Survey Report Shows Over 175 Cases Of Flu

By CAROLE FRANK
Copy Editor

There are approximately 175 to 200 cases of flu in the University organized houses and dorms which were contacted Tuesday in a survey conducted by the Daily Nebraskan.

Of these cases there are 17 students in Student Health; others have gone home because of the flu. Some students contacted are living as residents in the houses and others are isolated in private rooms.

Besides the University proper, University High School which is situated on the Lincoln Campus closed Tuesday noon because of 36 reported flu cases in the school of 225 pupils.

University High is scheduled to reopen Monday. Ordinarily the school would have been closed Thursday and Friday for Teachers Convention.

Houses were asked to report the numbers of cases of flu, whether or not these students had been given shots, and if other members of their residence had flu shots.

Selleck Quadrangle reported at least 50 cases today out of 2000 students. Seventy-five students have had vaccine shots. Four of the students with flu are in Student Health. "In the last few days the flu rate has doubled," Alfred Calvert, resident advisor, commented. Also he reported some of the boys have had fevers as high as 105 degrees.

Residence Halls for Women reported 11 cases out of almost 500 girls with two in Student Health. Mrs. Hanson, director of the Halls, said that the girls are being taken care of in their rooms by house-mothers and counselors. If any of the girls become extremely sick or retain a high fever, they are sent to Student Health.

Fraternities contacted reported a total of 47 cases. Aracia, Delta Sigma Phi, Beta Sigma Psi, Phi Delta Theta, and Delta Upsilon reported no members sick with the flu. Other houses reported from one to eight cases.

Students with temperatures should stay in bed for 24 hours after the fever breaks. After contacting the flu, persons should be careful and take care of themselves so they won't get reoccurrences of the flu and other after effects, Fuenning stated.

Treatment of initial phases of a flu epidemic in student's own quarters is under supervision of an already established and oriented student liaison group, with visits by the public health nurse, Fuenning said.

Dr. Fuenning stresses that persons contacting the flu should immediately report this to their health chairman so they may be taken care of.

Students with temperatures should stay in bed for 24 hours after the fever breaks. After contacting the flu, persons should be careful and take care of themselves so they won't get reoccurrences of the flu and other after effects, Fuenning stated.

Fuenning said that NU is experiencing an increase in the number of flu cases and whether there will be further increase remains to be seen.

It doesn't seem that we could avoid an epidemic if the city has one, Fuenning said.

Monday at this time there were 35 cases and now there are 157 cases reported on campus, an increase of 50 per cent, Fuenning said.

No reports are back as yet on the number of Asian flu cases at NU and no shots are available. A shipment is supposed to be ready around the first of November.

In the event severe cases are encountered beyond the capacity of the 25-bed student health center, emergency wards would be set up in the girls' and boys' dormitories.

According to Dr. George Underwood, city-county health director, there will be "no positive proof" before Wednesday but indications are that Lincoln is in for an epidemic.

An Asian flu epidemic could hit 18 to 20 per cent of 22,500 of Lincoln's estimated 125,000 population in just four weeks, he said.

However, the percentage hit could be much higher, says State Health Director Dr. E. A. Rogers, if it strikes in a closely knit group such as a college.

KK Tryout Practice

Members of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity are shown practicing for the Kosmet Klub tryouts, which are being held this week. The ATO skit is entitled "The

Baehner and Wayne Gunderson. The KK show is to be held Nov. 22 in the Pershing Auditorium.

KK Curtain Acts

Any organized house which desires to enter a curtain act in the annual Kosmet Klub Fall Revue which will be held Nov. 22 in the Pershing Auditorium should contact Dwain Cliney at the Theta Xi house by Saturday.

Tryouts will be arranged at a later date, Cliney said. This year the number of curtain acts has been reduced from four to three in order to provide for a better show and to insure more competitive spirit, Cliney added.

"What Every Woman Knows" To Open NU Theater Season

By GARY RODGERS
Copy Editor

The University Theater will open its first performance of the season tonight in Howell Memorial Theater at 8 p.m.

The play, "What Every Woman Knows" promises to be one of the Theater's best.

