rankin, IFC Ball Committee members.

The ball is scheduled for Saturday May 18 at the Turnpike Ballroom from 8 to 12 p.m.

The price of tickets is $2.00 per couple.

Rankin explained that due to the limited size of the Turnpike Ballroom, the ticket sales will be limited to fraternity members and their dates.

Jay McShann, who calls Kansas City his home town, has played with Count Basie and other well-known jazz bands. His own band has toured the nation and has been booked into top night clubs the country over.

His band "that rocks the blues" has been booked for the Ball because of the popular appeal of his type of jazz, Rankin explained.

Saturday afternoon, May 18, a jam session will be held on the steps of the Union, according to Kay Harris and George Hirschback, IFC members in charge.

The session will be held from 1:15 p.m. to 2:15 p.m. and will be free to everyone. Jay McShann will provide the music.

The Junior IFC is planning a chariot race between fraternities Saturday afternoon, according to Bob Krumme, Junior IFC President.

Each fraternity will enter a chariot in which will ride the sweetheart chosen by that fraternity.

The chariot will be pulled by two men from the fraternity. The winning chariot will be presented with a trophy.

The sweetheart of the winning fraternity will be presented with a trophy and will be crowned "Sweetheart of Greek Weekend" at the Ball that evening.

Courtesy Sunday Journal and Star

To Perform At NU

Basil Rathbone, stage, screen and television actor, will appear at the University May 12 at 8 p.m. in the coliseum. Rathbone will create the role of Manfred, a dramatic poem by Byron which was set to music by Robert Shuman and will be performed for the first time by an American educational institution by the Symphony Orchestra. Rathbone appeared at the University in 1954 when he played to a capacity crowd in King David.

Sunday: Spring Concert Soloists Selected For 'Manfred'

Four soloists have been selected to appear with the noted actor Basil Rathbone next Sunday in the University's annual Spring Choral concert, this year featuring "Manfred" by Robert Schumann.

The program, which also will include the "Mass in G," by Franz Schubert, will be held at 8 p.m. in the Coliseum. There is no admission charge.

Dr. David Foltz, chairman of the music department, will conduct the overall production, including the 500-voice Choral union, and the 70-Piece Symphony Orchestra.

The four soloists for "Manfred" will be:

Nancy Norman, soprano who is a part-time instructor in Teachers College. She was a soloist in the 1956 presentation of "Joan of Arc," featuring Vera Zorina, sang a leading role in Gian-Carlo Menotti's "The Consul," in 1955; and the soprano soloist in the 1952 "Messiah" production at Albion.

In 1951, she represented Iowa in the Miss America Pageant in Atlantic City. She was director of vocal music in North Platte Junior High School in 1953-54. She also is soprano soloist at St. Matthew's Episcopal Church in Lincoln.

Carol Asbury, a contralto. Is a junior in Teachers College, and was a soloist in the 1955 presentation of "La Boheme," produced in 1956, and had a leading role in the 1957 opera production, "The Marriage of Figaro." This year, she is a contralto soloist at St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, and in the past two years has been soloist at First Baptist Church and First Plymouth Congregational Church, all of Lincoln. She also is a member of the University Singers and Symphony Orchestra.

Earl Jenkins, assistant professor of voice, tenor. Is director of one of the University's choruses, the opera workshop, and the University Summer Session choral program. Last February, he was the musical director of the University's production of "The Marriage of Figaro." He earned both his bachelor's and master's degrees in music at the University.

He has done additional work in New York and at Aspen, Colo., studying under Mack Harrel, professional baritone. He has appeared in the tenor solos in "The Messiah," and "Elijah." Jenkins is choir director of the First Christian Church in Lincoln.

Leon Lishner, associate professor of voice, bass, appears annually in the National Broadcasting Corporation's television presentation of Menotti's "Amahl and the Night Visitors." Last October, he had a role in the Chicago Civic Opera production, under the direction of Dimitri Mitropoulos.

