

Journalism Week, 1958, Biggest Ever

Times Columnist Brings Views On Capitol Hill

From the bustle of the New York Times newsroom and the tension in Algeria, William H. Lawrence will bring to the campus this week a breath of journalism "big time."

Lawrence, Washington columnist for the Times, will be on hand to advise NU's young journalists as well as to speak at the memorial dinner for the late James Lawrence, editor of the Lincoln Star.

Some 50 tickets are still available for the Friday noon luncheon where Lawrence will

Advertising Has Spotlight For Today

Students interested in the business press and advertising will have a chance to hear one of the top publication directors in the country today, said Dr. William Hall, head of the school of Journalism.

Henry Zwirner, the Mid-West Director of Fairchild Publications, will present three lectures in connection with Journalism Week.

Zwirner has been with Fairchild Publications and in the publishing trade for more than thirty-five years having extended experience in the news department, circulation department and advertising department.

Until recently he was circulation manager for all the Fairchild publications for sixteen years prior to being transferred to his present job in Chicago.

For two successive years Zwirner was president of the Circulation Round Table of Associated Business Publications.

Zwirner's lecture topics are "The Business Press," "A Look Around and A Look Ahead at Advertising," and "Industrial Advertising."

All-Ag Picnic Set May 20

All Ag College students and faculty are invited to attend the Ag Picnic May 20 from 5-7 p.m., according to Nola Obermier, publicity chairman.

The picnic will be held on lower campus. Fun and games for both students and faculty will be under the direction of Angie Holbert and Gil Grady. Activities for the afternoon will include a pie eating contest, relay games and a picnic supper.

Tickets will be on sale in the Ag Union Monday through Saturday this week for 35 cents per person. Tickets will not be sold after May 17.

The Ag Union sponsors the All Ag Picnic as a final event on the activities calendar.

HELP!

Yes! - We still have a few openings for part-time summer session students. Apply now - they are going fast.

Pledge Breakfast

Will Honor

Gal Journalists

Theta Sigma Phi, women's professional journalism fraternity, will hold its annual pledging during Journalism Week this year.

The annual event has usually been on Ivy Day.

An 8:30 a.m. breakfast Saturday in the Union will honor the new pledges, Cindy Zschau, president, said.

Theta Sigma Phi is composed of outstanding women journalism students chosen for scholarship and professional activities.

New pledges are: Barbara Bible, Emmie Limp, Diana Maxwell, Gretchen Sides, Ann Hale, Dixie Helmes and Sandra Whalen.

Other new officers include Sharon McDonald, vice-president; Phyllis Bonner, secretary; and Marianne Thygeson, treasurer.

Main project for the group is the annual Matrix Dinner to honor the state's newspapermen.

Accompanying the students was Dr. Robert Bowman, professor of geography.