Dallas Williams will direct the talented student actors in this first production. The play is a comedy by J. M. Barrie which relates the secret role that women have at the most prosperous marriages, but of which their spouses are usually unaware. The plot is of a husband who discovers during a frustration with a beautiful countess that his demure and modest wife is really the spark and spirit of his success.

"This is a difficult show. The dialect - Scotch - is difficult, the characters are subtle and it is hard for Americans to catch the flavor of the Scottish people," according to Williams.

The action of the play is set in Scotland around the turn of the century, and is told in the typical Barrie whimsical fashion. Barrie himself was a peasant who wrote as he pleased. This play is one of his best.

Safari Lady

Mrs. David Bize, wife of the famous big game hunter and guide David Bize, displays a hat she carried on a safari to Africa. Mrs. Bize, who has traveled extensively throughout the world, will speak 4 p.m. Thursday in room 215 of the Union for the Talks and Topics Program. Mrs. Bize's topic will be "My Lady Goes On A Safari" and will cover her experiences on her husband's trip around the world in 1954. The trip included visits to 23 countries.

"This will be a very interesting play and the people who have been cast are capable of doing a good job," Dr. Williams said.

Dr. Williams said the play, the first of J. M. Barrie's works to be produced at the University Theater in at least 14 years, is a warm drama in which "a man grows up."

The members of the cast in this production are all highly capable actors and this combination of cast and the play itself will make the performance an entirely enjoyable one.

Dr. Charles Lowm is in charge of the technical end of the play. He comes to the University from a variety of experience at the University of Georgia, Drake University, Louisiana State University and Black Hills Teachers College in South Dakota. This is his first year at the University and "What Every Woman Knows" is his first play on this campus.

Dr. Lowm noted that the "warmth of the play is hard to catch in scenery," and stated that it "presented some interesting problems."

KNUS Radio To Broadcast From Howell

The opening of the Howell Memorial Theater's 1957-58 season tonight will be handled in a near-professional manner by the theater department and the staff of KNUS, campus radio station.

First nighters will be interviewed for direct broadcast over the student operated KNUS by Al Anderson. This will be broadcast one-half hour before curtain time and again after the first act of "What Every Woman Knows." In addition to being broadcast for the regular audience, it will be heard on speakers in the theater and in its lounge.

West To Host KNUS Program

A new program will make its debut on KNUS tonight at 8:30 p.m. when John West hosts "That's Entertainment."

West, an ATO sophomore, from Chicago will present news and views on the entertainment world and music from Broadway and motion picture productions on this 30 minute program.

Chairman of the Union Film Committee, West is considered a near expert on happenings in the entertainment business.

The first program will be a tribute to George Gerstwin.

AUF Donation: Two National Charities Receive Large Proportion

By Linda Wall
AUF Assistant

This is the second article in the series, "Where Your Money Goes," concerning contributions collected by the All University Fund. The articles will explain each of the charities that AUF will donate to this year, and the various purposes the charity serves.

Forty per cent of the money collected during the All University Fund drive will be given to two national charities, the American Heart Association, and the National Multiple Sclerosis Society. Twenty per cent will be given to each of these organizations.

The American Heart Association attacks heart disease through four major programs: Research, Professional Education, Public Education, and Community Service. Emphasis is placed on research in order to try to discover the causes and cures of heart disease. Heart and circulatory diseases are the leading cause of death in the United States. They cause half of all the deaths, more than 800,000 in the United States each year. The Heart Association relies entirely on voluntary contributions of funds and activity to carry forward its work in all corners of the United States.

Multiple Sclerosis is a crippling disease of young adults for which there is no cure as yet. It has been termed the "most serious disease of young adults," striking mainly between the ages of 20 and 40.

Multiple Sclerosis chapters support out-patient clinics throughout the nation for diagnosis and alleviation of symptoms. Funds are used for research into the causes and relief of the disease, as well as for clinics and patient aid.

Research projects totaling more than half a hundred have been financed by the National Multiple Sclerosis Society.

Money given to Heart and Multiple Sclerosis will go to the Nebraska divisions of these national charities to be used for research and cure within the state.
