Swimming Course Starts Nov. 17
 A Red Cross Handicapped Swimming Instructor's course will be offered in the YWCA pool Nov. 17-21 from 7-10 p.m. The course, which will be taught by Rusty Gates, Red Cross Field Representative, will include explanations and demonstrations of methods used in teaching swimming to handicapped children and adults. All members of the Red Cross Water Safety committee and any other interested persons are urged to attend. Upon completion of the 15-hour course, persons holding current Water Safety Instructor's certificates will be eligible to receive Handicapped Swimming Instructor's certificates.

No Dance Room? Try the Sewer
 A fraternity at last has found a place to hold a Halloween party where you don't have to pay rent and can use one of the largest dance floors in the world. The Kansas State Collegian reports that at the University of Southern California a "Sewer Party" was staged with about 300 students slithering into the city's storm drain. A three-piece combo blared out rock and roll tunes in the cement cavern as the costumed students danced over a mile-length of the 10-foot wide drain. To keep in harmony with the surroundings, punch was served from 20-gallon garbage cans.

Outside World
 An unhappy baker in Cranston, R. I., emptied the wastebasket not knowing that $340 had fallen into it. He is now appealing to the treasury department for fresh currency to replace the "burned dough."
Students Can't Gamble
 All-day poker games which kept Birmingham University (England) students away from classes and meals were banned—particularly when it was discovered that scholarship grants were being gambled away.
Concrete Evidence
 Damage estimated at $600 was caused when a motorist put 2 to 6 inch tracks in fresh concrete pavement at the intersections of 70th and Holdrege and 71st and Holdrege Saturday night.
No Sunday Paper
 As the result of a government order and the decision of newspaper vendors who do not wish to work on Sunday, Sunday papers will not be printed in Belgium.
Sight-see, Don't Climb
 Climbing in the European Alps took 100 less lives this year than last year, reaching a total of 283.

Hardin Attends Land Grant Meet
 Chancellor Clifford Hardin and 10 other University staff members besides Dean Weaver are attending the 72nd annual meeting of the American Association of Land-Grant Colleges and State Universities. The meeting ends Thursday. The delegation attending includes Deans W. V. Lambert, College of Agriculture; Walter Miltzer, College of Arts and Sciences, and Merck Hobson, College of Engineering. Others in the party are Dr. K. O. Broady, director of the Extension Division; Dr. E. F. Frolik, associate director of the Nebraska Agricultural Experiment Station; Dr. F. E. Eldridge, associate director of resident instruction at the agricultural college. Miss Agnes Arthand, state Home Extension leader; Dr. Florence McKinney, chairman of the Home Economics department; E. W. Janke, associate director of the Agricultural Extension Service, and George Round, director of public relations.
Sigma Xi Speaker
 Dr. Stuart Pady of Kansas State College will speak at the Sigma Xi meeting tonight. His lecture, "Mycology, Weather, and Man," is scheduled for 7:30 in the Bessey Hall Auditorium.

Off-Campus Grad Training Studied
 Dean John Weaver, of the University Graduate College, urged the American Association of Land-Grant Colleges and State Universities to make a comprehensive study of off-campus graduate instruction. The association is holding a sectional meeting of the annual convention in Washington D.C. Many college-trained scientific and technical personnel want more education, generally at the graduate level, to improve their professional competence, Dean Weaver said. Employers many times now support further education for their staffs.
Far From Campus
 "Often these scientific-technical people are located far from university campuses," he said, "and because they are mature and have family responsibilities they cannot leave their jobs for instruction on a college campus."
Pressures have been
 "Further, there is the belief held by many educators that the best graduate is the one which comes from intimate and prolonged contact with university life, on the campus."
 "There are many ramifications to the off-campus problem. In sum, we have on one hand a strong and, probably in most instances, sincere need, and a variety of blinking yellow lights of caution, if not red lights of danger, on the other hand. The heart of the problem is the complex concept of residency."
Young Demos, GOP Friendly
 People must be real friendly down at Kansas State. The K-State Collegian reported nonchalantly that the Young Democrats and the Young Republicans had an election night party. Coffee was served and a radio and television set were provided.

Lincolnite Pictures Scheduled Over Vacation For Cornhusker
 Lincoln student residents may have their pictures taken for the 1959 Cornhusker at Edholm-Blomgren studio during Thanksgiving vacation. Lincoln residents include those students who are neither living in dorms nor organized houses, but who wish to have their pictures in the yearbook. Married students, Lincoln independents, and students living in apartments or with relatives for the school year are included in this category. "Edholm's has agreed to take pictures of University students from 9 to 11 a.m. and 3 to 5 p.m. Nov. 26, and Nov. 28," Dick Basoco, photography editor of the Cornhusker said. Other students who will be in Lincoln over the vacation and have not had their picture taken as yet may schedule their pictures for this time. Retakes will also be taken. All students wishing to have their pictures taken during Thanksgiving vacation should call or come in to the Cornhusker office in the basement of the Union. The price of the four proofs is $2.50. Edholm-Blomgren studio is located at 318 South 12th.

 two days after the final game of the season.
 Moved
 Michaels was a linebacker as a sophomore and junior, but was moved to middle guard on defense this year. John Guzik, a strong candidate for All-American honors, shared the left guard spot with Michaels in 1957, but since these two were the only lettermen returning at guard, Coach John Michelson decided to move one of them. "Both boys were too good to have one of them on the bench," said Michelson. Line Coach Jack Wiley, an all-league pro tackle in 1948, doesn't hesitate to praise Michaels. "He's like the front line soldier," said Michaels. "He does his job and that is it. He has the fight of an All-American."
