

Sooner Win String Broken At 47

Bufs Blank Cornhuskers, 27-0; Scarlet Falls To Loop Celler

The University of Nebraska Cornhuskers, in order to stave off a cellar finish in the Big Eight Conference, met the Colorado Buffaloes Saturday in hopes to raise their loop record but the Buffs, led by the nation's top rusher, Bob Stransky, had different ideas and stopped the Huskers, 27-0.

Jerry Wheeler kicked off for the Scarlet into the arms of Bob Stransky on the Buff's 6 yard line. Bob ran the ball back to the 35 before being brought down. For the first three downs, the Husker line held and Dowler punted to Nebraska's 24. The Huskers could do nothing either, however, and Tolly booted to the Colorado 5 but Stransky stepped the ball back up their 24 yard line.

At this point the Colorado scoring machine set into action and promptly marched 74 yards for the tally. The drive was capped by an off-tackle play that pushed Bob into scoring territory to account for the TD.

Indorf's kick split the uprights to put the Buffs in front, 7-0. Colorado kicked off to the Huskers but the home team could not make any yardage against the stout Buffalo line and had to kick to the Colorado 24. This proved to be the beginning of another six-point run for the Dal Ward club as the first string hustled the ball to the Husker 35 before relenting to the second unit of the neighboring state.

The second string was just as hard to compete against, if not harder, for the Huskers, however. Led by smoothy quarterback Howard Cook, the Buffalo squad literally ran over the Scarlet defense and drove to the seven where Cook gathered in the ball and skirted right end for another tally. Cook's kick was good to give the visitors a 14-0 lead.

With three and one-half minutes remaining in the half Tolly punted to Stransky on the 11. A clipping penalty set the Bisons back in the shadow of their own goal posts to the one. The Buffs didn't stop at getting the ball into midfield and pushed to the Husker 20. The 99-yd. push was capped on the ensuing play when Howard Cook flipped an aerial to Boyd Dowler for the TD with 10 seconds left in the half.

The third period saw the ending of the Colorado scoring. After exchanging punts a few times the own 43 yard line where they began Bisons ended with the ball on their final pay dirt drive. The big push was capped by Herbst skirt of right end for the TD for 10 yards. The PAT was good at Colorado led 27-0 to cease their scoring for the afternoon.

The Husker offense could not get rolling and only penetrated into the Buff territory four times but each time the bid was stopped before it could be turned into a scoring threat.

In the final minute the Huskers broke through the Colorado defense and almost sprung Jerry Brown who was instrumental in the Husker offense but Brown was stopped on the 35 of Colorado to end the threat and the game.

Next week the Scarlet will host the Oklahoma Sooners in Memorial Stadium to end the 1957 grid season.

Notre Dame's Dick Lynch Scores History Making Touchdown

Fighting Irish Upsets Sooners 7-0; K-State Upends Missouri, 23-21

Two major upsets highlighted Saturday's football action in the Big Eight as mighty Oklahoma fell 7-0 to the "Fighting Irish" of Notre Dame and cellar dwelling Kansas State upset Missouri 23-21.

Coach Terry Brennan's Irish would not be denied Saturday as they halted Oklahoma's record-breaking winning streak at 47 games. The men from South Bend completely dominated the statistics as they racked up 17 first downs and 248 yards while limiting the Sooners to 9 first downs and 145 yards.

Notre Dame's attack was paced by 210-pound fullback Nick Pietrosante, who accounted for more than one third of their yardage. Time after time Pietrosante's bull-like smashes into the Sooner line picked up the necessary yardage to keep Notre Dame's drives moving.

Notre Dame's winning touchdown came in the final period as the Irish drove 80 yards to paydirt. Pietrosante's line smashes moved the Irish to a first down on the Sooner four yard line. The stout-hearted Oklahomans tried valiantly to halt the drive as they had done on two other occasions earlier in the game, but this time Notre Dame refused to be stopped short of victory. For three plays the Sooner linemen held, but on the last down Halfback Dick Lynch took a quick pitchout and circled his own right end for the final three yards. End Monte Stickles converted.

The Sooners tried desperately to avert defeat as they moved the ball to the Irish 30-yard line. However, on the last play of the game a desperation pass was intercepted by the Irish in the end zone.

