

University Radio Plans Innovation

Plans are being made to expand the audience of radio KNUS.

"Up to now the radio audience has been confined chiefly to those who live in the dorms but has subscribed to Program Service beginning Oct. 15. This will expand its audience from a present total of about 3000 to a total of about 5,000," Pete Laughlin, a staff member, said.

Program Service is offered to subscribers who want background music or popular music. Most of its customers are local stores, however. Most fraternities and societies also subscribe.

Two other factors will enlarge the radio audience. The Agriculture College has built new dormitories for married students and have wired them to receive KNUS. The second factor is that the programs have been scheduled for two hours later than in the past.

"We should be able to get more listeners this year than we did in the past. We begin broadcasting when most of the classes are out. More kids can hear us now," Laughlin said.

A new feature which will be emphasized on the station is the "New Sound." Disc jockeys will limit the amount of talking which they do on the programs, and singing commercials and singing weather will be used.

"As far as I know we're the only station west of Omaha which has the "New Sound," Pete Laughlin added.

The "New Sound" is not only an innovation on this campus, but no other college station in the nation has used it before.

The station breaks will feature campus celebrities such as Miss Nebraskas.

Union To Have Cinemascope Movies Soon

Cinemascope may soon be seen in the Union on Sunday nights.

Due to increasing attendance at the Sunday night movies plans are being made to install a cinemascope screen by next semester or at least by next fall.

According to Bob Handy, director of activities, extra chairs were needed to seat the Sunday night audience. Handy considered this due partly to a better program of movies and more effective publicity.

Major events held at the Union this fall included the Chancellor's reception, the Chancellor's faculty party, and the Frosh Hop. Between 800 and 900 students attended the Chancellor's reception September 13, showing a drop of about 600 from last year. There was a turnout of 1000 students at the Frosh Hop September 14, and some 1100 faculty members were present for the Chancellor's faculty party held in the Union September 16.

Handy said some 100 new workers have signed up for Union committees and he expects to have about 300 new workers after AWS Activities Mart.

People Gone By:

Past Reveals Many Changes On Campus

Did you know that in 1935 the governor of Nebraska was R. L. Cochran? Also in that year Nebraska's Chancellor was E. A. Burnett, the dean of Women was A. H. Heppner and the dean of men was T. J. Thompson.

Another fact which was true in 1935, was the fact that there were 32 fraternities on campus compared to 24 on campus today.

Fraternities represented then but not now are Alpha Sigma Phi, Chi Phi, Delta Sigma Delta, Delta Sigma Lambda, Delta Theta Phi, Lambda Chi Alpha, Phi Alpha Kappa, Phi Sigma Kappa, Pi Kappa Alpha and Xi Psi Phi.

Out of 19 sororities represented on campus in 1935, there are 15 remaining today. Sororities that are today non-existent are Alpha Delta Theta, Delta Zeta, Phi Mu and Phi Omega Pi.

Innocents, men's senior honorary, was founded in 1905 but in 1936 their selection of new Innocents changed.

All junior and senior men were allowed to vote for five juniors. Men chosen to take positions in the society were selected from 25 men who received the greatest numbers of votes out of the junior class.

Mortar Board, women's senior honorary, also was founded in 1905 with the Black Masque chapter and in 1918 Mortar Board was founded nationally.

Their selection of MB's was based on scholarship, personality and activities. Thirty girls were chosen from the junior class by a vote of all senior women. Mortar Boards then chose the girls (five-to 20 girls) each year to be

Lincoln Community Concert

A non-profit organization to be known as the Lincoln Community Concert Association has recently been formed by Lincoln citizens. The purpose of this organization will be to bring the world's finest musicians and musical ensembles to Lincoln for a price much lower than one would ordinarily pay.

Three University of Nebraska students who are going to assist in handling the ticket sales on campus for the concerts are, from left to right: Morgan Holmes, assistant chairman of the University division, Marilyn Heck, chairman of the University division, and Sally Downs, one of the 60 student salesmen who will canvass the campus. Students will be able to obtain tickets from these salesmen for $4. A more detailed story concerning the five performances this season will be carried in tomorrow's Nebraskan.

AUF To Begin Fall Drive November 5

The All University Fund drive will be held from November 5 through November 19, according to Art Weaver, AUF president.

Dates for the drive were erroneously printed in the Daily Nebraskan last week. The AUF fall drive will support one international charity, three national charities and one local charity.

The five charities are World University Service, the American Heart Association, the National Association for Mental Health, the National Multiple Sclerosis Society and the Lancaster Association for Retarded Children.

Charities to receive funds are chosen on the basis of a student poll taken each spring. The agencies are investigated and approved by the Better Business Bureau and the National Community Chest office.

World University Service, which will receive 25 per cent of the amount collected, helps needy university students throughout the world. For the past three years AUF has been the largest single contributor to WUS among mid-western universities.

Mental Health, Heart and Multiple Sclerosis will each receive 20 per cent of the donations while LARC School will receive 10 per cent. The remaining five per cent will be used for emergency aid and AUF expenses.

AUF begins its drive in the fall with a mass solicitation of students in which approximately 300 student volunteer workers participate. The drive continues with the AUF Auction in December and the solicitation of faculty members in the spring.

Safety Program Installed

University instructors will give instruction to city officials in a safety engineering program.

The instructions for departmental heads and city employees are part of a city effort to reduce compensation insurance losses.

City Co-ordinator James Mallon informed the City Council that Lincoln has had no safety program for 15 years. The program will include instructions for departmental heads and city employees to be given by University instructors.

The six-week courses, including some two mornings each week, will handle about 25 employees each session.

Curtis Elliott, professor insurance, told the Council in a letter that "the program will more than pay its cost in the future in lower insurance rates."

