Cornhusker Beauty Queens Announced

The six 1957 Cornhusker beauty queens were revealed Tuesday by Linda Butman, 1957 editor of the Cornhusker.

The girls are Frances Van Houten, Reba Kinne, Rita Jelinek, Mary Hepperlen, Jody Carlson, and Elaine Eggen.

Frances Van Houten is a junior in Teachers College. She lives at Terrace Hall.

Reba Kinne, is a sophomore in Teachers College. She is a member of Union, Symphonic Band, Sigma Alpha Iota, music honorary, YWCA cabinet and affiliated with Chi Omega sorority.

A senior in Teachers College, Rita Jelinek, is a member of Red Cross and Pi Lambda Theta. She is also secretary of AWS, Nebraska Sweetheart finalist, an Activity Queen finalist, and Ideal Nebraska Coed finalist and a member of Pi Beta Phi.

Mary Hepperlen, a sophomore, is enrolled in the College of Arts and Sciences. She is a member of Home Economics of Builders and is affiliated with Delta Gamma Sorority.

Jody Carlson is a sophomore majoring in Home Economics. She is a member of Builders and is affiliated with Delta Gamma sorority.

The Cornhusker Beauty Queen finalists this year were, Charlene Anthony, freshman in Teachers College; Mary Jane Coe, freshman in Teachers College; Carolyn Torrence, sophomore in Teachers College; Sharon Quinn, freshman in Teachers College; Kay Nielson, sophomore in Teachers College; and Sandra Schlaebitz, junior in Arts and Sciences.

Miss Butman stated that she was very happy with the decision of the judges, and that she thought the choosing was fairer this year.

In the past, she said, only one judge picked the girls whereas this year two judges were used and they had a chance to talk with the girls at a dinner which the Cornhusker sponsored.

Last year's six Cornhusker beauty queens were Janice Carman, Shari Lewis, Lucette Makepeace, Sandra Stevens, Joan Pollard and Joan Riha.

The other six finalists were Carol Link, Arlene Hrbek, Anne Wade, Mary Ann Daly, Mary Keyes, and Carol Beattie.

Fraternity Trophies

Cindy Zschau, sophomore in Arts and Sciences, looks over the trophies which will be presented during the Inter-fraternity sponsored Greek Weekend. The chariot race, which will feature the sweetheart chosen by each fraternity, will result in the choosing of a "Sweetheart of the Greek Weekend." Each sweetheart will ride in a chariot pulled by the men of her sponsoring fraternity. The winner of the race will be declared the Sweetheart.

Renewal Of IFC Ball Scheduled For Saturday

The first IFC Ball in two years will be held, this Saturday at the Turnpike Ballroom from 8 to 12 p.m., according to Dick Youngs and Roger Rankin, IFC Ball committee men.

Two years ago the IFC Ball was abolished by the Office of Student Affairs for the violation of University rules governing social affairs. The IFC Ball was reinstated by the Faculty Committee on Student Affairs in March after the IFC had petitioned the Committee for the reinstatement of the dance.

The ball will feature the musical concepts of the Kansas City jazz artist, Jay McShann. The price of the tickets is $2 per couple, and the tickets are on sale in the Union.

Rankin explained that due to the limited size of the Turnpike Ballroom, the ticket sales will be limited to fraternity members and their dates.

Jay McShann, who calls Kansas City his home town, has played with Count Basie and other well known jazz bands. His own band has toured the nation and has been booked into top night clubs throughout the country.

His band "that rocks the blues" has been booked for the Ball because of the popular appeal of his type of jazz, Rankin explained.

Saturday afternoon from 1:15 p.m. to 2:15 p.m. a jam session will be held on the steps of the Union. The session will be free to everyone, and McShann will provide the music.

The Junior IFC is planning a chariot race between fraternities Saturday afternoon, according to Bob Krumme, Junior IFC president.

Each fraternity will enter a chariot in which the sweetheart chosen by that fraternity will ride.

The chariot will be pulled by two men from the fraternity, and the winning chariot will receive a trophy.

