

Baseball Season Opens With Tulsa Tomorrow

Lefty Hevner Draws Starting Assignment, Sharpe To Field Seven Vets To Sophomores

Coach Tony Sharpe and his baseball team left for the south today, where they will start a six game road trip which lasts through April 5th. The Huskers open their 1958 season against Tulsa U at Tulsa, Oklahoma tomorrow afternoon. On Monday and Tuesday they play Houston U at Houston, Wednesday Rice Inst. in Houston, and Saturday, a return game against Tulsa U at Tulsa.

Although the Huskers have been limited to indoor practices for the most part, Sharpe has gathered together a veteran studded lineup. Two outstanding Lincoln Journal rookies did, Kubacki however, break into the starting lineup.

Tracksters Face Tough Texas Meets

Coach Frank Servigne and five Husker trackmen boarded a plane Thursday morning and flew south to Austin, Texas for the Texas Relays. The Huskers have teams entered in both 440 and 880 relays.

Keith Gardner was to run in the 120 yard high hurdles, but due to a case of the flu he will concentrate on just the relays events.

Houston Tough

The Huskers will receive most of their competition from Houston University. Houston recently ran third to both Texas University and Abilene Christian, featuring Olympic sprinter Bobby Morrow, in the Odessa, Texas Relays and the Border Relays. Both Texas University and Abilene Christian will run at the relays, but will run in a special race because the meet is approved their teams that have used up three years of eligibility.

Relays

Leading off for the Huskers in both relays will be Keith Gardner followed by Keith Young, Tom Hodson, and anchorman Don Phillips in the 440 and Dick Jahr in the 880. Phillips may replace Jahr in the 880 because of a pulled muscle suffered by Jahr in practice.

Squads Meet At Houston

The preliminaries for both relays will be run on Friday afternoon. The finals in the 880 yard relay are Friday night and the finals of the 440 yard relay are on Saturday.

International Game: Husker Club Starts Soccer

by Elmer Kral Sports Staff Writer From behind the Iron Curtain, Australia, Argentina, Canada, and Iran to Nebraska have come a spirited group of international volunteers who have combined their talents to form a Soccer Club which represents the University.

of 1950, Uruguay emerged victorious, and in 1954, West Germany was the winner. This year the World Cup playoffs will be held in Stockholm, Sweden.

dividualism. Body contact is permitted only on the man in possession of the ball and the use of hands is prohibited other than ball must be moved by the player's feet with the ultimate objective being a boot of he ball into the goal for a point.

Under the leadership of two British students, twenty-one men representing 14 foreign countries and the USA, have banded together without financial assistance from the University. This group of foreigners is demonstrating to Nebraska that people of many nationalities can successfully get together for a common cause.

Soccer is to many European countries what baseball is to Americans. Spectators naturally get quite excited at times. It has been reported, especially in Latin America, that referees have been beaten and shot. Teams that have employed foul tactics have been ambushed by angry and sometimes violent crowds. Fortunately, these examples are isolated cases.

The University Club has an ambitious schedule for 10 games this spring. Three teams from Omaha, a Royal Air Force team from Ofut Field, one team from Kansas City, a group from Lincoln known as the Talava, and the University Club compose the Midwest Tri-City League.

The formation of a Soccer Club is comparatively as new to this school as is the game to America. Soccer originated in England during the 12th century. Slowly, by means of military and naval contacts and by exhibition games, soccer spread to other countries until finally it came to America with our 19th century ancestors.

A soccer field measures 150 x 70 yds with variances according to each country's rules. The goals are 18 ft x 8 ft. The regulation ball is slightly smaller than a basketball and each team is composed of 11 players. The games consist of two halves each 45 min. long with no timeouts permitted. Players can be substituted freely according to international rules but many countries modify this ruling. The extreme rule, as found in Great Britain, is no substitution even for injuries. The injured man simply leaves the game and the team plays with one less member.

This year's team is coached by Martyn Bowden and Les Heathcote, both from Britain. According to Bowden, the University Club is the first successful attempt at soccer at this University. An unsuccessful attempt was made last year. Also, according to Bowden, the United States has officially recognized soccer on an intercollegiate basis for the first time.

The popularity of soccer in Europe did not take hold very seriously until World War I. This could possibly be the reason why football gained a foothold in our country instead of soccer. Had the bulk of immigration to the states occurred in the 1920's perhaps soccer would be where football is today. This is pure conjecture however, but we Americans must be aware of the fact that soccer is gaining in popularity in this country as well as world.

The play is spontaneous; much like ice hockey. Players are assigned certain positions on the field but when the action starts, no set pattern of plays can be successfully executed. That is why the game is known for its individualism.

A meeting of the University Board of Regents will be held Tuesday, April 23, at 2 p.m. in the Administration Building. The agenda of the meeting has not been announced.

Soccer is played in the Ivy League (Harvard, Yale, etc) and by several independent professional and amateur teams throughout the country have formed to try to add variety to the American sports world. A team from St. Louis, Missouri, is rated No. 1 in the U.S., but over world wide competition foreign countries dominate. In the World Cup playoffs

Cyclones NCAA Pick

The University of Oklahoma wrestling team will travel to Laramie, Wyoming this weekend in hopes of retaining the NCAA wrestling championship. They will receive stiff competition from Iowa State, the Big Eight mat kings.

Other teams entered in the meet include Oklahoma State, Iowa, Illinois, Michigan State, Lehigh, Penn State, and Pittsburgh. Iowa State's mentor, Harold Nichols, when asked who is favored said, "Well, I see by the papers that we are. Somebody has to be favored, of course, and on the basis of our hard fought win in the conference meet I suppose we had to expect that role. I'm not trying to dodge it, understand, but I want some company, too. Luck as well as skill must be on the side of the eventual winner this time. I hope the experts are right."

Don Brand, Nebraska's heavyweight wrestler, will finish out his collegiate career with an appearance in the NCAA championships this week end.

Tennists Head South Four Vets, Soph To Go

Four lettermen and one sophomore will lead coach Ed Higgenbotham's tennis team on a rough southern swing over spring vacation.

Art Weaver, last year's number one player and a senior, Bill North, who doubles as a distance man for Holly Lepley's swim team, George Fisk, Delta Upsilon's B team basketball standout, and Charley Kress, senior letterman are the returning veterans making the trip.

The sophomore is Al Arriguna from Merida Mexico. Higgenbotham said the team has been looking good on the maple court marked off in the Coliseum but "we are battling the elements right now."

"That ball comes off the outdoor courts a lot different than it does that maple in the Coliseum, so I don't know how we will be playing outside," Higgenbotham said. "We'll know a lot better next Saturday how we stack up," he concluded.

The squad will play a five game schedule beginning Monday with Wichita. "I got a call from Wichita last night and they said they hadn't been able to get outside either," Higgenbotham said.

Other teams the Huskers will meet on the tour include a pair of conference clashes with Oklahoma Tuesday and Oklahoma Wednesday. Nebraska will conclude the tour by meeting Oklahoma Baptist Thursday and Tulsa Friday. Last year, the Huskers came off their southern swing with a 3-1 record, losing only to Oklahoma.
