George Moyer

The name of this column is inspired by the editor of the Madison Star Mail (for that plug I should get a free subscription). This chap, one Bob Garrison by name, was my summer slavedriver. Mostly, my job consisted of getting powerfully dirty and very much in the way, but once Bob let me write a column.

Since he is partial to column names that play on the writer's signature, we came up with this one between the two of us (and a glass or two of mellow brew).

Thus, as you can see, there is no implication other than perpetual surprise at the deeds of other people. This may be appropriate, since this column will deal with other people and probably have no real significance.

Policy Stated

One thing you and I, dear reader, should get straight from the first.

That being:

The three columns on the right side of page two are the editorial columns of the Daily Nebraskan. Herein, the staff of this paper will express its views on matters involving the University and its student body.

Occasionally, the views expressed in these columns will be supplemented by an editorial cartoon in the upper middle of the page. This cartoon also will present the views of the Daily Nebraskan staff on matters involving the University and its student body.

In short, these columns and cartoons will be the official policy of the Daily Nebraskan.

All other matter on the page will express the views of individuals. It should never be construed as the official policy of the Daily Nebraskan.

Pedantic lesson in journalism by tyrant editor now ended.

Hello Columnists

Speaking of columnists, there are a few this semester that we hope you'll like. Unfortunately, advertising runs heavy in the first editions of a new semester, and space doesn't permit allowing them to introduce themselves to you today.

Among the old hands back will be Bob Ireland and the Briar Patch. E. E. Hines will maintain a spot on page two with A Few Words of a Kind. Dick Tempero will continue to look Through the Peephole at the folks who approach his Union cash register, and John Hoerner's Conservative Estimate will be a fixture.

Leading off the new blood on page two will be Bob Prokop with Porcupines. Roger Borland, of Scrip fame, will run campus news through his Distillery once a week, and Carl Zenger will produce a yet unnamed epic every Tuesday. A newcomer, this semester but an old hand at columns is Buck Eickleberry and Buckshot. Brother Jon Moyer (boy, am I corrupt) will pen a weekly Letter Home.

Thinklish translation: This fellow knows more about polls than a telephone lineman. When someone starts, "Hail, hail, the gang's all here!"—he counts noses to make sure. If he canvassed women, he'd be a calculator. If he totted up crimes of violence, he'd be a stabulator. Actually, he checks on the popularity of Luckies, and that makes him a lauditor! His latest survey makes this heartwarming point: Students who want the honest taste of fine tobacco are unanimously for: Lucky Strike!