In the summer of 1956, he appeared on Broadway in the opera by Virgil Thomas and Gertrude Stein, called "The Mother of Us All."

In 1955, he appeared in Menotti's "Sant of Bleeker Street," both on Broadway and NBC-TV. Since joining the University staff in 1956, he has appeared throughout the state in solo roles.

Miss Norma Jenkins and Lishner will also appear as soloists in the "Mass in G," which is scored for chorus, soloists, and strings.

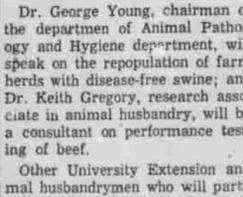

Courtesy Sunday Journal and Star
Miss Norman

Courtesy Sunday Journal and Star
Miss Asbury

Courtesy Lincoln Journal
Jenkins

Courtesy Sunday Journal and Star
Lishner

Six Faculty To Take Part In Meeting

Six University Faculty members will take part in the biennial North Central Regional Meeting of Extension Animal Husbandry, May 6-8 at Kansas State College.

Dr. George Young, chairman of the department of Animal Pathology and Hygiene department, will speak on the repopulation of farm herds with disease-free swine; and Dr. Keith Gregory, research associate in animal husbandry, will be a consultant on performance testing of beef.

Other University Extension animal husbandrymen who will participate include W. W. Derrick, K. C. Fouts, Paul Guyer and Ted Doane.

The program will include sessions on performance, testing of beef, swine and sheep; discussions on feeder calf sales, techniques on swine disease control, raising hogs under confinement and the relationship between carcass and live animal valuation.

SC Elections:

Student Tribunal Charter Approved

The proposed charter of the student tribunal passed by a nearly 2 to 1 majority in the Student Council elections yesterday, 1376 students voted "Yes" to the proposed charter, only 697 voted against it, and 81 votes were declared invalid. Thus, with the approval of the Board of Regents, the University will now have a Student Tribunal. Marv Breslow, Student Council Activities Chairman, gave the Daily Nebraskan this statement about the Tribunal: "The proposed Student Tribunal Charter has been endorsed by nearly two-thirds of the students voting at the election. This overwhelming endorsement is heartening to those who have urged the adoption of the tribunal for a year and a half. The mandate of the student body has been given again to the Student Council; it is now obligatory for the new Council to gain acceptance by the Board of Regents for the Charter next fall. With this acceptance the Tribunal can become an operating instrument of student self-discipline next year and once more prove the quality of student responsibility in student government."

The charter will now go back to the Council for final draft and then to the Board of Regents for final approval.

The Student Tribunal has been under consideration for some time by the Council Activities committee. This idea of forming a Student Tribunal was first presented to the students in the Student Council elections in 1956, when they voted in favor of the general plan. This year after the proposed charter was unanimously approved by the Student Council, the specific charter was then approved in the election yesterday.

The Tribunal will still be greatly controlled by the Division of Student Affairs which will have the final say on action taken and punishments levied. The Tribunal will only recommend a decision to that body and will also only act on matters that the Division of Student Affairs refers to it.

Over 2,000 To Polls:

Record Votes Cast In Council Election

A record-breaking number of over 2000 voters turned out for the annual Student Council elections of 15 college representatives Monday.

An additional highlight of the general Student Council election was the student survey of the proposed Student Tribunal as well as the all-women's vote on the six Eligible Bachelors of the campus sponsored by Mortar Board.

The Eligible Bachelors will be presented at the Kosmet Klub Spring Show.

A vote breakdown of the candidates of each college follows:

ARTS AND SCIENCES

Robert Ireland	246
Thomas Nelf	205
Sara Jones	110
Mary Knight	98
Phyllis Bonner	76
Ellen Stokes	66
Nancy Spilker	62
Barbara Jo Bible	55
Charlene Ann Gross	46
Melvyn Eikleberry	42
Barbara Lou Mandie	38
346 Valid Ballots; 33 Invalid Ballots; 379 Total Ballots.

