

Sigma Nu Rattles Sammie Cause 32-6

Hergenrader Passes To Levy and Wenzel For Frat Championship

Sigma Nu, under the field generalship of Dick "Yogi" Hergenrader, romped over the Sammie Seven Monday, 32-6.

The aerial onslaught—Hergenrader to Don Wenzel for three TDs and Jerry Levy for two—was too much for the Sammy secondary to handle. This combined with the hard-hitting Sigma Nu defense, held the SAM team to one tally.

The Sammy TD came in the first quarter with a pass from Norman Phillips to Howard Lipton which was set up by a 40-yd completion to Stan Widman.

The Sig Nu Snakes seemed able to score at will—the Sammies never quite adjusting to the complete aerial offense.

Two Snake TDs were made possible by pass receptions. Yogi Hergenrader ran back one pass interception 45 yards to hit paydirt and Jerry Levy was stopped just short of the goal line after intercepting a pass and returning it 40 yds.

Norm Phillips connected with Stan Widman on four Sammy passes and Stan executed two interceptions.

Superb blocking by Ed Armstrong and Lou Schultz's rushing aided the Sig Nu cause immeasurably.

Injuries Plague Huskers; Missouri Also Banged Up

By Norman Beatty

Husker hopes for a homecoming victory this Saturday may be in the hands of sophomore halfback Pat Fischer. Fischer who is suffering from a sprained ankle and a bad shoulder is a doubtful starter for the coming game. Pat, 163 pounds, seems to be the key to the Scarlet and Cream when it comes to offense.

Gacusana Another player slated as "doubtful" by Jennings, is tackle Joe Gacusana who is suffering a twisted knee. The thin cornhuskers will again be without the services of Roland McDole and Dean Flock.

"We plan to have a light workout today for the boys who saw action Saturday and a scrimmage for the others not seeing action against the Frosh squad," commented the Husker mentor.

Bright spots in the remaining line-up are the phenomenal services of the triple-threat George Harshman. He has punted 24 times for 949 yds. and a 39.5 average. But more interesting is the accuracy of his boots.

Sullivan Is IM 'Star of Week'

By Don Eversoll
Bob Sullivan of the highly-touted Sigma Nu pigskin squad is the latest entry in The Daily Nebraskan's 'Star of the Week' parade. Bob received top billing among intramural athletes last week, as he led his teammates to a 26-0 romp over Sigma Alpha Epsilon in the former's initial game of the All-University championships. The star lineman's performance was indicative of the kind of ball that he can and does, play in University intramural circles.

The Bus. Ad. major totes 200 pounds on a lanky 6'4" frame, and utilizes his physical capacities to the 'Nth' degree in his role as a pass-catching end. With team-mate Yogi Hergenrader tossing most of the passes, Bob has managed a nifty two-per-game average in the TD column for the 16th street team.

Notre Dame was the scene for Bob's first year of college.

During his enrollment there, he participated in basketball in the intramural program.

Upon transferring to N.U., he wasted little time in getting into the limelight of the roundball sport as he assisted the '58 Sigma Nu quintet to the championship circle in 'A' basketball last spring.

This year has been Bob's first attempt at playing football on somewhat of a large scale. The 21-year-old star was state champion in high school golf in 1955 and received all-city honors for outstanding play in basketball his senior year in high school. He was unable to participate in the pigskin sport due to, in large part, a leg injury.

Bob names Dick Place of the Betas, as the most outstanding player he has played against in the intramural loop. Concerning officiating in the program, he believes that "the referees have done an outstanding job this year".

Betas Win Fall Tennis Crown, Phi Delt's Next

Beta Theta Pi ran away with the Fall Tennis trophy by scoring 63 points, 9 more than their nearest rival Phi Delta Theta.

Jack Craft won the second flight and Gaylord Brinlee took the third flight to lead the Beta scoring. Bill Kendall also picked up valuable points in the first flight. Points are scored on the basis of match victories. A win in the sixth flight is worth one point, and wins in each of the other flights are proportionally more according to the difficulty of the competition.

Albert deArrigunaga earned the individual medal by winning the first flight for Avery House. His efforts also sent Avery to third place in the overall standings.

