

Oerter Favored To Win Shot; NU To Score In Mile Relay

By Randall Lambert
Sports Staff Writer

Husky Al Oerter, greatest double weight man in conference history, will be out to duplicate his 1957 slam in the shot put and the discus when he takes the field at Columbia, Mo. Friday. The New Yorker has sailed the discus 202' 6" at the Arkansas relays and pushed the shot over 57' this spring. It is doubtful whether anyone will give him competition in the discus when he goes after his conference record of 183' 5" which he set as a sophomore.

Courtesy Journal and Star Oerter

Nebraska's hopes are pinned on Tony Divis and Al Rosen. Divis had a 148' 7" mark against Michigan State last week, while Rosen has also been throwing the discus over 140'. Others in contention are Tom Cochran of Missouri, who has been over 150' this spring, Gene Weil, Colorado, Dave Henschen, Iowa State, and another Jayhawk, Bill Dryer.

Although Oerter seems to have the discus tied up, he may have trouble with Iowa State's Phil Delavan, who will press him for the shot put laurels. Delavan has been over 55' earlier this spring and could help the Husker cause by upsetting Oerter. Another possibility is Dan Erwin of Oklahoma, who finished ahead of Delavan and Oerter at the Drake Relays, with a heave of 54' 7".

Olson Hits Peak
Don Olson, fast improving Husker weightman, hit a career high of 50' 10 1/4" against Michigan State last week. Olson may have to do better than this to place against the likes of Oerter, Delavan, Erwin, Jim Cain, Kansas State, 52' 7", Dave Henschen, Iowa State, 50' 11", and Bob Rumping, Missouri, 52' 6".

Wilt Chamberlain will be back trying to give the Jayhawks another first place. Wilt and team mates Bob Cannon and Kent Floerke figure to give Kansas the big Chamberlain tied with Jim Green at 6-6 1/4 indoors while Cannon was third at 6-2 and Floerke tied for fifth at 6-0.

Turner In High Jump
Herschell Turner, surprise of the outdoor season, will share the Husker load with Hale Kreyck and Randy Clark. Turner has topped 6-3 this year and Kreyck and Clark have both been over six feet. Clark tied for fifth place indoors this year at Kansas City. Others in contention will be Nealey, Oklahoma, French, Kansas State, Jim Hoffman, Kansas, Dave Alderman, Colorado, and Jerry Looper, Oklahoma State. All have hit six feet or better.

Ernie Shelby, over 26 feet in the broad jump this year, is expected to easily surpass the conference record of 25' 3/4" set by Neville Price of Oklahoma. The high-flying Jayhawk will be backed up by Kent Floerke, second indoors at 23' 3/4. Floerke went 23' 3/4 last week in a dual with Missouri. Nebraska will try to combat the Jayhawks with Bill Hawkins, yet to reach his indoor high, Chuck Wollaston, and Don Phillips, who has done 23' 4" outdoors. Phillips is doubtful because he pulled a muscle against Colorado.

Dashes Tough
Two of the top centurymen in the country will meet in the 100 yard dash. Dee Givens, Oklahoma and Orlando Hazley, Oklahoma State, will square off in what could be a record breaking 100 yard dash. Both have been timed in 9.4. Charlie Tidwell, Jayhawk speedster, has been defeated by both, but has been clocked in 9.6. He along with Dick Jahr of Nebraska, 9.7 against Michigan State last weekend, Larry Chace of Colorado, third in the century last year, and Henry Weibe of Missouri should finish in the money. Tom Hodson of Nebraska and Bob Brandt of Iowa State could also finish in the top six places.

IM Bulletin
Delta Upsilon took a long step toward the all-University softball championship Tuesday night with a 6-3 extra inning victory over Kappa Sigma.

George Hirschbach smacked a two run homer in the top of the seventh inning for the winning runs. Don Smith's triple added an insurance tally to back Bill Krommenhoek's steady pitching job.

Coliseum Beat

... by george moyer

This is recruiting time—the time of year when All Sports Day events, state track, baseball, tennis and golf meets and fraternity parties bring in high school youths from outstate for the solid sell by Husker coaches.

Amid such an atmosphere, it is easy for rumors to get started about athletic prospects for the coming year. Last week I met up with a dilly. Word was passing around that Mike Iseman, Fremont High School Athlete of the Year in 1957 was planning on a move to the University.