Meanwhile over in Columbia Kansas State shocked twenty thousand fans by unleashing a tremendous ground game good for 410 yards to upset Missouri, 23-21.

Halfback Benn Grosse, who booted a last-minute field goal to defeat Nebraska last year, supplied the winning margin as he kicked a 13-yard field goal in the third period.

A Tiger fumble deep in Missouri territory set up the first touchdown for Kansas State. Quarterback Les Krull bulled over from the one to score the six-pointer and Don Zaenik converted to give the Wildcats a 7-0 lead.

Missouri's Hank Kuhlman, who was instrumental in keeping the Tigers in the game with his brilliant play, returned the kickoff to the K-State 20. Two plays later Quarterback Phil Snowden scored from the 15 and Guard Charlie Rash converted.

Missouri scored the other touchdowns on drives of 52 yards and 80 yards and Rash converted each time.

Colorado's Boyd Dowler Scores Third Buff TD

Sooner Hoop Squad Rated Sixth; Smithless Mizzou Cellar Bound

By BOB MARTEL
Sports Editor

Our faith in Jerry Bush and the Cornhusker basketball squad has led us to predict that they will finish ahead of both Oklahoma and Missouri this season.

Although the Sooners have Joe King and Don Schwall returning, we are nevertheless installing them in sixth position in the Conference.

King, Schwall Return

King, 6-6 1/2 center, had a great season in 56-57 averaging 16 points a game. Schwall, 6-6, in his sophomore season last year was both hot and cold. He averaged 5.9 points a game.

Outside of King and Schwall, no other Sooners have been set as starters.

Junior Bob Stoermer, 6-8, is the leading candidate for the center position if coach Doyle Parrack decides to move King to one of the forward slots. Stoermer had a 6.2 average last season.

Bill Ashcraft, 6-6 returnee, is also in the running for the starting pivot post assignment.

Parrack is counting heavily on sophomore Dennis Price, 6-1, who once scored 43 points in a State championship game. Price may be a starter at guard.

Other Sooner returnees include: Gene Hudson, 6-3; Dick Anderson, 6-4; Max Claiborne, 6-0; Larry Ivan, 6-3; Joe Jones, 6-2; Art Keil, 5-10; Bruce Medley, 6-1 and Monte Simpson, 6-4.

Outstanding Sophs

In addition to Price, other outstanding sophomores are Bill Hammond, 6-6; Jack Marsh, 6-7; Floyd Sharkey, 6-3; Jack Haskins, 6-2; Ray Lewis, 6-3 and Roger Potts, 6-4.

Should Schwall give Oklahoma a steady game and some of the tall sophomores pan out Oklahoma could be real tough, at least tougher than last season.

Missouri

The loss of Lionel "Night Train" Smith will be sorely felt by the Missouri cage squad this season. Smith led the Tigers last season with a 21 point per game average.

Center Chuck Duren, 6-7, will sit out the first semester and will be replaced by Al Abram, 6-5, who averaged 5.6 while playing both center and forward last season.

Roger Egelhoff, 6-3, will probably team at the forward position with sophomore Cliff Talley, 6-6. Egelhoff averaged 6.8 last season while Talley is a former Illinois All-Stater.

Sonny Siebert, 6-3, will hold down one of the guard slots for the Tigers while the other position is up for grabs. Siebert had a very fine rookie season last year averaging 13.4 points per game.

Other squad members are Glenn Forristall, 6-0; Mike Kiraskey, 5-10; Paul Stehr, 5-11, John Stephens, 6-8; Tom Field, 5-11 and Jerry Kirksey, 5-9. Field and Kirksey are sophomores.

Oklahoma State, which recently joined the Big Eight, will not be counted into the Conference predictions. The Cowboys should have another fine season and be ranked high nationally.

Husker Frosh Down Colgate Thinclads

University of Nebraska freshmen, led by Joe American Horse, won a postal cross country meet with Colgate University, 24 to 31. Coach Frank Sevigne announced.

American Horse's time for the 2-mile was 9:50.4. Gary Larson, Nebraska runner for Lincoln Northeast was second in 10:20.5. Epanchin of Colgate finished third in 10:25.