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

Kenneth Freed	167
Robert Lindell	136
Larry Rotert	122
Robert Harder	105
Natalie Johnson	83
Carol Dahl	66
Carole Ann Triplett	57
363 Valid Ballots; 23 Invalid Ballots; 386 Total Ballots.

AGRICULTURE

Jane Carol Savener	157
Burton Arthur Weichenthal	157
Gary Dean Berke	117
Charles Keith Smith	109
Joyce Ruth Evans	93
Lois Ruth LaRue	71
Donald D. Ita	48
Marcia Jane Ray	39
Jan Patricia Chaney	38
Ardeye Elaine Haring	33
Valid Ballots	431

Saturday:

Union Slates Pink Elephant Party

The Union Dance Committee, with help from the Cosmopolitan Club will sponsor a Pink Elephant Party to be held from 9-12 p.m. on Saturday in the Union Ballroom, according to Brent Chambers, publicity chairman.

The annual affair is financed from the profits of the past dances held during the year.

Elaborate decorations consisting of pink balloons, cherry blossoms, pink elephants, and bubbling champagne glasses are being planned, according to Terry Mitchem, the committee chairman.

Invalid Ballots

12

Total Ballots

443

LAW

Herbert Friedman 9

Alfred J. Kortum 2

Total Ballots

11

PHARMACY

Ted Lambert 18

Vija I. Uptis 14

Total Ballots

29

ENGINEERING

Dwaine Rogge 236

Gary Frenzel 223

Raymond Balfour 90

James Quick 50

Valid Ballots

301

Invalid Ballots

34

Total Ballots

335

TEACHERS

Richard Tempero 279

(Continued on Page 4.)

AAUP:

University Papers Hold Three Day Convention

Representatives of 34 of the nation's university presses were in Lincoln for the past three days at the annual meeting of the Association of American University Presses.

The University of Nebraska Press, of which Emily Schosberger is director-editor, was host for the convention. The convention began Sunday evening with the opening banquet at the Cornhusker hotel where Dr. Adam Breckenridge, dean of faculties welcomed the delegates.

The program will close this evening with a dinner, where Dr. David

Fellman, professor of political science at the University of Wisconsin and former University staff member, will speak on "The Censorship of Books."

A native of Omaha, Dr. Fellman received his Bachelor and Master's degrees from the University in 1929 and 1930 respectively.

The main topic discussed was the five-year Ford Foundation grants totaling $1,725,000 to 30 university presses. W. McNeil Lowry, rector in the humanities and arts, described the purposes of the program which is expected to enable the college presses to publish at least 250 more books during the five-year period.

New phases in the university publishing field were also discussed, including expanding field of subjects being explored by university publishers and new experiments in paper-back book series.

Ed Watkins of the University of Michigan Press called the profession of college press publishing rewarding and described the aim of most subsidized university presses to become independent and self-supporting through their own publishing activities.

Monday, Thompson Webb Jr., of the University of Wisconsin Press spoke on "Activities of the Donaldson of Yale University Press discussed 'The Eastern Group.'" University presses, all affiliated with colleges or universities, concentrate on the publication of scholarly and quality works.

Faculty Senate: Student Issue Put On Agenda

The Faculty Senate will consider Tuesday a motion tabled at its April 9 meeting concerning the voting privileges of student members serving on faculty committees.

The motion, which was introduced on April 29 by Donald Dyingner, chairman of the Faculty Senate Committee on Committee, includes the following recommendations:

(1) The Committee on Student Affairs be dropped as a Senate Committee and be reconstituted as a University Committee on Student Affairs, in accordance with the By-Laws and Rules of the Board of Regents.

(2) The present committees on Commencement and Honors Convocation be dropped as Senate Committees and be reorganized as a University Committee.

(3) The Senate Committee on Committees be required to define to the Chancellor, on his request, the areas of responsibility of these University committees as well as the membership of each; and make nominations of faculty members to fill vacancies on such committees in the same manner as Senate committees.

