A steering committee to coordinate the Student Council members who will observe registration under the new alphabetical system has been appointed.

All five members are juniors.

J-Students Awarded Gold Keys

High First Year Averages Honored

Gold Keys went to six top students of the School of Journalism yesterday.

Charles Coffin, Del Hood, Mary Apking, Barbara Barker, Patty Foster and John Holt received the Journal-Star keys. The keys are awarded annually to the six students who compile the best average in their first year in the School of Journalism.

Neale Cople, city editor of the Lincoln Journal, made the presentations at the third annual J-School Christmas party held in the Journalism Office in Burnett.

Coffin earned a 7.813 average last year; Miss Apking, a 6.816 record; Miss Barker, a 6.8 average; and Miss Foster, a 6.529 average. They are all sophomores.

Hood, a graduate of Hastings College, made a 7.000 average in his first year at the University. Holt, a senior, recorded 6.438.

Special recognition was made of Marilyn Coffey, who would have received one of the keys next year. Miss Coffey, a senior, has been enrolled in the J-School only one semester and therefore will graduate before having completed the full year necessary for award.

SUI J-School Internships Set

Four internships are available to outstanding graduate students for the academic year 1959-60 in conjunction with the school of journalism at the State University of Iowa.

Two of these public information internships offer general experience in educational public relations with the News and Information Service, one offers specialized work in sports publicity and one provides experience in magazine writing and layout.

Public information interns receive stipends of $145 per month. Interested students may write James Jordan, Director of University Relations, State University of Iowa, Iowa City, Ia., for further information.

of such a steering committee in a letter to Rogge.

The registrar's plan for alphabetical registration to replace the present system of registration according to accumulated hours has been criticized by many students.

"Perhaps I might be an ex-officio ad hoc member of the steering committee," Dr. Hoover's letter read.

"Since I have had some experience with registration, I know some of the weak spots. This knowledge might be useful in planning the attack," the letter continued.

"I have no wish to serve as an adviser, but only as an ex-officio member," Dr. Hoover added.

"Will Accept" "I think the Student Council would be most willing to accept him in such a capacity," Rogge commented.

"This committee will be concerned not only with just one aspect of registration but with all parts of the registration program," said Rogge.

"Every phase should be studied as much as the time available will allow."

The Council plans to study the new registration procedure at first hand by having two or three of its members present during the days that the alphabetical system is in progress.

Possible Combination "Maybe students will like some parts of the new program; then the best parts, of both the old and new systems could be combined," commented the Council president.

"As the tentative plan now stands," Rogge explained, "at least two and possibly three Student Council members will be present on the registration floor at all times."

"Then, the steering committee can combine results from these Council members and make recommendations to the Council on future registration procedure," Rogge said.

The committee will begin operation immediately.

Senior Pictures To Be Taken After Vacation

Senior students' pictures for the 1959 Cornhusker will be taken starting Jan. 5, immediately after vacation.

The pictures will be taken at Edholm-Blomgren Studios, 318 South 12th Street.

Appointments for the pictures should be made either by calling or coming in to the Cornhusker office in the basement of the Union, Dick Basoco, associate editor in charge of photography, said.

"All Lincoln residents who have not yet had their picture taken should have it taken at this time," Basoco added.

Alpha Zeta

Alpha Zeta, agriculture honorary, will meet Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in Keim Hall 306.

Faculty alumni members are welcome to attend. New members will be initiated.

Well, Shroeder, You've Done It

Well, Shroeder, you've done it. Your idol is now a campus hero, worthy of birthday celebrations.

Your long, untiring campaign, your many signs, your dauntless enthusiasm for Ludwig (despite Lucy's stupid blunder in nomenclature) has turned the trick.

Dec. 16 is a day that will long be remembered. Even in the most researching branch of the researchers, time was taken yesterday to honor your hero.

Doughnuts and coffee were served in the Dept. of Bacteriology as official recognition of Beethoven's birthday.

Final Round Knocks Out NU Debaters

After surviving the preliminary rounds, two University debate teams were defeated in the final rounds of the debate tournament at Winfield, Kan., this weekend.

The teams reaching the finals were Wanda Head and Phyllis Elliott, and Donald Epp and I. R. Ashelman.

Dick Shugrue went through two preliminary rounds of oratory competition to place third in the finals.

Some 40 schools were entered in the tournament, called the Southwestern College Tournament. It is the oldest debate tournament in the United States.

Teams eliminated in the preliminaries were Gary Hill and Shugrue plus Robert Ross and Melvin Eikleberry.

Physics Colloquium

Dr. Bernard Harris, assistant professor of mathematics will discuss "Principles of Statistical Inference," at the Thursday Physics Colloquium.

Beginning at 4:15 p.m., the meeting will be held in Room 211, Brace Laboratory. Tea will be served at 3:45 p.m.

Dr. Burgi-

Audio Program Strengthened

By John Schroeder The University is strengthening its program for the hard of hearing.

Dr. Ernest Burgi, a former staff member, has returned to the University this year from Bowling Green State University, Bowling Green, O.

National Trend Dr. Burgi was brought to the University to strengthen the program in audiology and help to bring the University's program more in line with the national trend toward increased emphasis in providing services for the hard of hearing.

Although Burgi's primary responsibilities are in the field of audiology, he will also do some work in the speech pathology program.