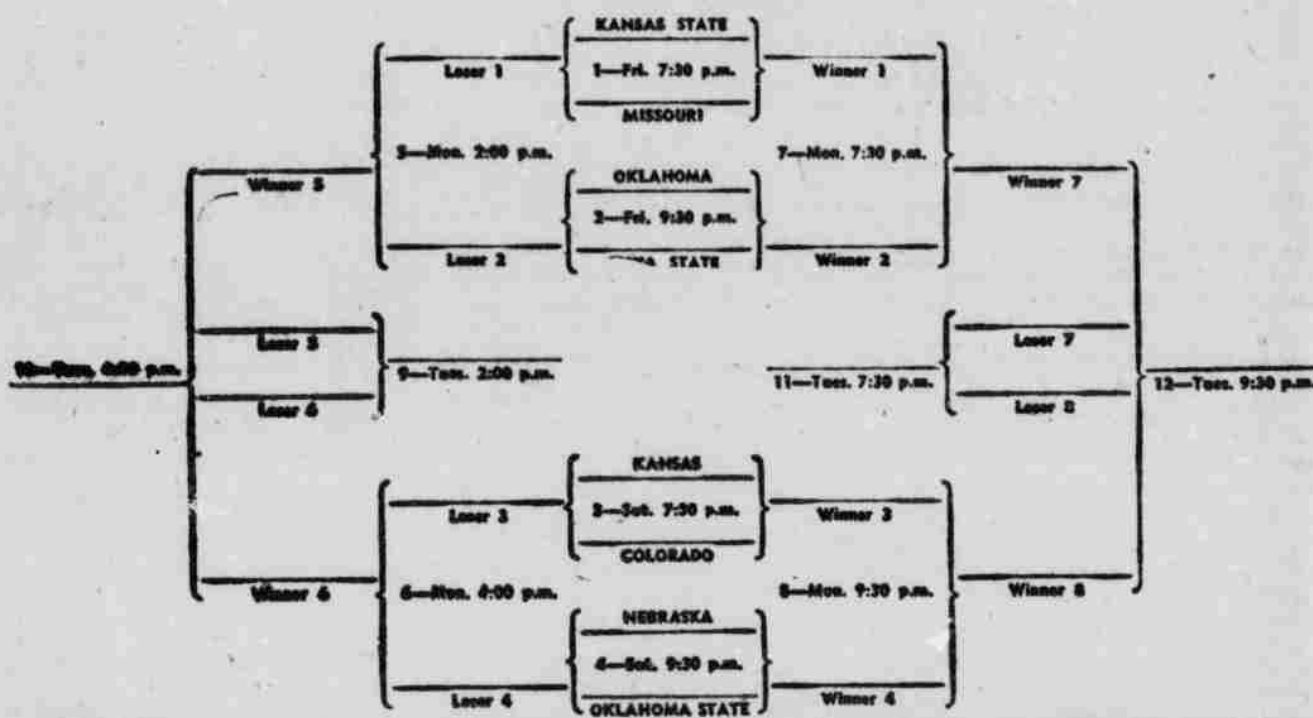

Flight Winners
1st Flight . . . Al deArrigunaga, Avery
2nd Flight . . . Jack Craft, Beta
3rd Flight . . . Bob Hall, Phi Delta
4th Flight . . . Gaylord Brinlee, Beta
5th Flight . . . Cobe Evner, Phi Delt

6th Flight . . . Don Bell, Sigma Chi
Independent . . . Stan Krushwitz

NU'S GOOD RIGHT ARM

"Word that the University of Nebraska Foundation assets have increased more than a quarter of a million dollars in 1957 is good news.

This brings the total assets of the Foundation to a respectable $2,417,712 figure. Total new funds of the Foundation, received during 1957, totaled $676,048.

This made last year the best in the 22-year history of the organization.

Its program supplied funds for research projects, scholarships and grants-in-aid, fellowships, and assistantships, improvement in Museum exhibits, specialized research equipment, judging teams expense, faculty support, lectureships and teaching awards.

One of the fine things about the Foundation's work is that it makes possible activities and implements that could not otherwise come about and lends stability to the long-range growth plans of the University.

The Foundation is the University's good right arm, making possible more intensive efforts in the fields for which universities exist.

Under the tested leadership of John K. Selleck who will serve as president for the next two years, the Foundation is assured of expanding the fine record it has made in the past."

From an editorial in The Lincoln Journal.

Cornshucks

by Larry Novicki

By Larry Novicki
It was quite a game the big Cornhuskers played out at Colorado. It always seems so terribly cruel when an underdog battles heroically against a nearly invincible foe and cannot quite take the victory. It is a case where 100 per cent of effort equals only three quarters of output. Not fair, is it?

Predictions
This has really been a bad year for predictions. Both of my pre-season choices for the intramural football crown were defeated in tourney play. The Phi Psi's got whacked off by SAE 18-12, and the defending champ Sig Ep's were nosed out by Sigma Nu. Sigma Nu then went on to knock out SAE, who was my third choice.

Then to top things off, I picked Alpha Phi to win in soccer baseball, and the Chi O's soundly thrashed them 16-9.

But, as I said, it is a bad year for predictions. Just this past week the experts were practically driven to madness by the outcome of games across the nation. Texas, conquerer of Oklahoma and fourth ranked in the nation, was crushed by Rice 34-7; Kansas bested Tulane who had upset a good Navy team the week before; and Army, everyone's top team, was tied by Pitt, 14-14.

Sports Illustrated
I had a good time looking through the September 22 issue of Sports Illustrated—the football preview issue. Red Grange said "Penn State has too much power for Nebraska." In another part of the magazine a staff writer predicted "another lean year for Northwestern." The Wildcats just lost their first game Saturday to powerful Iowa.

Well, that should give me enough excuses for making a couple of wrong guesses.

Champions
Congratulations are in order for the first few all-university champs. Alpha Gamma Rho took the shuffleboard, SAE won both the Fall Golf and the free throw titles, and Beta Theta Pi was the tennis winner. Individuals taking honors were Bill Hemmer in golf, Albert Arrigunaga of Avery in tennis, and Clay Richmond of SAE in free throws. Only about 34 more champs to be crowned.

IM Basketball
All fraternities, resident halls, and independents are asked to start organizing teams for the 1958-59 intramural basketball season.

The teams will play a single round robin schedule plus a double elimination tournament for the University championship.

Entries are due not later than Thursday noon, November 4, at the Physical Education Building, room 102, with the team roster and fee.
