The Outside World:

House 'Junks' Soil Bank

Secretary of Agriculture Benson returned to Capitol Hill to salvage what he can of his bobtailed soil bank program.

In a political revolt sparked by Democratic foes of the Eisenhower administration's farm policies, the House voted 192-187 to kill Benson's yearling plan to subsidize surplus crop reduction this year.

The House action was a blow to the administration's program for reducing farm surpluses. It found Republicans as well as Democrats blaming Benson for what they called waste and mismanagement. In the wake of the House uprising, Benson was summoned to appear before the House Agricultural Committee to propose entirely new farm legislation. Nebraska farm spokesmen generally feel that the soil bank program should be given more chance to work before it is scuttled as the House has voted.

They also agree that it needs to be strengthened to do an effective

But among state politicians there is no accord on the House action in denying funds to operate the soil bank in 1958. State Democratic Chairman Willard Townsend of Lincoln lays the blame on Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson. The secretary "has accomplished what he set out to do; for the most part, he has destroyed the farm program as it was without offering any solution to the problem," Townsend said.

Submarine Launched

Under Secretary of the Navy, William Franke launched what he called "the first of the 'assembly line' " atomic submarines, the USS

Franke said the launching of the Skate, third of the nuclear powered undersea craft, "marks the end of the era of research and prototype development."

The other two submarines, the Nautilus and Seawolf, also were built at the yards.

The Skate, said Franke, "will soon be considered the conventional attack submarine."

U.S. Loses Opportunity

loves to cut loose and cover the miles!

If you're looking for a real "escape artist," a car that loves to step out and get away from it all-well, it just happens that Chevy was born with that urge.

If there ever was a car that loved to cut loose and cover the miles, it's this one. Yet it's so easy to handle that it even makes city traffic seem a bit lighter and parking places a bit bigger.

Chevy's pretty easygoing out on the highway too. Not pokey. Far from it. You find, for example, there isn't a hill around that can make it breathe hard before another good driving day goes by.

-not with Chevrolet's high-performance V8 on the pulling end. You've got up to 245* horsepower here for the biggest helping of driving pleasure found in the low-price field!

Chevy's new Positraction rear axle (optional at extra cort) adds still more pleasure. It delivers greater power to the wheel that grips, not the wheel that slips. You have surer control and better traction on any road surface.
