Hevner, Tolly Quiet Cyclones As NU Wins Doubleheader

By Hal Brown

Nebraska got superb pitching from Lefty Hevner and Harry Tolly to win both ends of Saturday's doubleheader against Iowa State by identical scores of 2-1 after dropping the opening game of the series, 8-3, Friday.

Hevner became the first pitcher to go the distance for the Huskers this season as he set the Cyclones down with only one hit in the first game of the twinbill.

Single Hit The only hit off Hevner came in the first inning when Lee Olmstead sent a bouncer past first base. Lefty walked in Iowa State's only run in the first inning. Hevner was in control all the way with only three balls getting out of the infield.

Hevner struck out 11 Cyclones in posting his first win of the campaign. He faced only 14 batters in the last four innings with no one getting past first base.

Bob Locker had the Huskers handcuffed until the fifth inning when Nebraska got to him for two unearned runs.

After Locker retired Jerry McKay to start the fifth inning, Hevner singled to left field for his second hit of the day. Dave Murakami then hit what looked like a double play ball to Cyclone second baseman Ron Locker but shortstop Olmstead left the bag too soon and both Huskers were safe.

Gil Dunne followed with a single to right advancing Hevner and Murakami to third and second respectively. Winning Run

Doug Sieler drove in Hevner with the tying run on a single to right and Ken Ruisinger added the winning run with a sacrifice fly to right field.

The Cyclones scored their only run in the fifth when Dave Lewis tripled footballer Terry Ingram home.

Nebraska opened the scoring in the fourth inning when Sieler led off with a perfect bunt single down the first base line. Ruisinger sacrificed him to second and Ely Churchich's long fly to rightfield advanced him to third.

LeRoy Zentic then unloaded a 355-foot homerun over the rightfield fence scoring Sieler ahead of him to give the Huskers a 2-0 lead.

Iowa State won the opening game of the series with an 8-3 triumph Friday afternoon. The Cyclones bunched seven of their 10 hits to score two runs each in the sixth, eighth and ninth innings.

Nebraska also got ten hits, but Iowa State hurler Grant Halsne was tough in the clutches as the Huskers left 11 men stranded on the bases.

SEIDLIGHTS: Nebraska is now 2-1 in conference play and 6-5 overall. Iowa State is 2-4 in the conference and 2-8 overall.

The first game of Saturday's doubleheader was played in the rain. Husker coach Tony Sharpe wanted to call the game at the end of the third inning when Iowa State led 1-0, but Iowa State coach Cap Timm argued against it. The temperature was approximately 40 degrees.

Iowa State pitcher Bob Locker thought it was good weather considering that the Cyclones have played two games in the snow.

The nightcap of the doubleheader was played in the first time of 1:39.

Larry Van Der Heydon, Cyclone third sacker was a thorn in the side of the Huskers throughout the series with five hits in ten times at bat including a homerun in Friday's game.

Harry Tolly was deprived of a shutout when Dick Nelson slipped on the wet grass chasing Dave Lewis's routine fly ball. By the time Nelson retrieved the ball, Lewis was on third and Terry Ingram had crossed the plate with the Cyclones only run.

Damp Weather Fails To Hamper NU Scrimmage

By Keith Bland

Wet weather added more steam to Bill Jennings' football squad as they went into a game-condition scrimmage Saturday afternoon.

Nebraska's new quarterbacks sparked the Red team to a decisive 20-6 victory over the Whites. Tom Kramer, transfer from California, and Ron Meade of Minnesota did a large share of the passing for the Reds to help spark the Red victory.

Clare Scores

The first quarter remained scoreless, but soon after the second period started Steve Olsen, fullback, plunged through the White defense to set up the Red's first touchdown. On the 9-yard stripe, Olsen went for four more yards and a pass play from Meade to Pat Clare made the first TD of the scrimmage.

Hugh Smith faked a kick play for the extra point and went over to make the score 8-0.

Meade successfully covered 75 yards by taking to the air again with three passes to Jim Hugg of Holdrege. The final pass play ended on the White 12-yard line. Smith advanced it to the 7 on a plunge. Meade then carried it over for another Red touchdown.

The third quarter also remained scoreless but soon afterwards Tom Kramer kept the ball seven times on an option and managed to gain yardage each time. He then made a toss to Bill Bohanan, senior flanker, which covered about 15 yards.

Martin Hits

Another pass which almost was blocked found Bohanan again and went for 31 yards.

Noel Martin, freshman fullback, then plunged to the 4-yard line. Then Kramer got the ball to the one foot line in two tries and concluded the Red scoring on the third attempt.

The Whites scored soon afterwards by a pass interception from Kramer by Don Fricke on the 42 and Fricke managed to run the ball back to the Red 27. Dean Cozine, Fricke and Pat Fisher advanced the ball to the Red four which set up Fisher's end sweep for the touchdown.

Scarlet Places in KU Relays; Break Record

The Nebraska 2-mile relay team composed of Ken Ash, Bill Melody, Knolly Barnes and Joe Mullins set a school record for that event at the Kansas Relays Saturday but had to settle for second place behind Kansas. Kansas had a winning time of 7:37.6 and the Huskers were only .8 of a second off the pace at 7:38.4.

Trailing Nebraska were favored Texas and Drake. For the Huskers, Ken Ash ran a 1:55.9, Billy Melody had a 1:55.4, Knolly Barnes turned in a 1:54.5, and Joe Mullins ran the anchor leg in 1:52.6.

American Horse Second The Huskers' Joe American Horse finished second to Houston freshman Barrie Almond in the Glenn Cunningham Mile. American Horse ran the distance in 4:19.6 as Almond turned the mile in 4:14.1. Pat Clohessy, another Houston freshman and Jack Nelson of Arkansas trailed the leaders.

Almond and Clohessy have run the mile in 4:07 and 4:04 respectively. This mile race is named in honor of the great Kansas runner of the early '30's.

Nebraska was fourth in the 4-mile relay finishing behind Kansas, Colorado and Arkansas in that order. Kansas winning time was 17:06.7 and Nebraska had a 17:30.0 clocking. The individual times for Nebraska were: Bill Melody, 4:22; Knolly Barnes, 4:29.1; Joe American Horse, 4:23.9 and Joe Mullins, 4:15.1.

The Huskers 440-yd. relay team composed of Ken Pollard, Don Phillips, Don House and Dick Jahr ran a creditable 42.0, but finished out of the money. Kansas time in winning the event was 41.0.

Ken Pollard of Nebraska tied with six other vaulters for fourth place in the pole vault at 13 feet 6 inches. Jim Graham and Aubrey Doolley of Oklahoma State took first and second place respectively with vaults of 14-8½ and 14-4½.
