Dennis Emanuel 'Star of the Week'

By Charles Coffin

Dennis Emanuel, who played his first two years of varsity football back in the days of Bobby Reynolds, is, at 25, an "old-timer" on this year's unusually young Nebraska team. His typically alert, jarring play against Colorado last Saturday has earned him the Daily Nebraskan "Star of the Week" award.

Emanuel lettered for the Big Red as a defensive end in 1951-52, then left school and entered the army. He was stationed in Germany, where he played two seasons of service ball, receiving his discharge in 1956. After working for two years on his father's farm near North Bend, he returned to NU this fall.

DENNIS EMANUEL

from a two-platoon to a one-platoon game during his absence, and 6-1, 200-lb. Emanuel found he was more servicable under the new system as a guard.

This season, the last in which he'll be eligible, he's been blocking and tackling ferociously, and snatching up enemy fumbles like a youngster raiding a watermelon patch.

Opening practice sessions were rough for Dennis this fall after his long layoff, but he says that now the bumps and bruises of Big Eight competition don't bother him any more than they used to. "Actually," he points out, "at 25 you're supposed to be at your best, athletically."

Emanuel says he, too, has noticed the "oneness" and absence of dissension on the squad which other players have commented on. And the polite, unassuming lineman seems himself to be a big reason for the team's unity.

Comparing this year's edition of the Scarlet with NU's entries in the early fifties, Emanuel says the 1958 Huskers lack the size of the Reynolds-era teams, but have outdone them so far in spirit. "There was a lot of desire to win in the Colorado game," he emphasizes. "We were hitting them hard." (Underdog NU repeatedly jarred the ball loose from Buff runners and blocked two kicks in a well-fought 27-16 defeat.)

Dennis at one time thought of coaching as a career, but lost interest in the profession while he was out of school. Being in the army, which he says "makes you realize what an education means," convinced him, though, that he should go back to college. He's now majoring in geology, and hopes to get a job with an oil company when he graduates.

Wedding bells sounded for the Husker star this summer. His pretty wife, Joanne, is a teacher at Sheridan grade school in Lincoln.

Texas No. 81

It seems as though no. 81 is the magic number on the University of Texas football team.

Maurice Doke, who at 18 was a star sophomore end on the Texas eleven last year, wears jersey no. 81, the same number worn by three Texas U. All-American wingmen — Joe Parker, 1943; Hob Bechtol, 1944-45-46; and Carlton Massey, 1953.

Soccer Team Wins

The University of Nebraska Soccer Club drew 2-2 with the Germans last Sunday in Omaha.

The Scarlet for the most of the game were ahead by a score of 2-1 until the last five minutes of play, when the Germans scored via the penalty route.

The Husker tallies were made by Martyn Bowden in two plays of the forward line in combination with the fullbacks Hermann Ridder and Martin Carracedo.

The team has a record of 2-2-1 for the season.

Next game will be this coming Sunday at 2 o'clock at Peter Pan Park, when Nebraska will meet the Midwest champs, Lithuanica from Omaha.
