

Fleming Wins Award For Best Career Time ... Star Of The Week

By Larry Novicki Sports Staff Writer

A half mile in 1:50.9 and he's only been running in competition for four years. This is the story of Mike Fleming, the Baltimore sophomore, who will be gunning for a new 880 record this Saturday in the Colorado dual meet at Memorial Stadium. The 22 year old industrial arts major started out his athletic career at Baltimore Polytechnic Institute as a football player, but when he sustained a serious injury in his junior year he decided to take a crack at running—and a very profitable decision it turned out to be.

Prep Record
In that first year of track competition, Mike not only won the 880 crown at the Maryland state track meet, but he posted a record in the event that will probably stand for many a season. After having trained for only a few months, Mike ran a phenomenal 1:55.4 half mile. Mike considers this the greatest thrill of his life.

While all of this was going on a spectator from nearby Georgetown College was taking everything in. It was Frank Sevigne, then coach of the powerful track monopolies of Georgetown College. Frank remembered what he saw on that day, and when he came to Nebraska he called on the sinuous speedster. He convinced him that the powerful Big Seven Conference would offer keen competition to a runner of his caliber.

During his freshman year here he lowered his half mile time to 1:54.8. He gave the tedious mile run a fling and did a remarkable job—4:18.2.

Mike began this season running around the 1:53 mark, and his times have been nosing downward with each successive race. At the Michigan State Relays he contributed the fastest leg to the victorious two-mile relay team. He also ran on the winning mile relay team as he and his Husker mates made Nebraska track history amid strong competition.

Best Time

After a little tough going in the Kansas Relays, Mike came back with the best half mile time of his career, 1:50.9, in carrying his teammates to a smashing victory in the sprint medley at the Drake Relays.

In the Colorado dual this Saturday Mike will be facing the strongest opponent he has yet come up against in Mike Peak. Peak has posted a time of 1:50.2, but this was also with a running start in a relay race. This weekend the two men will put meet records and stadium records on the line as they face off in an open 880 dual. The old meet record, 1:55.7, is sure to fall. Both competitors have had better times than the Stadium mark which was set in the NCAA track meet by Wes Santee of Kansas with a mark of 1:50.8 back in 1953.

Spring Practice:

Martz Makes First String; Bruises Fill Injury List

Nebraska's football squad took it easy Tuesday before hitting the scrimmage field today in preparation for the big Spring Day game scrimmage Friday.

The Husker's Monday drill found coach Bill Jennings making some position switches. Max Martz, sophomore tailback, moved into the number one backfield position on the basis of a four touchdown outburst in last Saturday's scrimmage.

Martz lettered as an end last year, but played in the backfield in high school. The had been holding down the number one position, was shifted to the number two unit.

In other squad changes, Don Fricke, another freshman moved up to number one center. Fricke replaced Bob Daniels, also a freshman, when Daniels came up with an injury. Dale Siemer grabbed the number one left guard position ahead of John Ponsiego, and Jim LaFleur, junior graduate of Norfolk Junior College, took over the number three right guard position.

Injuries began to show up after two weeks of hard work. No serious hurts were reported, but there were the usual quota of sprains, bumps and bruises.

Among the wounded were: Mal Dohrman, Tim Barnes, Roger Brede, Dan Ratzloff, Bill Tuning, Mike Cowan, Daniels and Al Ohlen.

During the past ten years the major leagues have paid out 15 million dollars in bonus money for prospective stars. Out of all the bonus babies who have received money, only ten of them have become regulars in the majors. This is approximately a million and one-half dollars for each of these regular players. There are sixteen major league teams so someone has been paying money for nothing.

While all this spending has been going on attendance has dropped in most minor league cities and many minor league teams have folded. People seem to be getting their baseball appetites filled by Saturday telecasts and daily radio broadcasts. What can the majors do about this situation? They can quit spending so much money on bonus babies and start supporting the teams in their farm systems. If they would pay some of the debts of their farm clubs, improve their facilities, and spend some money advertising, they could restore minor league ball in a lot of cities. They would also have more talent in their systems from which to draw major league players.

Baltimore Incident

An incident which took place in the Baltimore chain shows how conscious the parent teams are of minor league teams. Baltimore assigned Kenneth Jenkins to the Paris, Texas club of the Sooner State League. Jenkins contract was received by Jim Bell the former business manager of the Paris team. He was also informed that Jenkins had been purchased from Portland for $100.

The only trouble was that Paris doesn't have a team this year. The Sooner State League had folded.

Counterfeits

Since the beginning of baseball in the later 1800s, there have been several different words used to describe a home run. The home run has been called a circuit clout, a round-tripper, a four-bagger, and other names, especially by the pitchers they have been hit off. This year there is another word used around the majors, especially out in Los Angeles. They are calling them "Los Angeles counterfeits." Last week Lee Walls of the Chicago Cubs hit three of them in one game. Walls claims these homers weren't "counterfeit." He says they would have been home runs in several major league parks. Incidentally, Walls hit a total of six home runs during the whole season last year.

But if you want to enjoy smoking as never before, switch to Camels. Nothing else tastes so rich, smokes so mild. Today more people smoke Camels than any other cigarette. The best tobacco gives you the best smoke. Try Camels and you'll agree!
