

DU Wins Class C Title

The Delta Upsilon "C" basketball team capped off an undefeated season with a 40-37 victory over Beta Theta Pi to win the All-University Class C championship.

The Chemists will play either Sigma Nu or Gus II for the All-University Championship at 5 p.m. Saturday between sessions of the State High School Basketball Tournament.

The DU's broke the "C" game wide open with 15 points in the second quarter while holding Beta Theta Pi to eight. The DU surge was led by Jim Killinger and Lane McClure, who scored 7 and 5 respectively in the second quarter to give them a 24-16 halftime advantage.

The DU's held on from there to take the victory.

Sharpe Tabs NU Baseballers, As 'Young and Inexperienced'

Nebraska's 1959 baseball fortunes will depend a lot on how well the sophomores and other inexperienced players come through. Coach Tony Sharpe said, "We will be a very young, inexperienced team."

Sharpe has only five returning lettermen from last year's team which won 17 of 27 games and finished fifth in the UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA BASEBALL ROSTER-1959. Table with columns: Name, Pos., Age, Ht., Wt., Class, Bats, Throws, Home Town.

Big Eight Conference with a 12-9 record. The returning pitchers, Bob Gleason, Gil Dunne, and Enlow Hevner pitched a combined total of only 77 1/3 innings last year.

Also missing are six of the top seven hitters. This includes last year's starting outfield of Gene Torczon, Larry Lewis and Gary Reimers along with catcher Jim Kane. Firstbaseman Ken Ruisinger is the only returnee with a batting average of over .300.

The strongest part of this year's team should be the infield where only second-baseman Al Karle is missing. Captain Gil Dunne will take up the slack left by the loss of Karle when he isn't on the pitching mound.

Sophs Catching

Sophomores will probably handle most of the catching load with Ely Churchich, Jerry Bean and Earl Oltman the leading prospects for the position vacated by Jim Kane.

The outfield is expected to be in the hands of three returning squadsmen, Dick Nelson, Leroy Zentic, and Bob Semin.

The Huskers will open the season against Texas Lutheran at Seguin, Texas on March 23. They will also encounter Houston, and Rice on their annual Southern swing.

Wrestlers Go to Okla. St. For Big Eight Tournament

Nebraska's grapplers will be trying to fight their way out of the Big Eight cellar tonight and tomorrow in the Big Eight Wrestling Tournament at Stillwater, Oklahoma.

Nebraska wrestling coach, Bill Smith took only five wrestlers on the trip. They are Ken Lott, Norlin Cooper, Harold Thompson, Gail Baum and Ted Rethmeier. Lott is the Huskers leading point-getter with 23. He has five wins and five losses.

Thompson has wrestled in the 137, 147, 157 and 177 pound classes this season.

Same Three

Oklahoma, Oklahoma State, and Iowa State are expected to battle it out for the number one spot again. Iowa State won last year's meet with 67 points. They were trailed by Oklahoma and Oklahoma State with 65, Kansas State with 13, Colorado with 11 and Nebraska with 7.

Oklahoma and Oklahoma State split in dual meets this season and both teams have beaten the Cyclones. Five defending champions will be appearing this weekend. They are Les Anderson of Iowa State, 130, Shelby Wilson of Oklahoma State, 137, Ron Gray of Iowa State, 147, Dick Beattie of Oklahoma State, 175, and Duane Murty of Oklahoma State, 167.

The Big Eight is known as the toughest wrestling conference in the country. They gained this title by winning the first three team places in the NCAA meet last year. Oklahoma State, Iowa State and Oklahoma finished 1-2-3 in the NCAA championships. Returning NCAA chamions are Anderson, Gray, Beattie, Murty and Paul Aubrey of Oklahoma at 137 pounds. Aubrey reversed his loss to Wilson which he suffered in the Big Eight Meet by defeating Wilson in the finals of the NCAA.

Aubrey and Wilson will be battling it out again this year at 137 pounds and Lyle Neville of Colorado could slip in and upset either of them. Neville was the 137-pound champion two years ago but last year, he moved up to 147 pounds and failed to place.

From The Outside by randall lambert

The prepsters have taken over. Action in the 49th State High School Basketball Tournament was kicked off last night by Class B and Class E teams.

The Nebraska set up, which has more classes than any one class has teams, consists of six classes with four teams to each class. This stinks!

Who is the champion? That's easy to answer. Everyone is a champion. Anyway we come close to it. We have six champions, while states that are twice the size of Nebraska and have more schools don't have half as many state high school champions.

I was looking through a publication which listed the class champions in 44 different states. Colorado, Georgia, Louisiana, Massachusetts, South Carolina, and Texas all had five classes. Some of these were parochial only. There were no states that had six classes as we have here in Nebraska. Two states, New Jersey and Maryland, have seven different classes.

However, Maryland has three classes for integrated schools and four for non-integrated schools. This may have changed this year because of the Supreme Court ruling concerning integration. In New Jersey the setup includes three classes for parochial schools and the remaining four classes for public schools.

Back to Nebraska. The present system takes away not only some of the fans interest, but also takes away some of the honor of winning a state championship. A team has to win only two games in the state carnival to win a crown; whereas they used to have to win three. There go some of the upsets out of the window.

I realize the old system of four classes and eight teams to a class involved another day of missed classes, but if there are other states that can afford their students another holiday, then why can't Nebraska.

This year it looks like the Lincoln High Links are a shoo-in. What's this, our invalid editor George Moyer says no. George, you're nuts. Scottsbluff will never win. You say Beatrice in Class A. It sounds better. Oh, oh, off a tantrum again. George, how many times do I have to tell you that Minden and St. Cecilia will win the B and C crowns, not Wayne and Louisville.

Man, I thought he was nuts until he said Red Willow and Wilsonville in the D and E competition.

I still think that Coach Lyle Weyand and Lincoln High will win the AA crown. Weyand, who retires at the end of this season, will have a strong talking point when he gives them that, "Win this last one for me, boys" talk at the half.

NU Opponent

Texas Lutheran's baseballers, Nebraska's first opponent opened the season by splitting two games with TCU. They lost the first, 5-2, and won the second 6-2.
