

Legislature Will Decide Fate Of Budget during Summer

The University's budget request for funds from the state property tax supported general fund will come up on the floor of the legislature this summer.

The budget is now in the budget committee.

The University has requested an increase of $5,894,160 in state property tax funds for the 1959-60 biennium.

Of this proposed increase, $4,275,700 was requested to maintain the University's current program. An additional $1,618,460 was proposed for expansion.

The overall University budget for 1959-61 would total $34,548,397, an increase of $6,509,116 from the present two years.

The total sought from the state property tax funds is $26,894,160. Appropriations for the current two-year period which ends June 30, 1959 are $21 million.

The 1957-59 figure does not include an estimated $16,838,000 appropriated in the auxiliary cash fund, a revolving fund for generally non-educational functions. No figure was listed on this fund for the 1959-61 period.

The bulk of the University's requested budget increase would go for salaries, according to Adam Breckenridge, dean of faculties.

Six Sources

The University's total continuation budget is supported by six sources of revenue; federal funds, county funds, reimbursements from other state tax funds, student fees, agencies and endowment fund income.

The $1,618,460 expansion budget would be supported entirely from state property tax funds.

Governor Ralph Brooks originally recommended a $2 million increase in tax funds for the University. But he later changed his recommendation to the Legislature Budget Committee to $4 million.

Six Announced Winners Of Grad Scholarships

Six winners of $7,800 in graduate scholarships given by the University for 1959-60 were announced Tuesday.

Regents Fellowships paying $1,500 plus tuition went to Herbert Meyer, Seward, and Howell Nissen of Fergus Falls, Minn. Both have completed at least one year of graduate study making them eligible for the fellowships.

Dorothy Schidler, Terry Mitchem, Donald Cox and Shiv Singh were winners of the four Franklin E. and Orinda M. Johnson Fellowships worth $1,200 and tuition.

Present Students

Four of the winners, Miss Schidler, Miss Mitchem, Cox and Singh, attended the University this semester. Meyer received his Master's Degree from the University and has attended summer school for the last several years.

Miss Schidler, a senior in business administration, plans to work toward her Master's Degree in economics. A former first sergeant and radio operator in the Woman's Air Force, she is a past president of two business administration honoraries, Phi Chi Theta and Beta Gamma Sigma. She is a member of Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman woman's scholastic honorary, and has won the Phi Chi Theta Scholarship Key and the Freshman Gold Key scholarship award.

Miss Mitchem is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, scholastic honorary society in arts and sciences, Alpha Lambda Delta, Phi Sigma Iota, romance languages honorary society, and Mortar Board. A senior in Arts and Sciences, she plans to get a Master's Degree in Spanish literature.

Cox, a senior in Engineering and Architecture, plans to continue electrical engineering studies. He is a member of Sigma Tau, honorary engineering society, and the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, and has held the Air Force ROTC Scholarship Award.

Singh received his undergraduate education and a Master of Science Degree in Agriculture in India. He is the Agricultural Liaison Officer of Rewa, India, and has been a research fellow and assistant at the Indian Agricultural Research Institute. Singh has been doing graduate work in agronomy at the University and will work toward his Ph.D. in agronomy.

Meyer, who received his Master's Degree at NU, has taught school in Platte Center, Scribner, North Platte and Seward. He will work toward his Doctor's in secondary education.

Nissen, who got his Master's Degree from the University of Minnesota, will work toward a Ph.D. in philosophy. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and has studied in Germany on a scholarship.

Committee Has Begun Hiring Study

The executive committee of the University's Board of Regents met Wednesday to begin its study of materials concerning the College of Law submitted by Sen. Jack Romans on May 13.

The committee said it will examine the material and report the results of its study to the Regents. This was indicated to Sen. Romans in a letter on May 16.

Clarence Swanson, Jack Elliott and Dr. B. N. Greenberg are the committee members.

The results of the study will not be announced until the report is completed and submitted to the board, according to Swanson, president of the Board and chairman of the committee.

Dean to Notify Grant Winners

All scholarship winners for the 1959-60 year will be notified by July 15, according to Associate Dean Marjorie Johnston, chairman of the General Scholarship Committee.

Students may apply for summer school scholarships until the May 29 deadline. To be eligible, a student must have completed at least 24 hours at the University with a minimum 6.0 average except under special circumstances. Financial need is considered.

WHAT! Sell 'MY' Books?

HI CORNHUSKERS:

As most of you know the NEBRASKA BOOK STORE buys back at all times the books you no longer need. We are now entering that period of the year when you are most concerned about selling your books. Since there is certain information regarding the repurchase and resale of textbooks that will be of value and interest to all of you, we have composed the following copy. This is an effort to help students understand what determines the prices they receive. Through such understanding, we feel that both the bookstore and the students will benefit.

You are interested in receiving the best price possible for the books you no longer need. It is to our best interest that you receive the highest price possible.

WHAT DETERMINES THE PRICE PAID FOR BOOKS?

Why aren't all books repurchased at the same percentage and why isn't it more?

The books you have to sell at the end of each semester will usually be of three types.

1. Books that will be used again the following term at the University of Nebraska.
2. Books that will no longer be used here, but are in considerable demand at other schools.
3. Books that will no longer be used here, and are not in large demand elsewhere.

Books in category one will, of course, be worth the most money. These books are normally repurchased at 50% of the retail price. They are resold by the bookstore at 70%.

Books of the second category are repurchased at varying prices, depending on the age of the books, the popularity of the subject and general supply and demand conditions on the national market. This will usually vary from 20% to 40% of the list price. The discontinued books for which we pay the best price are those which are in the greatest demand. For on those that we resell the quickest we can take a small margin. When we resell a book on the national wholesale market it is sold for 45% of the original price.

Books of the third category must be purchased—if at all—at a price that will take into account the fact that many of them will never be resold. A textbook is an article that generally cannot be "cleared" by reducing the price, as very few people are interested in an old textbook unless it is required in a course. When the limited demand of this type is filled the balance often must be discarded.

WHICH BOOKS SHOULD I SELL?

Most books acquired by a student during his college career have limited reference value. This is for two reasons. One is that most of the information that might be needed later is scattered through many books, and is more readily available in other single volumes. The other reason is that new books are always being published and older books revised and brought up to date. Most of the books you now have are probably copyrighted within the last four years and will probably be revised in a similar period. Those books which have permanent reference value are better kept than sold.

WHY SELL YOUR BOOKS TO NEBRASKA BOOK STORE?

By utilizing the buying service of a wholesale book company, it is possible to give you more money for all your books than would otherwise be possible. You receive the top price on books that are to be used here again. Discontinued books can be marketed best by a company specializing in that function. There are in use today more than 14,000 different titles in colleges throughout the United States with only four companies dealing in textbook wholesaling. This should indicate to you the highly specialized nature of the business. Our buyers know the wholesale market well, and that knowledge enables us to pay higher prices.
