Homecoming Finalists Announced

Candidates Presented At Rally

Five Homecoming Queen finalists were revealed at the University pep rally Friday night.

They are Sharon Fangman, Helen Hockabout, Jolaine Loseke, Jan Savener and Sondra Whalen.

Queen Elected

One of the five was elected queen at the voting after the rally. She will be announced at the half-time of the Homecoming game with Missouri Nov. 1. She will also be presented at the Homecoming Dance that evening at the Coliseum.

Sharon Fangman, 20, is a junior in Teachers College, Union committee chairman, rush chairman of Kappa Delta and a member of Tassels and Newman Club.

Helen Hockabout, 20, is a junior in Arts and Sciences, scholarship chairman of Kappa Alpha Theta, and a member of AUF, Builders and Tassels.

Jolaine Loseke, 20, is a junior in the College of Agriculture, 1957 Dairy Princess, secretary of Student Council, activities chairman of Alpha Chi Omega and a member of Home Economics Club, Phi Upsilon Omicron and Tassels.

Jane Savener, 21, is also a junior in the College of Agriculture. She is publicity chairman of Tassels, secretary of Ag YWCA, 1957 Hello Girl, president of Love Memorial Hall and a member of Home Economics Club.

Sondra Whalen, 20, is a junior in Arts and Sciences, a Red Cross Board member, a 1958 Cornhusker Beauty Queen, 1958 Miss E-Week, staff writer for the Daily Nebraskan, song leader of Alpha Omicron Pi and a member of Tassels and Theta Sigma Phi.

Selection Basis

The finalists were presented by Tassels president Georgann Humphrey. They were selected on the basis of leadership, poise, service to the University, campus loyalty and personality.

The five were chosen from a group of 25 by a board of judges, including Corn Cobs president, Yell King, Tassels officers, N-Club president and a faculty adviser.

Last year's Homecoming Queen was Karen Krueger.

Scholarship Applications—

Fulbright Offers Study Fellowships

The deadline for filing applications for Fulbright scholarships is Oct. 31.

These fellowships offer American graduates an opportunity to study abroad. The awards cover transportation, expenses of taking a language refresher or orientation course, tuition, books and maintenance for one academic year.

Allowance

The maintenance allowance is based on the cost of living in the host country. No transportation or maintenance allowance is provided for dependents.

Requirements for the scholarships include U.S. citizenship, a Bachelor degree or its equivalent before the beginning date of the grant and good health. Any knowledge of the language of the host country is beneficial and preference will be given to applicants under 35 years of age.

Four years of professional study is generally acceptable in lieu of a bachelor's degree in the creative and performing arts. Social workers should have a master's degree and four years of professional education and workers' edusional experience. In adult education, four years of practical experience is acceptable.

Study Plan

Applicants who have not lived or studied abroad are usually given preference. Time spent abroad in the armed forces does not affect eligibility.

Applicants should propose a study plan or project in their major field. Graduating seniors must describe a program of study which can be carried out in one year.

Recommendations are based on academic or professional ability and feasibility of the proposed study and the applicant's personal qualities.

Applicants selected for the scholarships will be notified before Feb. 28th.

Countries participating in the Fulbright program are Argentina, Australia, Austria, Belgium and Luxembourg, Burma, Chile, China, Denmark, Ecuador, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, Iceland, India, Israel, Italy, Japan, Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, Peru, Philippines, Turkey and the United Kingdom.

Poetry Trio Will Have Rotating 3rd

The University television Poetry Trio will have a rotating third member this year for its new series entitled "A New Look at an Old Book."

The trio present "Conversation Piece" Wednesdays over KUON-TV, Channel 12, at 8:30 p.m.

Regular members are professors Bernice Slote and Robert Knoll of the English department.

The third members and the programs scheduled follow:

Oct. 15—"The Merchant of Venice," Esther Montgomery.

Oct. 22—"Gulliver's Travels," Part I, Ray Frantz.

Oct. 29—"Gulliver's Travels," Part II, Ray Frantz.

Nov. 5—"Huckleberry Finn," Robert Hough.

Nov. 12—"Macbeth," Thomas M. Rayson.

Nov. 19—"Ivanhoe," Belle Farman.

Dec. 3—"Idylls of the King," Ross Garner.

Dec. 10—"Romeo and Juliet," Karl Shapiro.

Dec. 17—"A Tale of Two Cities," Walter Wright.

Jan. 7—"Silas Marner," Gene Hardy.

Jan. 14—"Julius Caesar," Paul Olson.

Jan. 21—"Robinson Crusoe," Ray W. Frantz.

Jan. 28—"The Stories of Edgar Allan Poe," Robert Hough.

Homecoming Float Ideas Due Soon

Float entries for the 1958 Homecoming parade are due Oct. 20.

Letters explaining the title and theme of the float should be sent to Colleen Christianson at 3420 Holdrege. No entry fee is required.

The floats will be judged on labeling, appeal, originality, resourcefulness, welcoming grads and effect. Expenses are limited to $25.

Competition is divided into three divisions: men, women and honoraries. Farmhouse won the men's division, Fedde Hall won the women's and N-Club won the honoraries last year.

