Hall Memorial to Lyman Pharmacy Dean Also Its Founder

Founder of the University College of Pharmacy, Rufus Ashley Lyman became its first dean 50 years ago.

Honorary president of both the American Pharmaceutical Assn., from 1952 to 1953, and the American Institute of the History of Pharmacy in 1955, he was also an honorary member of the American Assn. of Colleges of Pharmacy in 1956.

Editor

Lyman founded the American Journal of Pharmaceutical Education in 1937 and was its editor until 1956. He was a Remington Medalist in 1947 and was honorary founder of Kappa Epsilon in 1955.

He resigned from the University faculty in 1947 and went to the University of Arizona where he founded a College of Pharmacy and held the position of dean for three years.

After devoting most of his life to the field of pharmacy, he died last year at the age of 82.

Memorial

A memorial fund has been established in his name to be used to improve the competency of teaching in Pharmacy College. The money will be distributed to help promote the teaching and research activities of the college, to obtain research equipment not available with tax funds, to send faculty members to seminars and scientific meetings, and to provide fellowships for needy and deserving graduate and under-graduate students.

Some of the funds will be used to furnish a lounge in Lyman Hall for the use of pharmacy students, according to Dean Joseph Burt.

Alumni and friends of the College of Pharmacy, as well as the State Pharmaceutical Assn. and pharmaceutical companies, have donated money to the fund.

Student Health Opens to 3,600

Ills, Injuries, Flu, Physicals Keep Campus Doctors Busy

Some 3,619 patients have visited the Student Health Center since its opening Sept. 2.

More than half the total were ill, some came to take physical exams, others came in with intramural sports injuries and many came with cases of flu or the common cold.

To date, 69 people have been admitted to the hospital, located on second floor.

Most surprising, Dr. S. I. Fuenning, medical director of the health center said, was the number of flu cases.

"We've had more than usual for this time of year," he commented.

Vaccines

"We do have several influenza vaccines available for the different strains of virus," said the doctor. "We think it is advisable for people to be immunized against the flu."

Injuries caused by intramural sports are not unusual, Dr. Fuenning said, but "it is my impression that we are having more of these injuries than previously."

When asked how the medical staff liked the new building, Dr. Fuenning said, "As a whole, it is satisfactory. "It is taking time to make the readjustment, of course. As in any new building, there are difficulties to be ironed out."

Night Entrance

One of the difficulties seems to be the night entrance, a door on the east side of the building that is used after 5 p.m. Many students have had trouble using it, Dr. Fuenning commented.

The entrance system operates in this manner:

A buzz at the night entrance notifies the nurse on second floor that someone is there. Through a two-way speaker, the nurse may talk with the person. The door is opened by the nurse through use of an electric lock. Then the person can proceed directly upstairs to see the nurse on duty.
