'Outstanding' Nebraskan Nomination Still Open Nominations for 'Outstanding Nebraskan' awards may now be submitted to the Daily Nebraskan.

One senior or graduate student and one faculty member will be selected for the awards presented by the Daily Nebraskan each semester. Both women and men may be nominated.

Deadline for nominations is Tuesday noon, May 20. Winners will be announced in the May 23 issue of the paper and awards will be made that noon at the Daily Nebraskan luncheon.

Letters of nomination should be turned into the Daily Nebraskan office, Union 20. Any student or faculty member may nominate a candidate.

Letters must be submitted in writing and signed by the person making the nomination. Names will be held in confidence. The letters of nomination will become the property of the Daily Nebraskan and any or all parts may be printed in the newspaper.

To be eligible for the award, a student or faculty member must have made outstanding contributions to the University. In addition, a faculty member must have served at least two years as a staff member.

Dr. E. F. Frolik, immediate past president of Sigma Xi, will speak on the topic, 'Publically supported agricultural Research in Nebraska.'

Students nominated last fall and this spring for membership in Sigma Xi will be initiated.

Brooks Nips Dosek In Close Race

Anderson Sweeps GOP Ballot In Campus Mock Primary

Ralph Brooks edged two votes ahead of Edward Dosek to take the Democratic Party nomination for governor in the University Mock primary sponsored yesterday by the University Young Republicans.

Brooks polled 59 votes and Dosek 57. There were many write-ins. On the Republican side of the ledger, incumbent Victor Anderson led the gubernatorial race with 203 votes to 68 for Louis Hector.

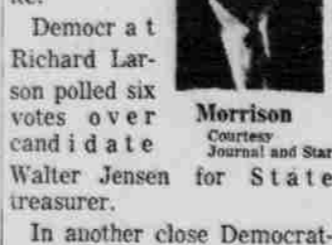

Incumbent Dwight Burney was defeated by Marvin Griswold.

In another close Democratic race, 83-year-old J. C. McReynolds whipped Neil Nelson 79 to 35.

The election held at four polling places, was under the auspices of the Student Council. Dr. Phillip McVey, professor of Business Administration oversaw the election tabulation.

Dr. McVey noted that many of the ballots had to be disqualified because of improper balloting procedure.

He said many of the students put 'checks' instead of 'X's' and that marks extended outside the squares in many cases.

Also he said many of the write-in voters failed to mark the square with an 'X' before the line, thus disqualifying the ballot. Over 35 write-in votes were registered.

Nebraska Voters Plagued With Apathy, Friendliness

'Nobody's mad at anybody,' reduce this number, he said.

Frank Marsh, secretary of state, had this to say about the state primary election today. Marsh, who over the weekend had predicted a turnout of some 180,000 at the polls today, said yesterday he was now expecting an even lighter turnout.

'A terrific apathy and lack of interest coupled with wet weather which has slowed farmers down, and the recent upturn in economic conditions' will decrease the number of votes cast, Marsh commented.

In the last off-presidential year primary, 250,000 votes were cast Marsh said. Lack of any issues will seriously
