Fraternities Kill 5.5 Requirement For IFC Officers

The Interfraternity Council Wednesday rejected a constitutional amendment requiring IFC officers to have a 5.5

overall average at the time of their election.

A council two years ago approved the same amendment, but it did not go into effect because it was included in a set of amendments which was rejected at that time.

McShann Headlines IFC Ball

Jay McShann and his band will provide the downbeat for the IFC Ball Feb. 13.

McShann will be doing a repeat performance at the Turnpike. He played for the Ball in May of 1957.

Traditionally the ball is held as a climax to the Greek Week competition in the spring. The IFC is changing the date in hopes of encouraging an even greater attendance than in years past.

Another innovation will be the invitation extended by the IFC to all sorority girls and their dates to attend the ball. This would allow sorority girls to invite men who are not fraternity members.

Tickets for the ball will go on sale by Jan. 13 according to Joe Knoll, chairman of the IFC social committee. The exact price of the tickets is pending on whether or not a tax exemption can be obtained.

The tickets definitely will be less than the $3.50 charged last year, Knoll said.

Press Assn. Offers Five $2,500 Grants

At least five journalism scholarships of $2,500 each will be awarded at the mid-year Board of Directors meeting of the Inter American Press Association next March in San Salvador.

Scholarships go to journalists or journalism students in the Western Hemisphere. United States winners spend a year in a Latin American university, and Latin Americans study for a year in the U. S. or Canada.

Pat Coover, 1958 grad, was recipient of one of the five awards last year. She will enroll in Lima, Peru sometime this month.

Applications for the March awards will be accepted up to Feb. 1, according to Robert Brown, president of the Inter American Press Association Scholarship Fund, Inc. and publisher of Editor & Publisher magazine.

Requests for application forms may be addressed to: Inter American Press Association Scholarship Fund, Inc., 22 East 60th St., New York 22, N. Y.

Dr. Shannon Initiates New MB Program

Dr. Jasper Shannon, professor of political science, began a new phase of the 1958-59 Mortar Board program Wednesday night.

Dr. Shannon led a discussion, which ranged in subject matter from Nebraska politics to Chinese families, for the members of the Black Masque chapter.

The meeting was the first in a series of appearances by instructors from various departments, designed as part of a program to improve the objectives and plans of Mortar Board here.

There also have been changes in scholarship, leadership and service—the three objectives of the honorary. Each professor will deliver the lecture he would most like to give if he knew he would never lecture again, or he will lead discussions about his major field.

Sno-Ball Dance

The Ag Sno-Ball dance date has been changed to Feb. 7. The dance was originally scheduled for Jan. 9.

Council to Survey Registering Students

The Student Council will conduct an investigation of the new alphabetical registration system beginning Monday.

Council members, three on duty at all times during registration, armed with notebook pads and question sheets will attempt to determine the success of the new system and to find suggestions for improving it.

The importance of the survey was stressed by Bob Blair, chairman of the registration committee in council meeting Wednesday.

Blair said that he "couldn't emphasize enough" the importance of student participation in this survey.

The Student Council will be trying to find the answers to questions concerning the new alphabetical registration system drafted by the committee on registration in cooperation with registrar Floyd Hoover.

The questions and guides for council members are:

1. Complaints and suggestions will be written down in terms of who, when, where, and what.
2. What students were not able to register for classes which are required for their graduation?
3. What students were not able to register for classes taught by instructors they particularly wanted? How many were resentful about accepting a substitute?

4. How many students lost their part-time jobs or were required to work fewer hours because of the inability to schedule classes around their work schedules? How many hours did they plan to work? How many will they be able to work?

5. What students were forced to spend an unreasonable length of time to register? How many actual minutes or hours were required? Don't accept impressions on this. Get the facts.

6. What students were forced to spend an unreasonable length of time to register? How many actual minutes or hours were required? Don't accept impressions on this. Get the facts.

7. What students were not able to register for desired electives?

8. Do you have any suggestions for improving or speeding up the present system or registration? Explain.

Two Proposed Unicam Bills Favor University

Among the 40 bills introduced in the Unicameral Wednesday, the University started in two.