First place division winners will receive a permanent plaque. Honorable mention winners will be awarded a traveling plaque. The top drill team in the parade will also receive an award this year.

Trying Day

BAND DAY is a busy and trying day for NU students and high school bandsmen and women. At left Sue Sahn and Larry Schneider win serve high school students at the lunch sponsored by Builders and the University Band. Below, the nightmare moment comes to a high school twirler as she drops her baton— and right in front of approximately 38,000 people, too.

Hunter to Define Role of Speech

Dr. Armand Hunter will speak today at 3 p.m. in Howell Memorial Theater. The public is invited; admission is free.

The chairman of Michigan State University's Department of Speech and Dramatic Arts will speak on "The Role of Communication Arts in Education for a Sputnik Age."

No Strings Attached To $14,000 Gift

A bequest from the estate of Carl Herman Larson, a successful engineer in British Columbia who died last year, was accepted by the Board of Regents at their meeting Saturday.

Journalist Fraternity Initiates 6

SDX Fall Meet

The initiation of six new undergraduates, a short speech and question-answer session with Ralph Brooks, Democratic candidate for governor, and the non-appearance of Donald Ross of Omaha, National Nebraska Republican Committeeman, highlighted Sigma Delta Chi's fall initiation Friday night.

The professional journalistic fraternity, meeting at the University Club, heard Brooks discuss Nebraska's tax situation and answer other political questions fired at him by undergraduates and professional newsmen.

Both he and Ross had been invited to attend the initiation, but the Republican Committeeman failed to arrive at the meeting, president Dick Sharue said.

The fraternity took in six new members. They are Dick Basco of Lincoln, Jerry Grossart of Wolbach, Don Eversoll of Grand Island, Duane Snodgrass of Grodon, Randall Lambert of Columbus and Douglas McCartney of Norfolk.

Free Enterprise Subject of Talk

"The independent merchant is still the backbone of what is left of our so-called free enterprise system."

So says Edward Wimmer, who will discuss "Free Enterprise Kills Free Enterprise" at the 24th annual convention of the Nebraska Poultry Association at the College of Agriculture Oct. 14-16.

Wimmer, vice president of the National Federation of Independent Business, Cincinnati, O., adds that the independent man is the best hope of the large and small manufacturer—the very hub around which a democratic distribution system must revolve.

Tryka Bell Named Hello Girl, More Than 300 Attend Dance

Tryka Bell, sophomore from Love Memorial Hall, was crowned 1958 Hello Girl Saturday. Performing the coronation was another Love coed, Jane Savener, 1957 title holder.

More than 300 persons attended the Hello Girl Dance, which was held in the Student Union Ballroom from 9-12 p.m.

Miss Bell was the first recipient of a new trophy which will pass from one year's Hello Girl to the next one.

Votes were cast by persons attending the dance for five finalists for the title. Other candidates were Dorothy Glade, junior in Teachers, Myrna Richard, junior in Arts and Science, Mavis Dworak, sophomore in Music and Carol Kucera, sophomore in Teachers.

Miss Bell, who is enrolled in Home Ec., is a sophomore board member of BABW, a Union worker, member of Ag YWCA, and Home Ec Club.

The five finalists were chosen from a field of 14 candidates who appeared before a panel of judges consisting of George Moyer, Daily Nebraskan managing editor, Miss Frances Davis, BABW sponsor, Doris Eby, BABW president, Nan Carlson, Mortar Board, Dick Moses, Innocent and Bob Grimmit, RAM.

Lyle Hansen, senior in Business Administration, was m.c. at the dance, which featured Bill Alber's combo.

After hearing two representatives of the home extension project in Kearney County, Mrs. Elmer Bergsten of Norman and Mrs. Harold Brown of Minden, the Board of Regents moved to table the matter of Mrs. Whitesel's resignation until more information concerning the matter was available.

In other action, the board accepted gifts of an oil painting and a sculpture to the University art collection.

The oil painting, "The Charge of the Light Brigade" by Roy Lichtenstein, was presented by Dr. Bernard Kronenberg of New York.

The sculpture in cast stone, "Mountain Figure" by Louis Nevelson, was presented by Miss Anita Berliawsky of Rockland, Maine.

Both works of art have been in the gallery on loan.

Appointments

Among new appointments approved by the board is that of Arthur Letcher Irons, director of clinics and an associate in surgery.

D. Irons has been administrative assistant at Emory University Dental School since 1957.

From 1926-57 he was a member of the U.S. Army Dental Corps. He received his Doctor of Dental Surgery degree from Vanderbilt University in 1924.

Dr. Oliver Grace, associate professor of animal pathology, was permitted by the board to serve as a member of the basic sciences examination board for the State Board of Health.

In addition, the board approved the resignations of Mrs. Patricia Birtles, part-time instructor in architecture, in order that she may return to England next year.

Welby Stevens, lecturer in meteorology, department of geography, who has been ill since 1957, was named assistant professor of entomology and assistant entomologist.

Peter Foster, research associate in chemistry, effective when assignment is completed.

Franklin Morse, assistant county ag extension agent in order to enter military service.
