Husker Gridders Begin Spring Practice Monday

By Randall Lambert
Experimentation and fundamentals will greet 112 Huskers football candidates when they take the practice field Monday to begin Spring drills.

This represents the largest number of candidates to start Spring practice for many years. Not only is the depth (112) good, but the quality of the personnel is also excellent.

Screening
Coach Bill Jennings and staff will face a task of shifting and screening material that is comparable to the building of the "bridge on the River Kwai". Even though the job is tremendous the experience should be pleasant. During the past few years Nebraska coaches have been lucky to have a squad of 60 men.

Transfer students and servicemen are one of the big reasons the Scarlet and Cream figures to be improved this coming fall. Darrell Cooper, who started at Baylor for a year, is going to be given a good shot at the center spot. The chunky Texan totes the scales at 225 and stands 5-11.

Dick McDaniel may join Cooper in the line to make it a Texas twosome. McDaniel played service ball before coming to Nebraska as an end. The Port Arthur, Texas flanker stands 6-2 and weighs 203.

Rambling Wreck
Still south of the Mason-Dixon line comes George Haney, 225-pound transfer from Georgia Tech. The magnolia monster played tackle while at Tech.

These three along with Nebraska's returning veterans and upcoming freshmen are capable of giving the Huskers a grid machine as devastating as Sherman's march to the sea.

The backfield will be stronger with the addition of Tom Kramer, formerly of the California Bears. He lettered at Cal as a halfback and quarterback. He played in the shadow of All-American Paul Larson as a quarterback and was switched to the halfback slot in order to utilize his running ability.

Hugh Smith
Hugh Smith, a Guymon, Oklahoma product, could be the surprise of the whole bunch. Smith, who is 6-4 and weighs 210, runs the century under ten seconds. The ex-serviceman is a halfback.

Some of the upcoming freshmen who are counted on for duty include: Ends: Jim Huge, Holdrege; Robert Hansen, Sioux City, Iowa; Don Purcell, Omaha. Tackles: Monte Kiffin, Lexington; Duane Dubois, Niagara Falls, New York; Ken Dostal, Scribner; James Rasche, Omaha. Guards: Al Fischer, Princeton, Minn.; Don Houser, Lincoln. Center: Henry (Mick) Tinglehoff, Lexington. Quarterbacks: Ron Meade, Canby, Minn.; Ron Gilbreath, Sidney. Halfbacks: Noel Martin, Broughton, Kansas; Dallas Dyer, Lexington; Pat Clare, Sioux City, Iowa. Fullbacks: Dave Roberts, Longview, Washington; Steve Olson, Sioux City, Iowa.

Weak Points: Still lack overall team speed and again Nebraska will be lacking experience. There are 16 seniors 22 juniors and 74 sophomores on the squad.

Strong points: Will have depth, whether it be depth in quality remains to be seen. End spots appear more solid with all hands back plus four promising ends from the freshman team.

Among the 19 returnees, Duane Mongerson, Omaha tackle, had most playing time at 463 minutes. Don Fricke was next with 418, an injury shelving him for a brief period.