Senator Terry Carpenter introduced a bill which would allow the University to rent or purchase the facilities of Nebraska's four junior colleges.

The colleges at Scottsbluff, McCook, Fairbury and Norfolk are supported by local school districts, according to the Scottsbluff senator, and therefore a financial burden on the local taxpayer. If the bill were passed the support of the schools would be the responsibility of the state.

The second bill, introduced by Senator Marvin Lautenschlager of Grand Island, would permit the University to hold off-campus classes through its extension division.

The Attorney General's office ruled last year that the University would have to cease holding such classes in some 20 communities because permission to conduct the classes had not been granted by the Legislature.

Innocents To Award $400 Grant

Innocents Society has announced a Memorial Scholarship Fund which will pay full resident tuition for second semester to an outstanding sophomore each year.

Any sophomore man is eligible to apply for the scholarship. The winner will be selected on the basis of outstanding contributions to the University during his freshman year.

To be eligible the student must have at least a 6.0 overall average. Financial need will be considered only in the case of a tie.

Applications must be in the Innocents box in the basement of the Union today according to Larry Schrag, chairman of the scholarship.

IFC Disqualifies ZBT Substitute

Zeta Beta Tau IFC substitute representative Dave Herzog was disqualified from voting by the IFC executive committee Wednesday night.

The IFC constitution states that only the IFC representative or alternates from a house may vote in meetings.

Herzog does not have a 5 average or better, the minimum requirement for an IFC representative.

Spring Day Committee Job Added

The Student Council Spring Day committee was given an additional job of All University Open House Committee by the Council Wednesday.

The step was taken in order to eliminate confusion resulting from the committee's work in planning an open house for high school seniors, originally to be held in conjunction with Spring Day.

Open house will be held Thursday, April 23, eight days before Spring Day, in order to include E-Week open house and better fit in with the schedules of other colleges desiring to participate.

Deputy registrar Fred Nicolai has been appointed by Chancellor Hardin to assist and advise the committee in planning the high schoolers' visit.

Gary Frenzel, chairman of the Council judiciary committee, stated that the committee would carefully go over the changes proposed by the Tassels in the Homecoming Queen selection procedure. Frenzel indicated that the committee would probably accept the changes.

KUON-TV Presents—

Baked Alaska a la Blowtorch? Goodies Revealed by New Chef

By Sondra Whalen
Demonstrations ranging from making Baked Alaska with a blowtorch to how to display live lobsters will be presented on KUON-TV's new series, "Gourmet".

The programs, which are presented by Martin Kohlgligian, director of food service at the Union, and Jack Miller, Union food production manager, will feature the "unusual" aspects of cookery.

Program Time
Program time is Tuesdays, 8:30 p.m. "We hope to satisfy the curiosity that many people have about the unusual and different things that are used in our industry," Kohlgligian said.

"This program is not for the housewife who wants a new recipe for Apple Brown Betty, but for the ones who would like to experiment at home."

"For Curiosity"
He added that the programs would intermingle things that could be prepared at home and other things which are shown merely to satisfy people's curiosity.

The first program was presented last Tuesday and featured Hors d'oeuvres. "Meat Magic" will be presented next Tuesday. The basic theme will be how to make four different meals out of one rib of beef.

Lobster Newberg

This program will also explain how to make Lobster Newberg, showing how to cut up the lobster, make the sauce from sherry and combine the two.

"We'll also make Turkey Divane, which is a dish prepared by first covering a slice of ham with asparagus and then adding a slice of turkey breast with mornay sauce over it," he explained.

Desserts will be the topic of the next program. Besides showing how to make Baked Alaska with a blowtorch, Kohlgligian will also demonstrate making a tree from small cream puffs, and preparing Cherries Jubilee. A flaming dessert will also be featured.

Don't Try It
"Our last program January 27 will be Decorative Displays," Kohlgligian said, "but I wouldn't advise making these at home!"

One of the displays will be of four live lobsters, standing on their tails.

"This is a basic food display item," Kohlgligian explained. "Nine times out of ten whenever food is displayed, you'll see a lobster display."

An ice carving demonstration will also be featured. Jack Miller will chisel a unicorn out of a huge block of ice.