The sweetheart of the winning fraternity will be presented with a trophy and will be crowned "Sweetheart of Greek Weekend" at the Ball that evening. The IFC Banquet which is part of the weekend festivities is scheduled for Wednesday night at 7 p.m. at the Lincoln University Club.

Thurston Phelps, president of the IFC Board of Control, is scheduled to be the guest speaker according to John Glynn, Council secretary. The invocation will be given by the Rev. Mr. Donald Bliss, pastor of Methodist Student House.

Those attending the banquet will be past and present fraternity presidents; alumni advisors; members of the Board of Regents; members of the IFC Board of Control; IFC faculty advisors, Dr. Bertrand Schultz, Dr. William Gilliland and E. Orwig; Colonel C. J. Frankforter, Dean Breckenridge, Dean Colbert and Chancellor Hardin.

Student Privilege:

Faculty Senate Refuses Consideration On Voting

The Faculty Senate refused by one vote Tuesday to give consideration to a motion by J. P. Colbert, Dean of Student Affairs, to return the vote to students on faculty committees. The privilege was removed by the Faculty Senate in action taken on Dec. 13, 1955, but committees with student representation were not notified until last Jan. 18.

Earlier the Senate had refused by a vote of 55-42 to remove from the table a motion made at the April 9 Faculty Senate meeting by Donald Dysinger that would have reconstituted the Committee on Student Affairs as a University committee and given the students the right to vote on faculty committees.

Colbert's motion was in two parts. Part one provided that the committees on calendar, examinations, honors and commencement continue without students and that the Student Council should appoint two students to advise these committees.

The second part provided that the Committee on Student Affairs be reconstituted without student representatives but that student be retained on the Student Affairs subcommittees with the right to vote. Under the motion the Subcommittee on Student Publications would be constituted with the student members, one each from the sophomore, junior and senior classes chosen by the Student Council. The other two subcommittees, General Organizations and Social Affairs, would be constituted with two students chosen by the Student Council.

Colbert said after the meeting that he had originally planned to present his motion as a substitute motion for the motion of April 9. However, when the senate refused to remove that motion from the table, Colbert was forced to present his motion during new business. Since the motion had not been distributed to the faculty before the meeting for consideration, Professor Glenn Gray pointed out that the Senate had to give unanimous consent before the motion could be considered. When the vote was taken their was one dissenting faculty member.

Under these conditions the motion can be brought up again if copies are distributed to the faculty before the next meeting, scheduled tentatively for some time during final examinations, according to Chancellor Clifford Hardin.

In defending the student's ability to vote Colbert pointed out that the Committee on Student Affairs unanimously felt that students were making a real contribution to faculty committees.

"Our students as young adults are thinking straight," Colbert said. He then cited the Student Council Parking Appeals Board as an outstanding example of the contributions students can make to University administration. "It will be a cold, cold day in July before I reverse an action of that board," Colbert said.

President, UN:

Hungarian Action Petition Circulated By Students

A petition calling for positive action by the President of the United States and the United Nations on behalf of Hungary is being circulated by the five Hungarian students now studying on campus.

The petition, sponsored by six Hungarian organizations, asks that the president exert all possible power to bring about the enforcement of U. N. resolutions in regard to the Hungarian situation.

The American Hungarian Federation, the Greater Committee of New York Hungarian Churches and Societies, the Hungarian Freedom Fighters Federation, the Hungarian National Council, the Hungarian Revolutionary Parliament and the Action for Hungary committees sponsor the petition.

The gist of the document is as follows: "The Soviet Union must be stopped from destroying Hungary.

"In the interests of our own nation and children, we urge you, our President, to exert all your influence in bringing about the enforcement of the United Nations resolution in regard to Hungary.

More specifically, we want the General Assembly to hear the report of the United Nations Special Committee on Hungary and to Act upon it.

"We want the eloquent words of United States and United Nations spokesmen be translated into concrete action."

Students who wish to add their name to this proposal may send the above letter to:

American Hungarian Federation
Coordinate Relief,
1532 York Avenue,
New York 28, New York.

