Miller

He received the award for having made outstanding contributions to the areas of health, physical education and recreation, including professional contributions and inspirational leadership.

Miller has been a member of the University faculty for 28 years, the last nine as chairman of Men's P.E. A past member of the NCAA gymnastics committee, he is the author of several articles published in Scholastic Coach and Athletic Journal, along with a book "Practical Suggestions for the Gymnastics Instructor."

He is a member of the American Association of University Professors, in addition to six physical education associations and fraternities. Organizer and promoter of the State High School Gymnastics Meet, Miller is District Counselor of Phi Epsilon Kappa, national P.E. fraternity, president of the Nebraska Chapter of Sigma Delta Psi, national honorary athletic fraternity, member of the national nominating committee for the intramural section of the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation and chairman of the ritual and song committee of the National Council of Phi Epsilon Kappa, national professional physical education fraternity.

Nebraskan Lineup Features Tall, Talented Aggregation

The Daily Nebraskan winds up the 1957-58 intramural basketball season with the selection of one of the most powerful all-intramural lineups in recent years.

The combination features height, speed, scoring finesse and defensive ability.

Leading the squad center post is Bob Prokop, three times an all-intramural choice and the scoring leader of the traditionally powerful Chemists. Prokop averaged 20 points per contest in intramural play, no mean feat with tight defenses and a running clock.

Big was instrumental in leading the Chemists to an unbeaten regular season schedule. The Chemists have won 50 games and lost but two during Prokop's tenure since coming over from the NU varsity.

Prusia
 In the playmaker positions, Dick Prusia and Don Wenzl man the guns. Prusia makes it on the basis of his almost unanimous selection on the all-Selleck squad. Dick was rated the best in the floor general department, and the "Franklin Flyer" was also highly regarded as a defense man. It was his ballhawking and passing on the Hitchcock fast break that piled up big margins for the all-University champs.

Wenzl
 Wenzl occupied nearly the same position for the Sigma Nus. Dangerous under the out scoring and set up teammate Ron Seymour for many easy buckets. "Little Beaver", as he is known, also fulfills the first team ideal of the all-round athlete, doubling in spades for coach Tony Sharpe's baseball squad.

Tolly
 Harry Tolly, wheelhorse of a tough Sigma Chi bunch, and LeRoy Zentic, the Gustavson I terror man, the Daily Nebraskan forward posts.

Tolly
 Tolly was the Sigma Chi tallman, but did not limit himself to under the basket play. A deadly outside shooter, it was his marksmanship that spiked the Phi Delt's twice. Only a sophomore, he insures a Sigma Chi of two more years of top flight teams.

Zentic
 Zentic, like Tolly a sophomore and football regular, does not detract from the all-star squad's rebounding ability in spite of his 5'11". A rough man under the boards with a pogo stick spring, LeRoy could score from in close or out front.

The Daily Nebraskan second lineup poses a formidable threat in its own right. Led by two tall men, Clarence Cook of Newman Club and Nels Kjeldsen of Phi Delta Theta, the second team is just one step back of the number one lineup.

Honorable Mention
 Among those in contention for honorable mention status were Zeke Niebam, Kappa Sig forward who averaged 13 points a contest for a last place club; Dick Cottrell, the Phi Delt long shot ace; Fred Largen, Canfield's highly regarded man of all work; Howard Ach and Orvis Larson, who provided Prusia with a more than competent supporting cast; Joe Molacek.

Burr Hall Gooding sharpshooter; Ron Peters, the Beta Sig nifty; Joe Lytle, who almost put the dents in contention.

Tigers Open Under New Management

Missouri University, scheduled to play against Coach Bill Jennings Cornhuskers at Memorial Stadium on November 1st, began spring practice last week.

The Tigers will be playing for their new coach Dan Devine, formerly of Arizona State. Arizona State led the nation last fall in total offense and in scoring, and was third in rushing defense.

The Tigers will be playing for their third coach in as many years and in their third different type of offense in three years. In 1956, Missouri had the Split T offense under Don Faurot. In 1957, Frank Boyles employed a belly series type formation. This year, Coach Devine plans to implement his multiple attack doctrine which he used so successfully at Arizona State last year.

Devine inherits 15 lettermen from last fall's squad including battering ram fullback, Hank Kuhlman. Kuhlman is passing up spring practice however, as he is the Tigers No. 1 baseball catcher.

From The Outside

by randall lambert

Last week I had an opportunity to attend the finals of the Iowa girls state high school basketball tournament. They played before a crowd of 15,000 as contrasted to the crowd of 13,000 that had attended the finals of the boys tournament the preceding week. The sixteen finalists—the "Sweet Sixteen"—emerged from nearly 700 high schools that play girls basketball in Iowa. A team has to win four games in four days to be crowned state champions. The winners, West Central of Maynard, finished the season with a 30 win and 0 loss record.

The thing that impressed me the most was the fast pace of the games and the great amount of scoring that was done. The runner-up in the tournament, Emerson, featured the new all-time high tourney scorer, Vivian Fleming. Miss Fleming scored 200 points for a 50 point per game average. Most of the time she used a two-handed jump shot from about 15-20 feet from the basket. She had a 47 point average for the season.

Every team in the tournament had one or two girls that were averaging around 20 points a game. These girls didn't make all their points right under the basket either. They would drive, shoot jump shots, hook or use just about any other shot you see high school boys teams employing.

Extra Point Rules

The new football rule concerning extra points has caused some comment from Oklahoma coach Bud Wilkinson and Oklahoma State coach Cliff Speegle.

The new rule provides for two points for successfully passing or running the ball over the goal on a try for extra points. The conversion play is moved back a yard to the three, but a good kick is still just worth a point.

The successful Sooner coach believes there will be more emphasis on deceptive plays when the teams go after the extra points. He doesn't think defense will change very much. Most teams will use a regular goal line stand.

Speegle, whose squad has ended spring practice, kept a record on game condition scrimmages where conversion attempts were made for both one and two points. He found that his team could make two points running or passing 60 per cent of the time. He also said the spread looked like the best formation because it forces the defense to cover a larger area.

The new rule could bring back the dropkicker. If you have a man who can pass, run, or dropkick you can keep the defense up in the air as to what was going to happen.

MY CLOSEST SHAVE

by Elgin Ciampi
 Skin Diver, Shark Expert, Author

"My closest shave happened under water while baiting sharks to photograph," says shark expert Elgin Ciampi. "My speared bait-fish hid in a hole, pouring clouds of blood around me. Smelling blood, a 7-foot mako-eater, unable to find the bait, rushed me. I dodged and started taking pictures. I kept the camera between us while the shark circled hungrily for five full minutes. Then my air supply ran short, so I used psychology: I lunged at the shark with my camera. Startled, he shot away—and so did I!"
