

'Everybody Needs Sitting, Adventure'

'Matchmaker' at Howell March 11-14

By Bill Tillinghast
"Everybody needs a certain amount of sitting at home and a certain amount of adventure".

This is the moral of the comedy farce "The Matchmaker" which will open at Howell Theatre March 11-14, according to Jerry Carlson, publicity director.

The story, written by Thornton Wilder, concerns two apprentice grocers who are left to run the grocery store while the boss is in New York City looking for a wife, he said.

The play centers on one day's activities of the two apprentices as they meet and take out the woman their boss had gone to meet. Finally they and their boss meet in a restaurant.

"From there on things become even more riotous," said Carlson.

The play, set in an 1880 atmosphere, stars Bonna Tebo Hayes as Mrs. Levi; Dick Marrs in the role of the boss Horace Vandergelder; and Carl Harshbarger and Ron Hull as the apprentice grocer Barnaby Tucker.

Marrs, a graduate student, designed the properties used in the play and Mrs. Hayes is in charge of costumes.

Harshbarger is an instructor of speech and Hull is the Production Director of KOLN-TV. Alice Baumgartner plays the role of Mrs. Molloy and Bill Larson, Joe Scanlon, Stan Rice is cast as Ambrose Kemper and Roy Willey plays the part of Malachi Stack.

Miss Flora Van Huysen is portrayed by Diana Peters and Minnie Fay by Eleanor Kessler.

Other members of the cast are James Baker as the Cabman, Zeff Bernstien in the role of August, Marijane Craig as Ermengarde, Elizabeth Debo as Gertrude, Andy Wolvin as Rudolf, Dorothy Maxwell as the dancer, and Stephanie Sherdeman in the role of the cook.

Thornton Wilder was awarded the Pulitzer Prize in 1939 for "Our Town" and again in 1942 for "Skin of Our Teeth".

Friday and Saturday night tickets are almost sold out but there are plenty of seats for Wednesday and Thursday nights Carlson said.

Ticket reservations should be made at the ticket office in the Temple Building.

Pi Lambda Theta
Pi Lambda Theta, teachers honorary, will meet at 5 p.m. Thursday in Union 315. The topic for the meeting is "Gifted Children."

Theater to Relive 1890's; Will Present 'Oleo' Acts

"History is being revived at Howell Theatre," according to Dallas Williams, director of "The Matchmaker." Five "oleos" or variety acts will be presented between acts of the play, March 11-14.

1890's History
According to theatrical history, many of the stage plays given around the 1890's presented variety acts or "oleos" during intermissions.

These variety acts were usually some type of a vaudeville entertainment. "Two old experienced vaudeville comedians" were reported in charge of one of the acts to be given at Howell. The content of this act remains secret.

Vocal Entertainment
Sylvia Rigg, Leonard Kluthe and Cliff Soubier will provide vocal entertainment for three other acts.

The Mary Anns Trio (Mary Ann Marris, Mary Anne Timmons and Mary Ann Ryan) will supply more song.

A sixpiece German band will provide some music between acts as well as accompanying the dance sequences in the show.

Jack Snider, assistant professor of music, will direct the band.

"The band and the oleo acts will add a festive note and serve to fill out the evening's entertainment," commented Director Williams.

Cleveland Will Speak At Honors Program Top Students To Be Presented

Dean Harlan Cleveland of the Maxwell Graduate School, Syracuse University, will be the guest speaker at the 31st annual Honors Day Convocation.

Dean Cleveland, a Rhodes Scholar, has acted as economic advisor to many government committees. He is a Phi Beta Kappa and recipient of the Medal of Freedom from the U. S. Army.

Scholars Named
More than 500 students will be recognized at the Convocation April 21.

The ceremonies will begin at 10:15. Classes will be excused from 10:00 to 12:00 to enable the student body to attend. The public is also invited.

Several groups of students will be recognized at the Convocation:

Upper 3 Per Cent

Instruction For Flying Is Offered

Two Cadets Get Private Licenses

Flight Instruction Programs have been undertaken by both the Air Force ROTC and the Army ROTC.

As a bonus the students taking these programs have an opportunity to use their flight training to earn their private pilot's license.

A number of the senior students are selected to participate in the program after they have made an acceptable score in the Officer Qualification Test. During the training it can be determined whether a student has an aptitude for flying and whether he should be sent on to flight school.

Two Receive Licenses
So far, two AFROTC cadets have received their licenses. Roger Wichman and Bryon Kort started their training at Arrow Airport on Nov. 26.

Their first hours were spent in an introduction to general procedures, principles, and characteristics. After eight hours of instruction their instructor allowed them to take their first solo flights.

After completing 12 hours of solo time, a two-hour cross-country flight was made from Lincoln to Beatrice, across to York, and back to Lincoln. The purpose of this flight was to learn the technique of dead-reckoning navigation.

Flight to Omaha
Another cross-country flight to Omaha and back was to teach the use of radio navigational aids and the procedures used at a controlled airport.

After taking two more cross-country flights and passing an FAA written exam, they had to take a final check ride to graduate from the FIP school.

To receive their pilot's licenses, a checkride had to be made with a CAA official in the plane. Wichman made this 1 1/2-hour flight on Jan. 23, and Kort made his flight last Friday, Feb. 27.

Brownell To Return To Lincoln

Former attorney general Herbert Brownell, Jr. will be speaker for the Lincoln Centennial Historical and Recognition Day luncheon May 7.

Brownell is now a member of the law firm of Lord, Day and Lord in New York City. Born in Peru, he served as editor of the Daily Nebraskan before graduating from the University in 1924.

