Registration Remedies Heard by Council

(almost half the Council) favored having the Registrar's Office pull the cards for all students.

The remaining members' support was divided between suggestions four, six and seven. There was no movement in favor of returning to the old system or leaving the system as it now stands.

'Student Deprived'
The largest objection voiced against having the University pull all cards was the fact that it deprived the student of the chance to make his own second and third choices.

With these outlines, the system would work smoothly—the argument ran. The big objection to the outlines were that they contained some "sour apples," courses in the late afternoon or on Saturday morning.

No Solution?
The answer to the "sour apples" argument was given that no matter what system of registration was used, some students would have to accept it.

In closing, Blair reminded the Council that they must "be sure to get what the students really feel is best, not just a hasty decision."

A permanent committee to be known as the Student Council's registrar's committee was set up during the meeting.

This committee would have the job of handling any problems between the students and the administration in regard to registration.

The committee could be made up of either Council members or other interested students or a combination of both.

In History— Memorial Fellowship Established

A $2000 gift for the establishment at the University of a history fellowship as a memorial for Dr. George Gilmore, pioneer physician in Murray, was announced today.

The gift was given by Dr. John Gilmore of Santa Monica, Calif., son of the prominent Cass County resident and a 1939 graduate of the University's College of Medicine.

The principal of the gift will be used to support a research fellowship toward a Master's degree, specializing "in local history with special reference to Cass County."

The late Dr. Gilmore was one of the founders of the Cass County Historical Society and was interested in history and archeology. He wrote several articles for the Nebraska Historical Society's history magazine and worked closely with the University's departments.

Beale to Discuss Lincoln Trade

W. T. M. Beale Jr., deputy assistant secretary of state for economic affairs, will speak in Lincoln Feb. 17 at a world trade workshop.

Sponsored by the Lincoln United Church Women, the workshop climaxes a survey to determine the extent of imports and exports in Lincoln and the implications of international understanding and peace.

Working together on this project are the women's groups of 49 local churches and the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce, League of Women Voters and the YWCA public affairs committee.

The workshop, which is open to the public, will be held in Trinity Methodist Church at 16th and A.