Mallon, City Atty. Jack Pace and other city officials are now investigating proposals for a revised workmen's compensation insurance plan in Lincoln.

PR Smoker Postponed

The annual smoker of Co P-2 of the National Society of Pershing Rifles has been postponed because of difficulty in securing the film, "The Highest Ideals".

The smoker will be held in the Military and Naval Sciences building Thursday at 7:30 p.m. In addition to the movie, there will be free cigars and cigarettes and free refreshments.

Daily Nebraskan File Depicts Past News

The Daily Nebraskan has been publishing the news around campus for almost sixty years. Have you ever wondered what has happened in the past on any certain day? Let us glance back to see what has previously happened on the first day of October.

Twenty years ago football enthusiasm ran high on campus and nearly every article in the Rag pertained to the forthcoming game between Nebraska and Minnesota. The front page contained an editorial which declared that over 500 students had "lousy" seats for the game while any bum in the streets of Minneapolis could get a seat on the 50-yard line.

The cry seemed to be "Biff Bierman!" in that 1937 paper. Bierman, the Gopher coach, had his name in monstrous headlines as well as be-

Kosmet Klub

Completed drafts of fraternity Kosmet Klub skits must be turned in at the Phi Delta Theta House before 5:30 p.m. Tuesday in order to be eligible to participate. Final drafts will be due Oct. 15, Keith Smith, skit chairman, said.

Faculty Senate

The Faculty Senate meeting will include reports of the Committee on Student Loans, a Committee on Committees election and election of secretary of the senate.

The meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, at 4 p.m. in the Love Memorial Library.

Snyder Promoted To Associate Dean

Miss Helen Snyder, Assistant Dean of Women, has been promoted to associate dean in the Division of Student Affairs. She replaces Miss Marjorie Johnston who will now devote full time to the scholarship program.

When Miss Snyder joined the University staff in 1949 she was director of counseling and activities at the Women's Residence Halls. She was appointed assistant Dean of Women in 1950.

The change was recommended by Dean J. P. Colbert of the Division of Student Affairs.

"The scholarship program has been growing by leaps and bounds. We need someone to be in charge of it full time, and Miss Johnston has been devoting full time to it," Colbert said.

Corporations and private individuals have been building the scholarship fund up to the point where it is no longer a side issue on the campus. It has taken on such proportions that where a committee once could handle the scholarships in a meeting or two it now takes the full time of a staff and there must be somebody in charge of it, Dean Colbert said.

Such corporations as General Electric, DuPont, and General Motors have made it a practice to provide funds for scholarships. New blood is needed in industry more than it has ever been needed in the past.

In his state of the University speech last Thursday, Chancellor Hardin stressed the fact that now more than ever the business and professional worlds are demanding trained young people.

Corporations have set up special scholarships to provide the trained young people. Most of the corporations require these people to work for them after they have completed their university training.

Red Cross

The Red Cross mass meeting which was scheduled for Tuesday has been postponed until October 22, according to Kay Krueger, president.

The meeting was changed in order to permit freshman workers who sign up at the AWS Activity Mart to attend the meeting.

Ag Union Activities Workers To Meet

The annual Mass Meeting for Ag Union activities workers will be held Oct. 8 from 5:30 to 7 p.m. in the TV Lounge of the College activities Building.

The meeting will include a buffet supper, an orientation period and entertainment.

Chris Johannsen and publicity committee members are in charge of arrangements for the event.

Many businesses have taken up the habit of providing scholarships for worthy students because it aids in their public relations. Many of the smaller universities in the nation have been kept alive by gifts from corporations in the form of scholarships.

Boeing in Wichita has a unique setup. They provide scholarships for the University of Wichita.

The Board of Regents changed Miss Johnston's title from associate dean for women to associate dean, and Mr. Frank Hallgren's from associate dean for men to associate dean.

Mr. Hallgren will continue caring for the general welfare of men students.

The regents also appointed John

Latenser and Sons, Omaha Architects, to prepare plans for extending the steam lines at the College of Medicine to supply the adjoining Children's Rehabilitation area now under construction and for extending and paving a drive through the college of Medicine campus.

Social Hour To Highlight YR Meeting

The University Young Republican Club will begin their activities Thursday evening with their first meeting and social hour of the semester at 7:30 p.m. in room 315 of the Union.

This meeting will be the first of the club's bi-weekly meetings.

A brief outline of the clubs proposed activities for the coming year will be given by Bob Krohn, president of the organization. The meeting will be followed by an informal social hour and refreshments will be served.

New members may sign up at this meeting, according to Krohn. Membership dues for the club, including national dues, amount to one dollar. Krohn pointed out that members need not be of voting age, and that all full-time University students are eligible for membership. He further adds that this is the ideal time, while in an intellectual environment for citizens to obtain some political experience.

New members will be encouraged to sign up for committee preferences at this meeting. YR committees include: membership, programs, first voters, publicity, and education.

Krohn said, "As Young Republicans we believe America is a great nation for among other things its citizens look to the future and young people are assuming an ever increasing role in the determination of today's policies." "As a step to further inform the citizen as a voter the club will form a first voters committee. This can be extremely beneficial to the nation by having an informed public and by getting more people to take an active part in their government."

Staples Elected GSD President

Robert Staples, assistant professor of entomology at the Ag College, was elected president of the Nebraska chapter of Gamma Sigma Delta.

Other officers elected were John Matsushima, associate professor of animal husbandry, vice president; Mogens Plum, associate professor of dairy husbandry, treasurer; and C. O. Gardner, associate professor of agronomy, secretary. Gamma Sigma Delta is an agricultural honorary for seniors, graduate students, alumni and faculty members. It emphasizes high scholarship among students.
