The Christmas Story—

'Peace, Good Will Toward Men'

And it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed. And this taxing was first made when Cyrenius was governor of Syria. And all went to be taxed, every one to his own city.

And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judea, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem; (because he was of the house and lineage of David;) to be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child.

And so it was, that, while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered. And she brought forth her firstborn son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn.

The Shepherds

And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night. And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them and they were sore afraid.

And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.

And this shall be a sign unto you: Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger. And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God and saying,

Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.

Bethlehem

And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us.

And they came with haste, and found Mary, and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger. And when they had seen it, they made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning this child.

And all that heard it wondered at those things which were told them by the shepherds. But Mary kept all these things and pondered them in her heart.

Wise Men

Now when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judea in the days of Herod the king, behold, there came wise men from the east to Jerusalem, saying, Where is he that is born King of the Jews? for we have seen his star in the east, and are come to worship him.

When Herod the king had heard these things, he was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him. And when he had gathered all the chief priests and scribes of the people together, he demanded of them where Christ should be born.

And they said unto him, In Bethlehem of Judea: for thus it is written by the prophet,

And thou Bethlehem, in the land of Juda, art not the least among the princes of Juda: for out of thee shall come a Governor, that shall rule my people Israel.

Builders Present $8,500 Of Student Drive Pledges

Rag and Book—

Publications Party Puns Include People Eater

The purple people eater watched intently as members of pub board and the Daily Nebraskan crouched on the floor over a hot game of pick up sticks.

Meanwhile the teeny, non-smoking editor of the Cornhusker puffed on a pink cigarette and Santa Claus yelled 34!

Bags and Packages

Grab bag gifts came out of paper bags, faked large boxes, and a few were even wrapped for Christmas.

Every person was given a number and presented with the gift which had the corresponding number. A highly unique Santa Claus showed unerring aim in tossing the gifts at all lucky recipients as he shouted un-Santa Claus comments like "Bingo" or "Let's hurry up, I've got a class at four."

Santa, a distant relative of managing editor Moyer, blushed when he couldn't get the baby hula hoop won by writer Marilyn Coffey over his shoulders.

An assistant business manager of the Rag drew a spaceship to fly around a copy editor's globe pencil sharpener, and associate editor Dick Basoco was crushed when his sharpener already had shavings in it.

Horn Tooted

Sue Schnabel blew valiantly on her little toy horn while the pick up sticks narrowed to a close two-contestant race when Sandra Whalen gave up after jarring a blue stick.

One Rag copy editor sat in a corner oblivious to all the noise and mass confusion intently looking at the latest copy of "Hazel" jokes.

Editor Hines munched on chocolates that had come in coin-like packages.

Literature was not forgotten in the gift parade; Nancy Lewis received the latest copy of the literary journal "Mad."

Dick Masters received two cigars—and a roll of breath sweeteners.

Present No Surprise

George Moyer intently opened his beautifully wrapped package only to discover that he had seen the present before. But for the Rag's managing editor, the gift could serve good purpose—a package of cigarettes and a box of aspirins from another "sick, sick" member of student publications.

When the smoke and pick up sticks were cleared away, two staffs were seen beating wildly on typewriters to meet deadlines.

Herman Says Fund Expected To Hit $10,000

Don Herman, president of University Builders, presented Chancellor Clifford Hardin a pledge for $8,540.50 Thursday as part of the student contribution to the proposed Kellogg Center.

Builders, the organization sponsoring the student fundraising drive, is expected to reach its $10,000 goal by this week-end, Herman announced.

$928,000 Total

The student pledge and a $50,000 pledge from the Woods Charitable Fund of Lincoln, $10,000 from the Nebraska Motors Carriers Association and $5,000 from the Nebraska Council of Home Extension agents brought the total pledges to $928,000.

To take advantage of a $1.5 million grant from the W. K. Kellogg Foundation of Battle Creek, Mich., the University must raise $1.1 million by Dec. 31.

The students contributions were made by individuals in various campus organizations and houses, Herman said.

Pledge Break-Down

The contributions include: student organizations, $2,810; men's houses, $2,607; women's houses, $3,132.50.

Members of the Builders' Board who spearheaded the two-week drive are Gretchen Saeger, Linda Oakeson, Larry Kilstrop, Dorothy Hall, Mary Patrick, Angie Holbert, Ray Preston, Bill Larson, Dick Basoco, Carolyn Lang, Karen Schuster, Sally Downs, Roger Wehrlein, Morris Beerbalm, and Vernon Feye.