Mike is currently a freshman at Princeton University. After a recent survey of the freshman talent in the Ivy League by the staff of an eastern newspaper, the sports-writers came to the conclusion that Mike was the best all-round football player among the first year men in the Ivy schools.

Obviously, the addition of Iseman to next year's Scarlet aggregation would provide a nice shot in the arm. However, coach Bill Jennings is going to have to make the grade with talent already at hand for (darn the luck) Mike isn't coming to Nebraska.

A call to the Iseman home last Sunday and a talk with Mike's father scotched what I thought was a real scoop. Mike is definitely staying at Princeton next year and even has his room picked out. Ah well. One of these days I'll beat Ron Speer to something.

Gate Crashers
Speaking of existing talent reminds me that I saw some last Saturday. The Husker squad that beat the Alumni in the All Sports Day affair didn't look at all like the one that muddled through a ten game season last fall. The tackling was sharper, the running was faster, and the passing attack was at last a passing attack instead of a vague threat aimed at scaring the opposition defense into spreading out.

The Varsity gave a good showing foretelling improvement next fall. There were few long runs, usually the hallmark of an offensively sharp club, but Pat Fisher, Larry Naviaux and Dick McCashland were each just one step or one block short of breaking away several times.

McKay Lost
Lincoln, Neb. — Jerry McKay, sophomore infielder for the University of Nebraska baseball team, was lost for the season when he suffered a broken ankle sliding. The varsity was playing the freshman baseballers at the time.

New coaches — Dick Monroe, LeRoy Pearce, Warren Schminkel, Don Scarbrough and Bill Smith.

Sports Desk To Offer Annual Honor

The Daily Nebraskan Sports desk will once again present the annual award for Outstanding Athlete for the Year, according to George Moyer, Sports Editor. The award, includes a cup presented by the paper and a plaque with the names of past winners inscribed upon it. The plaque rests in the N Club room in the Coliseum. The winner will be chosen by the sports staff and announced in the May 23 issue.

In 1956, the Award was not presented but last year, Rex "The Horse" Ekwall, Husker basketball great from Holmsville was named the winner. Among those nominated in 1957 were Bill North, Keith Gardner and Jerry Brown.

Since North, Gardner and Brown will all be eligible for this year's prize along with such other Husker sports standouts as Gary Reimers, Dan Brand, George Fisk, Willie Fitzpatrick, Dwight Siebler, Jim Kane, Gene Forczon, Keith Young, Joe Mullins, Mike Fleming and Ken Pollard, competition should prove lively and interesting.

Any University Student may nominate a candidate for Outstanding Athlete of the Year. All University lettermen presently enrolled and still competing are eligible. Letters of nomination must be signed, but the names of those nominating candidates will be kept in confidence. Address letters to:

Star Of The Week: Young Cited For Two Michigan State Wins

Keith Young, double winner against Michigan State last Saturday, aided his team in a smashing victory over the Spartans and earned for himself the Daily Nebraskan's Star of the Week award.

Young posted times of 14.6 for the highs and 23.8 for the lows in taking his pet events. His chief competitor, teammate Keith Gardner, passed up the hurdles to compete in the quarter mile.

Transfer
A transfer student from Philander Smith Institute of Little Rock, Arkansas, Keith Young has been blazing the cinders since he was a fourteen-year old high school student in Kingston, Jamaica. Keith was an all-around athlete at his school. But, instead of football, baseball, and track which might be on the agenda of a Nebraska High school all-around player, it was soccer, cricket, and track.

Gave Up Track
After competing two years at Philander Smith, Keith decided to transfer colleges and give up track in order that he might concentrate on his studies in pre-denistry. He applied to several schools, was accepted at Nebraska, and enrolled here a year ago February.

He changed his mind about giving up track when he met an old acquaintance from Kingston town, Keith Gardner. After having been shown around the Husker track plant and after having met Frank Sevigne, he decided to give the sport another year. This weekend he will travel with Cornhusker mates to Columbia, Missouri for the Big Eight Conference championships. Keith says that this may be his last competitive year. He says that he wants to make the conference meet a "two-way effort," in that he wants to contribute his utmost to the Scarlet cause, and he also wishes that through his performance, he will be chosen to represent Jamaica at the British Empire Games to be held in Wales this summer.
