'Friendly' Expert Visits NU

Understanding of Foreign Students Her Aim

An ambassador of understanding—this might be the title given to Mrs. Ruth Purkapple, who arrived for a two day visit at the University Tuesday.

Mrs. Purkapple, program director of the Committee on Friendly Relations among Foreign Students, finds it hard to give a thumbnail description of her job.

To Pave Understanding
As the title of the committee she represents indicates, her job is to pave the way for better understanding between foreign and American students. This involves spending about one-third of her time travelling around the country, talking and working with both student and administrative groups.

Here at the University, she met with YWCA officers and sat in on a discussion group, met with University pastors and their wives, conferred with Dr. G. W. Rosenlof, foreign student advisor and spoke to AUF.

The Mortar Board Foreign

Student tour sponsored annually over Easter vacation was one of the specific things she wanted to look into here, Mrs. Purkapple said.

The tour usually covers a large part of the state and is designed to acquaint University foreign students with the state beyond the Lincoln city limits. Mrs. Purkapple commented that she hoped this program might eventually be adopted in other Universities.

Mrs. Purkapple added that she hadn't been to this University in five or six years.

"One reason I have been here so little is because of Dr. Rosenlof being such a good foreign student advisor," she said.

Last year, Mrs. Purkapple was one of the Americans accompanying touring Russian students in this country.

"I think we need to understand much more of their mentality, and they ours," she said. The Russian students seemed interested in seeing a different phase of life than that planned for their tour, she commented.

"They wanted to see the 'peasants' and mass worker meetings," she said.

This problem of understanding involves more than mere language, she added. Concepts and ideology were mentioned as areas in which the average college student here is completely ignorant of in people of differing cultures. When the Russian student tour was being planned, officers poured in from Universities to have the students visit.

However, Mrs. Purkapple said, in many cases, these same universities had two or three hundred foreign students there at the time who were not understood.

Much of her work now centers around meeting with student and church groups on campuses. It is at the level of the average student that the progress in understanding must come, she said.

Mrs. Purkapple has just completed visits to Colorado and Denver Universities, and goes from here to the University of Minnesota Medical School, Wisconsin University, Purdue, and Washington University in St. Louis, Mo.

'Y' Publication Honors '56 Grad

A 1956 University graduate was travelling editor of the November issue of Intercollegian, national publication of the YW and YMCA's.

Bev Deepe, who last year did graduate work in journalism at Columbia University, was one of the 40 American students who went on the first student exchange to Russia.

A series of four articles on her trip was recently distributed nationally by the Associated Press.

Delta Sigma Pi Backs Jennings

Coach Bill Jennings has received unanimous support by one campus organization, and Delta Sigma Pi has challenged other groups to do the same.

The business administration fraternity sent a letter of support to the Coach stating that they understand his problems and remain behind him.

The letter was prompted by the recent hanging in effigy of the coach.

The letter reads in part: "We, the members of Delta Sigma Pi, . . . wish to take this opportunity of voicing our 100 per cent support of you and your coaching staff. We share in your heartaches and disappointments of the past and current football seasons.

"However, we do believe in your program. We believe it is constructive and will in time fulfill its intended purpose. We do not believe in over night miracles. Neither do we believe in, nor do we condone, the actions of a minority group which always seems to appear when things don't go just right. These people do not speak for the real Cornhuskers; certainly, they do not speak for us."
Delta Sigma Pi is one of two groups to accept and match the Daily Nebraskan's challenge of 100 per cent membership in the Extra-Point Club.