The University's speech and hearing laboratories, part of the speech department, conduct a program of services for the hard of hearing which includes training of students in the

Expansion Budget May be Fought

More legislative resistance will be given to the expansion budget than to the continuation budget, Dr. Joseph Soshnik, University comptroller, indicated yesterday.

Both budgets will be closely scrutinized, said the comptroller, but there will "probably be more resistance to anything of an expansion nature."

'Justification' Needed "Both Governor Anderson and Governor-elect Brooks have indicated that expansion of service is something that has to be fully justified," Dr. Soshnik commented.

"And we can justify these programs," he emphasized. The expansion budget recommended to the Governor by the University is designed to enlarge and strengthen existing programs as well as to provide new programs.

The largest item in this budget is the $796,500 to be allotted to the Agricultural Experiment Station.

Proposed is a Sandhills Experiment Station in the Nebraska Division of the Nebraska National Forest.

Free Land Use The U.S. Forest Service will make available at no cost 10,000 acres of sandhills range land for research work. About $180,000 will be required to develop and operate the station in the next biennium.

"Priorities will be assigned" when the legislature appropriates money for the two budgets, "and I think higher priority will go to the continuation budget," commented Dr. Soshnik.

Nearly all of the continuation budget increase will be required for salary increases for University personnel—both academic and non-academic. This increase would serve largely to reduce the difference between the salaries of the University faculty and the national average for faculties of comparable institutions.

Piper Blaze Detected Quickly

Smoke filled the corridors of 4th floor Piper, women's residence hall, Sunday night, as a small fire broke out in Ann Dowling and Maureen McShane's room.

The fire was discovered at 9:00 p.m. by Janet Handler and was extinguished before great damage had occurred.

The cause of the fire is thought to be a smoldering cigarette discarded in the wastepaper basket.

Board of Managers Gives Unanimous OK

Ten Members Will Represent Segments of Campus Community

The Student Union Board of Managers voted unanimously Tuesday to accept a new constitution providing for an advisory Cabinet to the union activities committee.

The advisory Cabinet will consist of 10 students picked to represent specific segments of the campus community.

Representatives Representatives will be

Mrs. James Eller-

Dean's Assistant Appointed

Mrs. James Eller has been appointed to fill the vacancy left in the Division of Student Affairs by the resignation of Mrs. Frances Vogel.

Her title will be assistant to the dean, and her duties will include working with employment of women students, picked from each of the following groups: graduate students, married students, commuter students, international students, affiliated women, affiliated men, residence halls for men, residence halls for women, independent men and independent women.

Interviews will be held to fill the 10 cabinet positions after Christmas vacation, Miss Terry Mitchem, Union vice president, said.

The Cabinet will meet with the present Union Activities Committee and will advise the committee on matters concerning budget and programming.

Miss Mitchem, chairman of the committee which drew up plans for the advisory Cabinet, explained the reasons for the new groups.

All Greek "The Activities Board is all greek, and is predominantly women. Some of every student's money is spent on operating the Student Union Activities fund and we feel that they should all have a voice in how the money is spent."

Cabinet members will have at least junior standing and will be interviewed and selected by the city campus Student Union Activities Committee.

The Activities committee consists of eight students, so the 10-member advisory board could outvote the committee, Miss Mitchem said. However, she added, the Advisory cabinet will have a vote only on matters pertaining to programming and budget.

Duties of Cabinet members as outlined in the newly accepted constitution are:

"The City Campus Student Union Activities Committee and Student Union Advisory Cabinet shall jointly plan and adopt the annual City Campus Student Union activities program. A member of the Advisory Cabinet may at any time submit program suggestions for the consideration of both groups.

"Both the City Campus Student Union Activities Committee and the Student Union Advisory Cabinet shall vote on proposals for programming. Members of both bodies shall have equal voting privileges on matters pertaining to Student Union programming and program budgeting."

Cabinet members will serve one-year terms and may not re-apply for a second term.

Either Greek or Independent The representative for the commuters could be either a Greek or an independent, Miss Mitchem said. The same is true for the representatives of the residence halls. Representatives of independent men and women could come from dorms, co-ops or be Lincoln residents.

Members of the Advisory Cabinet will not necessarily be persons who have worked up through Union committees as are members of the Union Activities committee.

"Members of the Advisory Cabinet may serve on a Student Union Committee as a worker, but may not be members of the Board of Managers at the same time they are members of the Advisory Cabinets, and may not hold any other Student Union position such as Chairman or Assistant Chairman of a committee," the constitution stipulates.

Members of the committee which drew up the constitution are Miss Mitchem, chairman, Jon Bicha, Sally Downs, Miss Mary Mulvaney, assistant professor of physical education and Arnold Magnuson, members of the Board of Managers.

"Tale" on KUON "A Tale of Two Cities," by Dickens, will be discussed over KUON-TV tonight at 7:30 p.m.

Professors Bernice Sote, Robert Knoll and Walter Wright will talk about the book.

A graduate of the University College of Medicine, Col. Robert Benford, has been named director of the Armed Forces Medical Publications Agency and editor of the U. S. Armed Forces Medical Journal.

Col. Benford has served with the office of Assistant Secretary of Defense for Health and Medicine and was editor of the Journal of Aviation Medicine since 1955.

Another, an article, "Predicting Intelligence of Cerebral Palsied Speech," was co-authored with Dr. Matthews and appeared in the December, 1958 issue of the Journal of Speech and Hearing Research, an official publication of the American Speech and Hearing Association. He has several other publications in progress.
