

Handy Criticizes Activities; 'Re-evaluation Is Needed'

"Believe me, students are sick and tired of having things continually stuck down their throats in the realm of activities," Bob Handy, activities director, told approximately 200 people at the Union's annual Awards Banquet last night.

Evidence of this, he noted, was the disbanding of events on the campus because of lack of attendance and enthusiasm.

Change Remedy

"I congratulate the students and advisors who have finally realized that some changes must be made and have proceeded to remedy the problem," Handy said.

Although he said he felt the basic Union program is sound, he feels the need for creativeness, sensitivity and greater enthusiasm.

"Isolation is stagnation," he commented, adding that if the Union or any other organization isolates itself from the rest of the campus, it fails to live up to its responsibility.

The problem of adequate campus representation in Union activities has been remedied by forming the new advisory board, Handy said. He suggested that all organizational leaders on campus should meet for a critical evaluation of the function of their group.

The need for a good leadership program is another need of the Union—for training leaders is one of the basic concepts on which the Union was founded, he commented.

"I hope you don't think I'm pessimistic, because I'm not," Handy said.

"We will have one of the most functional facilities in the country today when construction is completed in the summer."

Showing Set For State Paintings

Drawings and paintings of Nebraska's countryside and way of living will be displayed in Lincoln next week.

The exhibit, consisting of 474 pieces selected from thousands of entries across the state, is sponsored by the University art department and Extension Division.

Ninety-six Nebraska towns are represented in this annual All-State Nebraska Elementary School Art Exhibit.

From the Lincoln exhibit, 300 pieces will be selected to travel throughout the state during 1959-60. Also, four winners will be chosen to receive an $80 scholarship to the University All-State Fine Arts Course.

Mrs. M. E. Vance and Phil Rueschhoff, assistant professor of art, arranged the display.

Judges are Mrs. Freda Spaulding, associate professor of art, Jane Andersen of the University of Omaha and Millicent Saverly, assistant professor of elementary education.

B&B Banquet Is Planned For Tonight

An outstanding animal husband student and an outstanding Nebraska stockman will be honored at the annual Block and Bridle banquet tonight in connection with Feeders Day at the College of Agriculture.

James Kreycik, nationally recognized producer and judge of Aberdeen Angus cattle from Wood Lake, will be the honored stockman.

Kreycik, whose Angus calves have won international grand champion carlot honors seven years out of the past nine years, will have his portrait placed with those of other pioneer Nebraska stockmen in Animal Husbandry Hall.

The outstanding student will be revealed at the banquet in the Union Ballroom at 6 p.m. This student will be chosen on the basis of superior work in the animal husbandry department, activities, scholarship and personality.

Tassels To Hold Tea Sunday

The Tassels Tea for selection of new members will be held Sunday from 3 to 5 p.m. at the Alpha Phi house.

Any Tassels applicant must have a 5.5 average.

Independent girls both freshmen and sophomores are especially urged to sign up for Tassels, according to Judy Hanneman, Tassels publicity chairman.

Independents may sign up for the tea at the Union both on Ag or city campus today.

Four Students Named To Tribunal Positions

Judy Truell, Bob Paine, Don Hall and Dick Kelley are the senior tribunal judges for 1959-60.

The Student Council made the announcement immediately following the senior judge interviews Wednesday. The council met in a special 3 p.m. session to pick the judges.

Other Candidates

Other candidates interviewed by the Council were Carol Novicki and Gary Rodgers.

Other Tribunal judges, two juniors and a Law College representative, will be chosen by the Council at its next regular meeting.

It takes a majority vote of the Council to elect a Tribunal judge.

Council president Dwaine Rogge clarified the procedure from the floor of the Council in addition to those candidates already chosen by the Council nominating committee.

Majority Vote

Rogge said that a majority vote of the Council would be required to accept a nomination from the floor.

Council members raised questions as to how they were to know whether a candidate they wished to nominate had already been nominated by the nominating committee.

Rogge replied that the best procedure would be to have the candidates there at the next Council meeting ready for an interview in the event that they had not been selected by the Council committee.

Junior Candidates

No candidates for the office of Senior Judge were nominated from the floor in Wednesday's Council session.

The names of the junior candidates picked by the Council nominating committee will be revealed in the April 21 Nebraskan.

Miss Truell is vice president of Tassels, president of NUCWA, a Daily Nebraskan columnist, secretary of the present Tribunal and president of Alpha Phi.

Paine is president of Alpha Gamma Rho, a member of Student Council, Corn Cobs, IFC and the Spring Day Central committee. He is treasurer of Ag Exec Board.

Hall is Sigma Nu athletic chairman and a member of Young Republicans.

Kelley is an AU F assistant, intramurals chairman and rush chairman of Phi Delta Theta.

The Council broke the precedent they started last year in announcing the judges immediately following their selection.

Last year announcement of the senior judges was withheld until all judges were selected. The reason given for last year's action was to "avoid politics."

Ten Students To Attend Dorm Meet

Ten residents of the University's Residence Halls left Thursday for the annual convention of the Association of College and University Residence Halls.

The convention is being held at the University of Missouri through Saturday.

