AF Talks To Wives Scheduled

Wives of Air Force ROTC students who are scheduled to receive commissions in June at the University had a chance to ask question Tuesday evening about 'what they're getting into."

The University's Air ROTC unit began its first of four two hour classes for wives of cadets.

Entirely new on the campus, the Air Force unit initiated the classes so that the wives could ask questions "concerning Air Force living in general, so as to better prepare them for their tour of Early registration for the sum- mornings. The reason for this is duty with their husbands."

The remaining classes are: May 16-Air Force Living: U. S. and Overseas Bases, conducted by