About fifty students have signed the petition thus far.

Mitchell Case Final Report Soon Ready

Dr. David Dow, chairman of the committee on Academic Privilege and Tenure, said Tuesday, that a report on the case of C. Clyde Mitchell former chairman of the Department of Agricultural Economics, would be made at a special meeting of the Faculty Senate to be held sometime before the end of the final exam period.

Dow stated that the Faculty Senate should have an opportunity to consider the report before it received wide-spread publicity.

The Committee on Academic Privilege and Tenure has been conducting an investigation into reports that Mitchell's academic freedom had been abridged. The Daily Nebraskan last spring published letters accusing the administration of abridging Dr. Mitchell's academic freedom.

Mitchell was relieved of his post while on a leave of absence in Italy last spring. "Outside pressure" was cited as the reason for Mitchell being relieved.

Corn Cobs

The annual Corn Cob Smoker will be held Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in Room 316 of the Union, according to Gordon Warner, president. The purpose of the smoker is to familiarize students with the activities and responsibilities of Corn Cobs, Warner stated.

'High Quality Show'

Howell Production Of Harvey Said 'Due For A Prize'

By DICK SHUGRUE
Editorial Editor

Every once-in-a-season a theatrical group comes up with a play which is not only a good piece of entertainment as a script but which is presented on the stage in such a way as to make a humid evening unnoticed.

That was the case Tuesday evening when the University Theater presented "Harvey" on the Howell Memorial Theater stage.

Harvey won a Pulitzer Prize when it was first produced in New York in 1944 and I believe is due for some sort of a prize from the University Theater.

Versatility might stand in the way of any awards for this play however. I'm referring to the relatively well-balanced schedule of plays which the Theater has presented this year. In other words, because "Harvey" is in a class by itself it is difficult to compare it with "Lear," for instance. But the quality of the performance made this show.

Certainly there was the to-be-expected "slowness" in the first scene of the first act. I was immediately impressed by Stephanie Sherdeman who plays the sister of Elwood P. Dowd, friend of Harvey.

She looked the part in the first place; the makeup took care of that. But in addition — and more important — I got the impression she enjoyed playing her role.

The stumbling block of the first act was Dixie Lee Helms' portrayal of Myrtle Maye, the daughter of Stephanie.

Miss Helms, a newcomer to the University Theater stage, didn't seem adjusted to it. She seemed mechanical and inconsistent.

But Roy Willey — the friend of the "six foot one and a half" rabbit named Harvey — popped up in the first scene and made friends throughout the audience.

Laughs have been hard to come by in the University Theater this season. Tuesday night however, the cast of "Harvey" let go with some delightful lines which, I feel, made the audience radiate with the warmth which Elwood P. "felt."

The line which I think was most significant went something like this, Elwood speaks to some of his innumerable friends: "I wrestled with reality for 40 years before I won out."

And so it goes. Elwood, a drinker of sorts, and a man completely out of sorts with the crabby world of most humans has teamed up with this rabbit (equally delightful) and — but just about everyone knows the story of Harvey.

James Baker, who plays the psychiatrist, Dr. Cumley, is very enjoyable. He finally sees Harvey and we get a view of what a psychiatrist would say if he were lying on the couch. Baker is funny. He adds a great deal to the overall production.

Contrast is important in the play. There certainly must be a certain delineation between those in and out of touch with the world around us. John Crowell as Wilson, the keeper, is the typical "inside" man. He can't seem to see into any of the feelings of those around the stage in a manner befitting a keeper.

Flat characters are all around you in the play. And they seem to be the "inside" type, too. For example, Keith Williams, who plays the young doctor, Pat Paterson, who plays the nurse, are more interested in winks at one another than they are in what's

Alpha Tau Alpha Chooses Officers

Alpha Tau Alpha, professional honorary fraternity for men majoring in Vocational Education, elected officers at a meeting last Thursday evening.

The men elected officers are as follows: Newell Kollath, president; Richard Wischmeier, Vice-president; Leland Witter, Secretary; Irlce Stagemeyer, Treasurer; Eldon Ervin, news reporter; Don Kuhn, Sentinel; Bill Coffey, Ag Exec representative and Professor M. G. McCreight, advisor.

