Fischer Will Start

Jennings Names Squad For Purdue Game

by Norman Beatty
Talented sophomore half-back Pat Fischer will be in the starting lineup against Purdue despite the fact that he has been confined to Student Health for two days. He has a touch of influenza, but was reported as being in "not serious" condition.

36 Man Squad
Bill Jennings Thursday, named a traveling squad of 36 players for the Purdue game. Again the starting lineup may be changed depending on whether the visiting Huskers kick or receive. The biggest change would probably be at the quarterback slot.

Jennings said the overall condition of the team is very good considering the rough game played last Saturday.

The squad will leave today, Friday, at 9:00 by chartered plane. Jennings said they plan to arrive at Lafayette at 2:30 p.m. and will have a light workout on the Boilermaker field at 3:00. The entire squad and five coaches will return after the game and are scheduled to arrive back in Lincoln at about 9:00 p.m. Saturday evening.

Coach Jennings had no comment on the fact that the Huskers were 20½ point underdogs.

The 36 man traveling squad is as follows: Flock, Minnick, Maritz, Heldt, White, Harshman, Tolly, Stinnett, Cozine, McCashland, Zaruba, Bigelow, Bohanan, Fischer, Naviaux, Dickson, Fricke, Kitchen, Emmanuel, Zentle, Kosler, Moore, Seimer, Ponselgo, Wellman, Lueckle, Edeal, Mongerson, Doyle, Gacusana, Eger, Sapp, Bond, Tunning, McDole, and Fitzgerald.

IM - "B" Teams See First Action

Phi Psis, Betas, Phi Deltas, Deltas Win Openers

The Phi Psi's, Beta's, Phi Delta's, and Deltas won games Thursday evening to kick off intramural 'B' league action.

Phi Psi's Overpowering
Phi Kappa Psi used a spirited attack both offensively and defensively to shut out the Farmhouse 'B' squad 13-0.

Sid Stacey, older brother of Chuck Stacey who threw four touchdown passes against the ATO's in 'A' league play Monday, was the leading performer on the loaded Phi Psi team. He snared one pass for a touchdown and intercepted a Farmhouse toss late in the game on his own goal line to stave off a scoring threat.

Dave Myers, who gained state recognition as a high school footballer at Lincoln Southeast, was at the receiving end of the other Phi Psi scoring thrust. George Fritz and Ed Gates carried the load for Farmhouse.

Tooley Leads Delta's Pat Tooley passed for touchdowns in each of the last three periods to send Delta Tau Delta past the Sigma Chi seconds by a score of 18-6. His targets were John Mitchem and Sam Hall. Hall counted twice—once on a long run followed by a short toss from Tooley.

The ATO's scored late in the final quarter on a pass from Bob Brandis to Bill Wells.

Sigma Nu Falls
Tom Tucker connected on two touchdown passes to lead the Phi Delta Theta team to a 15-6 win over the Sigma Nu's. The Phi Delta's also picked up an extra two points on a first quarter safety.

A pass from Bill Boggan to Paul Jacobs provided the lone Sig Nu scoring in the first quarter.

Standouts for the Phi Delta's besides Tucker were ends Bill Roper and Larry Hogan. For the Sigma Nu's, Bill Boggan was the main cog both offensively and defensively.

Pat Fischer Named First Daily Nebraskan 'Star Of The Week'

by Charles Coffin

Pat Fischer, a young man who by this time needs no introduction to anyone in the state, thinks there are three reasons why the Huskers' success against Penn State last Saturday will extend into the rest of the season.

"Conditioning is the biggest thing," says Pat. "Training hard last spring and this fall really helped—we were in much better shape than Penn State."

"The teamwork on the squad this year is great, too. Nobody dislikes anyone. We're all pulling together."

How about spirit? "Tremendous!" is Pat's estimate. "We thought before the game Saturday we had a good chance, and when we were still tied at the half, we knew we could do it. And we know we're going to give Purdue a real battle this week."

Because his thrilling 92-yard kickoff return against Penn State started the Huskers on their way to an opening day victory, Pat was named the first Daily Nebraskan "Star of the Week" of the current semester. At 18, he is one of the youngest Huskers ever to receive the honor.

Brown-haired, affable Fischer is a sophomore in pre-dentistry, but is thinking of changing his major to Business Administration. He graduated from Omaha Westside high school, where he lettered in four sports and during his senior year was named to the all-state football squad. The streamlined halfback stands 5-9, and weighs only 163 pounds.

In one prep game several years ago, Pat broke into the clear on a kickoff return and seemed headed for a sure touchdown, only to be tackled a few feet from the goal. That was as close as his team came to scoring the rest of the afternoon, and Pat says the memory of that near miss kept racing through his mind during his touchdown sprint last Saturday.

Pat has three older brothers who were outstanding football players at Nebraska: Cletus, now head football coach at Omaha South high school; Kenny, grid chieftain at Blair, Neb. high school; and Rex, now an NU medical student. A fifth Fischer, Jack, now in the navy, plans to enroll at Nebraska next year.

The Fischer clan started playing football "because there was nothing else to do" in the small town of St. Edward, Neb., where they grew up. They have always received a lot of encouragement from their parents, who never seem to tire of watching their sons stampe up and down the NU gridiron.