He is a member of Delta Upsilon. In 1927 he was graduated with honors from the Yale Law School.

Brownell was a top adviser to President Eisenhower during the 1952 presidential campaign and served as attorney general under Eisenhower.

Sen. Carl Curtis will introduce Brownell at the luncheon which will honor Lincoln community builders. The five people who have lived in Lincoln the longest will also be honored at the program. Earl Cline and George Holmes are co-chairmen for the day's activities.

Following the luncheon a permanent plaque honoring Lincoln's founders and builders will be dedicated at Pershing Auditorium.

Phi Sigma Iota To Hear Papers

Marcia Laging and Professor Reino Virtanen will read papers at the Thursday program meeting of Phi Sigma Iota, romance language honorary.

Professor Virtanen will read a paper on Claude Bernard and Zola. Miss Laging's paper will be on Diego Rivera. She will illustrate it with slides. The meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. in the Union Faculty Lounge.

KK Spring Show Off, Says Smidt

...Scheduling Difficulties Blamed

No Kosmet Klub Spring Show will be held this year, Bob Smidt, president, announced yesterday. Earlier plans had included the presentation of a melodrama.

"We felt we couldn't put on the type of show we planned because of scheduling difficulties," Smidt said.

Dates
The only open dates for the show are May 22 and 23, the

Friday and Saturday before final exams. Last year's show was also given right before exams.

Smidt said that going into finals after rehearsing a show for two months was too great a hardship on the cast.

Dave Herzog, treasurer, explained that the Kosmet Klub show must be scheduled on the University Calendar before the fall semester. This date must correlate with the open dates at the Municipal Auditorium.

"We got a bad date and we just couldn't do anything with it," Herzog commented.

Finances
Financial difficulties encountered in last year's spring show, "Annie Get Your Gun," were due, in part, to the scheduling of the show, Herzog said.

The show drew an estimated 1,300 people each night, according to Smidt. He blamed the attendance on the fact that many students stayed home to study for the exams.

Kosmet Klub lost "quite a bit" on the spring show last year, the treasurer said.

Large Amount
Although Herzog declined to name a specific amount lost, he said it was "sufficiently large to soak up our reserves."

"As far as finances go, the Kosmet Klub is now in healthy shape," he emphasized. "We don't have a deficit."

Although the group had a deficit when they went into the fall show, they emerged "in the black."

Close Check
The financial loss incurred last spring was due also to failure to keep a close check on the money spent by some of the areas of production—such as the technical producer, the treasurer explained.

"As a result, budgets weren't even recognized. Some budgets were spent twice over," Herzog commented.

This situation has been remedied by requiring specific reports of expenditures during the production of a show, Herzog said.

"There will be a fall review and a spring show next year," Smidt said.

This will be the first time in many years that Kosmet Klub has not presented a spring show.

WAA Application Due Tomorrow

Applications for WAA positions are due Thursday at 5 p.m.

The applications are outside the WAA office in Grant Memorial. An interview sheet is also posted.

Applicants should sign up for an interview when they turn in their applications. Interviews will be held from 3:30 to 5:30 Friday.

The positions are open to all coeds with a 5 average or above. Thirteen positions are open.

Gretchen Sides and Kaymarie Swartz will vie for the presidency of Coed Counselors. The Coed Counselors board is selected by interview and will be announced at a later date.

WAA Candidates
Pat Tesar and Donna Gies are candidates for president of the Women's Athletic Association. Candidates for secretary are Kay Turner and Betty Mann. Nancy Hayworth and Marion Brayton are up for treasurer. Board members are selected by interview.

Myrna Richards and Dorothy Glade are candidates for president of the Independent Women's Association, formerly BABW.

Two senior board members will be elected from Mari Watts, Lois Rahn, Betty Mann, Sylvia Steiner and Rosalie Jacob.

Board Members
Six junior and six sophomore board members will be elected. Those running for junior board are Kay Stute, Madge Haumont, Joan Schultz, Mary Stastny, Ariene Cook, Colleen Wouff, Betty Lou Bebb, Jeanette Osborn and Jeannette Cander.

Mortar Board coordinates elections.

Red Cross Unit Begins Weekly Orientations

A two-week series of Red Cross orientation programs will begin today.

Mrs. J. P. Colbert, chairman of training for the Lancaster County Red Cross chapter, will speak at 5 p.m. in Union 307.

Mrs. Colbert will also speak next Wednesday at 5 p.m.

The two orientation programs are planned to acquaint Red Cross workers with all types of services offered through the Red Cross.

The programs are aimed at Red Cross college unit board members and assistants.

Farm Problem Solution Sited
Evans Suggests Utilizing Existing Programs

Let's for this information, Evans said. Provisions included on some legislative measures could help speed the allocation of human resources from the agriculture to other areas.

Social Security
For instance, Evans explained, had the recent act which included farmers in social security benefits been drawn up differently, more farmers would have been able to retire.

In the measure, the years 1955-56 were used as a basis to calculate the farmer's income. These years were extremely low income years for the farmer, among the worst since the 1930's compared to the rest of our economy, Evans said.

"It deprived many older farmers of a real opportunity for retirement," he commented.

Other Possibilities
Likewise, labor bills and regulations of professions could be drawn up to insure the farmer more job opportunities.

Measures such as the G. I. Bill and civil service opportunities for college students have provided real job mobility for the farm-youth in the past. They have provided the means for education needed to move into other areas.

"Opportunities such as these," Evans commented, "need to be extended down to the high school level. Better information is also needed in the high schools in farming areas."

"As long as we do have these and other existing facilities," he continued, "why not utilize them more fully to help solve the basic agricultural problem—providing mobility for farm people to move into other areas of work."