Following the election James Wall, Vice-president of the National Vocational Agriculture Teachers Association, presented a short talk on professionalism.

making Elwood tick. But it's because Elwood is so kind that the young doctor meets his Waterloo and — we guess — gets together with the nurse.

Clancy Croft as the Mayhoffish judge does a fine job as the typical "old family friend."

The scenery department, under the management of Lyle Wathier, is to be commended for the swift handling and the solid look of the two set play. Harry Stiver, who designed the play, did a good job of getting both sets onto the small Howell stage.

Dr. Margaret Servine in her second University Theater production, has scored a hit, I feel. There's nothing which would be harder than to sit through nearly three hours in an auditorium if there wasn't a true diversion from how you feel. This play keeps the attention, keeps the audience loose from laughter and, all-in-all, is a fine piece of spring-time entertainment.

Chaplains To Meet Tomorrow Night; Ben White Speaker

The University Chaplains group will meet Thursday at 8:00 p.m. in the Union.

Chaplain Ben White will be the guest speaker.

He will speak to the organization on his experiences as a fraternity chaplain and on some of the problems of mutual concern to the chaplains of the organized houses. He will also speak of the problems he now faces as a military chaplain.

Research:

Sigma Xi Initiates Sixty-Six

The Nebraska chapter of Sigma Xi, national honorary scientific society, initiated 47 associate members and 19 full members who have shown "original research in science."

Dr. Rufus Moore, associate professor of botany, spoke on "Experiments on Plants that Produce the Insecticide Rotenone."

Twenty-two undergraduates who were announced at the joint Sigma Xi-Pi Beta Kappa meeting in April were given associate memberships.

These graduate students who will receive degrees in June or August and have shown marked excellence in their field were given associate memberships:

Ronald Bambury, Bernard Beber, Frederic Boucher, Gerald Brommer, Louis Brandhorst, Clyde Brashier, Waldeen Buss, Merwyn Davidson, Jerald Dirks, Stewart Engison, Richard Green, Fazloah Haghiri, Robert Johnson, Ronald Kezuka, John Kronschabel, Paul Liebelt, Robert Marple, Donald Plucknett, Arvin Quist, John Rawlings, Gideon Schaeffer, Raymond Shipp, Fred Van Vleck, Paul Wray and Vern Youngman.

These graduate students, staff, and alumnus whose results of their research have been published or they will receive Doctor of Philosophy degrees in June or August were given full membership:

John Brandenburg, Clarke Brooke, Jr., Kenneth Cook, Paul Creger, John David, Lorne Donovan, Albert Flowerday, Richard Gentry, Charles Hayes, Henry Jedlinski, Norman Miller, Warren Monson, Alan Moore, Heinz Schreiner, alumni—Armond Yanders and Warren Caldwell; and staff members, Glenn Downey, Jerome Miller, and Norman Underdahl, all assistant professors.

Heesacker To Head Military Honorary

Phalanx, professional and honorary military, fraternity, elected Larry Heesacker Commander of next semester at a meeting held

Other officers include: Keith Turner, Lieutenant Commander; Eldon Beavers, Adjutant; Joe Volf, Finance Officer and Alan Rosen, Public Information Officer. Phalanx is composed of members of all Advanced ROTC units at the University. Any present Advanced cadet, or any sophomore applying for the Advanced Corps may contact any members of Phalanx to obtain information about the fraternity.

Rain Expected To Continue Wednesday

The cloudy weather is scheduled to continue through tomorrow

Says the Weather Bureau. The temperatures are expected to change little. The low is expected to be near 50 and the high is expected to reach 70 degrees.

The high temperature last year at this time was 69 and the low temperature was 46.

Precipitation to date this month is two and thirteen hundredths inches; the normal precipitation for this time in one and thirty-hundredths inches.

The skies are expected to be only partly cloudy and rain is not forecast, but the cloudiness could very well become widespread and the rains could then come.