The purpose of the convention is to aid the member schools with their student government and resident management. The Association has a membership of 20 mid-western colleges and universities.

Delegates from the University are:

Mari Lu Henning and Sharon Watson, Women's Residence Halls; Janet Peterson and Dave Melena, Fedde-Burr Halls; John Flory, Bob Kuzelka, Lee Smith, Selleck Quadrangle;

Accompanying the delegates are Loren Betz, resident advisor of Selleck Quadrangle, and Olivia Hansen, counseling director of the Women's Residence Halls.

Reporter Expelled In Judges Choice

The Student Council went into "executive session" Wednesday for the selection of the Senior Tribunal judges.

This action caused the expulsion of the Daily Nebraskan reporter from the meeting.

Frenzel Introduces

Council vice president Gary Frenzel introduced the action resulting in the "executive session." In explaining his reasons, Frenzel said that the

Unannounced Candidate Interviewed

The Student Council interviewed one senior candidate for Tribunal Wednesday who was not announced previously.

The candidate was Gary Rodgers. Rodgers is a present junior Tribunal judge and as such is an automatic candidate for one of the senior posts.

The Tribunal charter states: "Junior members of the Tribunal shall automatically become candidates for Senior positions."

Rodgers, a freshman in Law College, was considered a University junior for Tribunal purposes. He is vice president of Young Republicans and a member of Sigma Nu.

Counselors Open Big Sister Filing

Campbell's Gives NU $2,000 Gift

A $2,000 gift from the Campbell Soup Co. has been given to the University, according to Chancellor Clifford Hardin.

The gift is part of the Company's annual aid-to-education program, said W. L. Parvin of Omaha, manager of the Nebraska plants of Campbell Soup Co. Parvin presented the gift.

Parvin said the company recognized some years ago the importance of education to free enterprise and industrial growth in the U.S.

"We hope that our program will be helpful in advancing the cause of education in the U.S."

Rosenlof Praised for Services

The following is a tribute to the retiring foreign student advisor for the University, Dr. George W. Rosenlof. The article was written by Ken Ackbarall, president of the Cosmopolitan Club.

At the end of the current school year, a professor will go into retirement. To many of us this will mean nothing and will be regarded as the natural conclusion to a long and arduous career.

This man, however, is known to the foreign students of this campus as both an efficient administrator—in which capacity he has devoted his energies and time to help foreign students—and a kind and gentle person. It is with a deep sense of loss and good wishes that we anticipate the retirement of Dr. George W. Rosenlof, professor of Secondary Education and official advisor to Foreign Students.

It has only been three years ago that Dr. Rosenlof was made the official advisor by the University Administration. And previous to this time, he exercised the duties of that office in his then official capacity of Dean of Admissions and Inter-institutional Affairs.

I am sure that those foreign students who have been here more than three years will appreciate the tremendous problems Dr. Rosenlof faced in trying to maintain contact with the rising numbers of students from overseas.

For several months before coming to study at this University, the only relationship that a prospective

Student Council Filings Remain Partially Open

Student Council filings for Business Administration and Engineering College representatives are still open.

The filings will remain open until 5 p.m. today, according to Don Shick, chairman of the Council elections committee.

Inadequate Number

The inadequate number of candidates filing was the reason for extending the filing in the two colleges, he said.

According to Shick, he declined Monday to extend the filings. At this time present Council members from Engineering and Biz Ad were asked to find suitable candidates to run for the positions, Shick said.

According to Shick, he and a Council advisor felt that publication of the filing extension would not be necessary because of the lack of interest already shown in the filings.

Valid Election

George Porter, IFC president, told the Nebraskan that when the IFC heard that the filings were still open that it asked certain candidates to run on the Engineering and Biz Ad tickets.

Porter said that this was done in order to make a valid Council election and give these colleges adequate representation.

By Thursday afternoon only five students had filed for Business Administration and four students for Engineering.

Engineering

Engineering College has three Council representatives. Therefore two more filings are needed to give them full college representation.

Business Administration

now has three representatives of which one must be a woman. Five candidates have filed, only one of these a woman.

One additional woman candidate is therefore needed to give Business Administration their full representation on the 1960 Council.

Filings

Students who have filed as of 4 p.m. Thursday and their colleges are:

Agriculture

Mary Anne Weber, Clare Vrba, Larry Ott, Ronald Kahle, Don Epp, Elizabeth Condon, Rita Mullet.

William Boggan, Don Gable, Winston Wade, Dennis Nelson.

'Z' Adorns Library's SC Letter

The slashed "Z" of Zorro adorns a recently posted letter from the Student Council in the Love Library study room.

The Council placed the letter in the study room in response to a request from the library administration that they investigate and stop card playing in the room.

Thursday afternoon when the Nebraskan copied the letter, a card game with approximately seven students participating was going on directly in front of the defaced sign.

The letter said:

"The library administration has asked your Student Council to investigate and stop card playing in this room. The study room is designed to be an informal place where students can rest, enjoy the refreshments and study in groups.

"The playing of cards jeopardizes these privileges experienced by the majority of the students.

"Please give your full cooperation to your fellow students and your Student Council in the matter."
