

Phi Delt's Open Tournament With Victory Over Delts, 53-33

Cottrell, Kjeldsen Pace Winners As Double Eliminations Begin

Moving with speed and precision, Phi Delta Theta swept past Delta Tau Delta, 53-33, in the first game of the Intramural Double Elimination Tournament Tuesday.

Although the game started with the shooting as cold as the weather outside, the Phi Delt's with Dick Cottrell leading the attack soon began to click. Cottrell was the main factor in breaking the zone defense of the Delts with his field goals from 30 feet out. He also set up several fast breaks with Lefty Hevner to break the game wide open. It was still close at the end of the first quarter with the Phi Delt's leading, 9-7.

In the second quarter Cottrell and company pulled away from the Delts who could not seem to start rolling. Dwight Siebler sunk a couple field goals for the Delts to keep them in the game but the Phi Delt's had an 11 point lead at halftime.

The play got rather ragged in the third quarter and Ed Higgenbotham, Intramural Director, had to caution the Phi Delt's on their aggressive play. At the end of the third quarter, the Phi Delt's had lengthened their lead to 37-24.

Cottrell, Hevner and Kjeldsen all teamed to score 37 of winner's points. In the losing effort Larry Naviaux and Dick Hove tossed in 7 points apiece, while Bob Aden handled the ball well.

In rambling to victory the Phi Delt's showed a fine zone defense which the Delts could not crack.

The Phi Delt's also got fine rebounding from Kjeldsen and Moon Mullins. They had a balanced attack and a fast break which kept the Delts' defense loose. In the fourth quarter, the Delts attempted a full court press as a stop gap measure. The Phi Delt's merely ran around it most of the time.

Cold Husker Hoopsters Fall To Sooners, 66-39

Chamberlain Held To Six Points As Kansas Defeats Colorado

Nebraska's offense stalled the second half against Oklahoma at Norman Monday night and the Sooners waltzed off with a 66-39 win. The victory solidified Oklahoma's hold on second place in the Big Eight.

Nebraska was miserably cold from the field and hit only ten of 54 attempts for a 18.5 per cent field goal average.

Leading the attack for the Huskers were Herschell Turner and Willie Fitzpatrick with 10 points apiece.

Bill Hammond was top man for the Sooners with 19 points. He scored 17 points in the first half to give the Sooners a 32-22 half-time advantage. Joe King helped Hammond with 12 points.

The Sooners outbounded the Huskers, 51-41. This victory gave Oklahoma a 12-4 season record. The Huskers now have a 1-4 conference mark with their lone victory coming over Oklahoma, 57-54 in the coliseum.

In other action in the Big Eight, Kansas with only 6 points from Will Chamberlain slipped past Colorado, 60-51. Colorado used a sagging zone against Will and had 3 men on him most of the time.

Ronnie Loneski and Alan Donoghue took over the scoring lead for Kansas with 14 and 15 points apiece. Chamberlain took only five shots in the game, preferring to feed to his teammates.

Second 'Star' Prize Given To Brand For Win Streak

By GEORGE MOYER Sports Editor

Dan Brand, Scarlet heavyweight wrestler earns the second Daily Nebraskan Star of the Week Award for his weekend victories in the Colorado and Great Lakes wrestling meets.

Brand won against Great Lakes last Friday and his coach, Bill Smith, called it the finest match he had ever seen Brand wrestle.

Then Saturday, Big Dan took on Jack Hime-wright of Colorado and pinned him in 6:24. Of this win, Smith commented, "That was one of the best matches a heavy ever wrestled."

The two wins gave Brand a season's record of five wins and one draw. The big fellow is improving steadily and is expected to make a determined bid for the Big Eight heavyweight title. If he makes it, he will be the first Husker to hold a Big Eight title since 1955.

Brand's high school grappling experience is typical of a Nebraska wrestler. He didn't have any. Only three of Smith's first stringers this year have had any high school wrestling at all.

