Extension Dept. Expects More Students, Classes

Four accredited courses have been added to the University Extension Division's evening class curriculum, bringing the total to a new high of 66, according to Mrs. Olga Stepanek, division head.

All the classes will be open to the public as well as University students.

TV 'Report' Will Orient Parents

A special orientation program for parents of high-school students participating in the University's television-correspondence project will be presented at 8 p.m. tonight over KUON-TV, channel 12.

The program is entitled "Report-Nebraska Project." Nine high-school subjects will be presented this year over KUON-TV to 31 Nebraska high schools. The subjects include beginning algebra, physics, general mathematics, plane geometry, chemistry, advanced algebra, art, American literature and Spanish.

Participating schools are: Adams, Barneston, Beatrice, Beaver Crossing, Bellwood, Bennet, Ceresco, Clatonia, Crete, Daykin, DeWitt, Douglas, Eagle, Friend, Gretna, Holmesville, Lincoln High, Palmyra, Prague, Raymond, Sprague-Martell, Springfield, Thayer, Union College, Luther Academy, Walton, Waverly, Weeping Water, Western, Wilber and York St. Joseph.

with a 10 to 15 percent increase over last year's figure of 2,800 expected. The number includes more than 100 signups from Lincoln Air Force Base.

One course on teaching techniques, Mathematics 120, is designed especially for high school mathematics teachers in order to update them on modern teaching, Mrs. Stepanek said.

Combination Course
A combination television-classroom course will be Marriage and Home Relations - Home Economics 191. For the first 30 minutes Dr. J. Joel Moss, associate professor of home economics, will teach the television class from KUON-TV studios, and then return to complete his evening class.

Other new offerings for 1958-59 include statistics, psychology in business and industry, and political parties.

A class in beginning Russian, where enrollment jumped to 22 students last year, will be held again this year, Mrs. Stepanek said. She noted that until the appearance of Sputnik, the

Horning Joins Voc Ed Staff

The homemaking division of the Vocational Education Dept. at the University has added a new member.

She is Leorna Horning of Battle Creek, Mich. Among other honors, she earned the distinction of being Battle Creek's "Business Woman of the Year."

Before coming to the University, Miss Horning was Lakeview Consolidated Schools in Battle Creek and has served as a supervising teacher for Michigan State University.

Miss Horning received her B. S. and M. S. degrees from Michigan State and has done advanced study both at Michigan State and the University of Colorado.

average number of students was four to five, and once the course was dropped because of lack of interest.

Subjects in the following fields are taught in evening classes: anthropology, art, botany, business organization, commercial arts, economics, engineering, English, foreign languages, geography, geology, history, home economics, journalism, mathematics, music, philosophy, physiology, political science, psychology, sociology and speech.

Registration
Registration for classes will continue through Sept. 27 in the Extension Division office, Architecture Hall, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on weekdays and from 8 a.m. to noon on Saturdays.

Staff Parking

Staff members must secure their campus parking tickets prior to Saturday.

Application should be made at Room 4 in the Geography Building or at room 202 at Agricultural Hall.

In addition, students may register in the afternoons of Saturday, Sept. 13 and Sept. 20, and continuously on Sept. 10 and 11 from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Fellowships Open In 25 Countries

Fulbright Fellowships will be available for foreign study in any one of approximately 25 countries during the academic year 1959-60, according Harold Wise, Fulbright program adviser.

An applicant must have a working knowledge of the language of the host country and must be a citizen of the United States. He must either have a bachelor's degree or be eligible to receive this degree before September 1, 1959.

Applications must be in the Graduate College Office, 306 Administration Hall, before Oct. 31. Additional information and application forms may be obtained at the Graduate Office.