(4) These University Committees shall be directly responsible to the Chancellor, but shall make an annual report to the University Senate for informational purposes.

(5) On those University Committees which deal with Student matters, the students should be allowed to vote.

Other items of business on the Senate agenda for Tuesday include:

(1) Report of the Research Committee.

(2) Semi-annual report of the Liaison Committee.

(3) Recommendation from the Administrative Council that the deadline beyond which a student may drop a course in good standing, by filing of a "drop" slip in the Office of the Registrar, shall be the third Saturday before the termination of semester classes, exclusive of intervening vacations.

(4) Chancellor Hardin's remarks on the biennial budget.

Journalist To Discuss Egypt, Israel

Mrs. Bernadine Orloff, freelance journalist, will speak in the Union Ballroom today at 4 p.m., according to Bob Handy, activities director.

The topics on which Mrs. Orloff will speak are: "Israel: Past, Present and Future"; "Oral Portraits of Israeli Types"; and "Can Peace Between Israel and the Arabs be Achieved?"

Traveling to the Middle East twice, once in 1953 and the second time in 1956, she spent her time among the peoples of both Egypt and Israel.

While living among the people of Egypt and Israel, she gained an inside picture of the emotions and thoughts of the people who have made the recent news.

In addition to living among the people, Mrs. Orloff has interviewed statesmen and leaders on controversial subjects.

She believes strongly that a knowledge of how the people live, work and play may be the greatest source of truth about actual conditions of these countries.

Since her return in August of 1956, Mrs. Orloff has reported on her experiences to several audiences in the Mid-West and has done writing for the Kansas City Star and other publications.

Math Lecture

M. L. Keedy, instructor of mathematics, will discuss the topic "Some questions of Basic Order Relations, Part I" Tuesday at 3 p.m. in Room 209 of Burnett Hall.

NUCWA: Discussion On Travel Scheduled

The Nebraska University Council on World Affairs will hold a orientation session for students who intend to travel abroad this summer this evening at 7:30 p.m. in room 316 of the Union, according to Gary Rodgers, vice-president.

The meeting will feature a panel discussion by university students who have traveled abroad. On the panel are Steve Everett, Jerry Sellentin and Bob Krohn.

Biff Keyes, NUCWA president has announced that applications for the NUCWA board are available. The seven positions open on the board are membership and faculty relations, publicity and meetings, foreign student relationships, spring conference, fall foreign student retreat, United Nations programming and projects, and political affairs.

Application can be obtained from the NUCWA box in the basement of the Union or from any of the executive board members. The members of the executive board are: Biff Keyes, Gary Rodgers, Ron Warholowski, Darrina Turner and Bob Krohn.

Persons applying for board positions need not be NUCWA members, according to Keyes. The applications must be returned to members of the executive board by noon Friday and interviews will be held on Saturday morning, starting at 9 a.m. A list will be posted outside the NUCWA office, room 309 of the Union, for applicants to sign for a time to be interviewed, according to Keyes.

A mass meeting will be held next Tuesday of all members and representatives of the various houses on campus. The meeting will be a drive to create interest in the organization and gain members for the coming year.

CITY ELECTIONS

The polls will be open today from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. for the city of Lincoln's general elections. Students whose permanent address is in Lincoln are reminded to vote in this general elections.

Courtesy Lincoln Star

Historical Society

Gathered together at the Mississippi Valley Historical Association convention in Lincoln were Dr. Max Saville, professor of history at the University of Washington; Chancellor Clifford Hardin of the University, and Professor Thomas Clark of the University of Kentucky, President of the Association.

Nebraskan Photo

Pink Elephant Party

Kay Nielson and Charlene Anthony, two of the Cornhusker Beauty Queen finalists, look over one of the elephants of the Shrine Circus, getting ideas for the Union Pink Elephant Party. The event is scheduled for 9 p.m. The dance is free.