In high school "Dan the Man" as teammates call him, turned his attention to other sports. He graduated from Bellvue High in 1953, but while he was there he took part in football, basketball and track. In track, he ran the half mile and threw the discus, which may account for his mat co-ordination and strength. He enrolled at the University five years ago and played freshman basketball but did not become interested in wrestling till he had acquired junior standing. Since Brand is a mechanical engineering major, which requires a five year course, he still had three years of eligibility left. Thus his academic standing is that of a five year man but athletically, he is a senior.

When I walked into the wrestling quarters in the NU Coliseum, I found Brand and ex-Husker grid star, Ed Husman, pulling and tugging at each other like a pair of bears. Though they both looked like they could go 15 rounds with Floyd Patterson, they seemed glad of the interruption I made in what appeared to me an attempt at double suicide.

Husman is now a pro with the Chicago Cardinals and he and Brand were keeping in tone by working out on each other. As they both rose to their feet, I could see why no one else was willing to go a couple of fast periods with either of them. Brand towered 6'5" and must have weighed in at about 205, while Husman didn't look a pound over 220 and stood about 6'3".

Brand is a very good-natured fellow and he thanked me for the award as I handed him his certificate. Husman bent over to look at it, and I felt a little like London Bridge was falling on me.

He rated his win against Colorado as his biggest thrill. "Those fellows beat me two years in a row. The first time it was Sam Salerno and he was really rough."

I brought up the coming Iowa State meet and Dan said they would be rough. "They blanked Mankato, a team that beat us, but if I can beat their heavy, it will get me a long way toward that Big Eight title," he said.

Speaking of his success as a wrestler this year while last year, he had only an average season Dan said, "A guy can get by on strength and experience for a while, but it takes technique to be really good. I used to think the big man had a tremendous advantage but Smith taught me that wasn't so. I work out with him and he ties me in knots."

Congratulations, Alpha Xi Delt's! In the finals of the intramural volleyball tournament, the Alpha Xis defeated the Independents to win the championship game.

It seems that all women's contests are either starting or ending this week, due to the semester break.

Co-rec volleyball is drawing to a close with the semi-finals of this single elimination tournament were played. The top two teams of each league were scheduled for games as follows:

Gamma Phi-Sig Eps vs. Alpha Chi-Farmhouse; Tri Delt-ATO vs. Chi Omega-Kappa Sigma; Alpha Xi Delta-Sigma Chi vs. Newman Club; Kappa Delta-Theta Xi vs. Pi Phi-Sigma Nu.

The four winners will play in the finals next Tuesday.

Bowling is entering the third round and will run for the next two weeks. Finals will be a week from Thursday.

The double elimination basketball tournament started Tuesday at Grant Memorial.

The fencing club started last Thursday. Persons interested may come any Thursday at 5 p.m. to the Dancing Studio in Grant Memorial.

The first session of the Rifle Club began on Saturday morning. The two hour meeting included an explanation of the parts of the rifle, safety rules, shooting positions, target citing and demonstrations.

The Club will start shooting practices on Saturday from 1-3:30, each member having signed up for a particular time. Anyone who would like to join the Club can see Miss Mulvaney at Grant Memorial and sign up with her.

Captain Berry of the Army Department is assisting with the Rifle Club's program.

Personal Opinion Surprisingly enough, I passed bowling! It was a struggle, however.

The favorite summer sport, golf, has begun rather early for me and the members of my P. E. class this semester. Last Thursday we dressed in our airy regulation suits and shorts and prepared ourselves to receive golf instruction.

Next week I will include a detailed account of the information which our teacher gave us.

We even got to handle a golf club! Of course, we didn't get to hit anything... except each other. Today, little green rugs have been spread out on the floor of the dancing studio. Also little fake putting cups have been placed on the little rugs. All we have to do is putt little golf balls into the little cups... Should be quite a challenge!

Missouri Nebraska will play Missouri in the Coliseum tonight at 8 p.m. The Huskers lost to the Tigers by one point in the two clubs only previous meeting at Columbia in the Big Eight Conference opener. Sonny Siebert, junior guard, is expected to lead coach Sparky Stalcup's five. Siebert carried a 17.6 average in the first 13 games this year.
