

Mrs. Hardin Will Retire After 18 Years with DU's

The Delta Upsilon house-mother, Mrs. Hazel Hardin, will retire this year after 18 years of service to the fraternity.

Following her retirement as housemother, she will continue her work as a medical social worker at the Lincoln State Hospital.

During World War II when many fraternities were closing down and renting their houses, "Mom" Hardin said she remembered when the chapter was down to four to six men.

During this time she did all the maid work for the house and cooked many of the meals.

She attended graduate school at the University School of Social Work at this time and began her work at the State Hospital.

Following the War, her problems were of a different nature with 85 men being served every Monday night. "Mom" Hardin remembers two fraternity houses during her 18-year stay. The last in which she has lived for the past year was designed and built by some of "her boys," DU alums.

—Information Surprising— Fraternities to Pay For Beauty Entries

By John Hoerner It will cost fraternities at least $1 per man to sponsor a candidate in the Miss Universe contest June 20, fraternity representatives were told Monday.

The IFC had originally been mistakenly informed that all fraternities had to do was choose a candidate and provide an escort for her at the contest.

Business Sponsors But at a meeting Monday,

Sal Anthony, a representative of the national Miss Universe Contest, explained that the contest is primarily designed with the idea that the girls would be sponsored by radio stations, department stores, newspapers and other business.

In order to enter a girl in the Miss Nebraska contest it is necessary for each fraternity to pay an entrance fee of $65 or $1 per man (if the fraternity is smaller than 65 men), provide her with a Catalina bathing suit and a full length evening gown.

Anthony said that the money went to provide the trip for the Miss Nebraska winner.

He estimated that there would be about 15 girls competing in the state contest.

Candidates Sponsoring fraternities and their candidates are:

Delta Upsilon, Yvonne Young (Alpha Omicron Pi); Theta Xi, Sondra Whalen (Alpha Omicron Pi); Phi Kappa Psi, Pat Gorman (Alpha Xi Delta); Alpha Tau Omega, Joe Griffiths (Pi Beta Phi); Phi Gamma Delta, Judy Lang (Alpha Phi).

Beta Sigma Psi, Lois Muhle (Delta Gamma); Kappa Sigma, Lee Ann Kitto (Alpha Phi); Sigma Phi Epsilon, Pat Johnson (Chi Omega); and Delta Sigma Psi, Priscilla Eckrich (Kappa Kappa Gamma).

These candidates and representatives from their sponsoring houses will meet today at 5 at the Phi Psi house to discuss the contest with Anthony.

Candidates should bring photographs of themselves and information for use in publicity for the June 20 contest.

Two ROTC Students Get Scholarships

Two University ROTC students, Bob Blair and Harvey Hartman, have been awarded this year's Edgar J. Boschult Memorial Scholarships through the University Foundation.

The scholarships, each worth $300, are awarded from the earnings of a $7,000 fund raised by the Nebraska Department of the American Legion in memory of Lt. Col. Edgar J. Boschult.

Colonel Boschult was a former assistant University purchasing agent who was killed in World War II. He was a past department commander of the American Legion.

Blair is an Army ROTC cadet and a junior in the College of Business Administration. Hartman is a freshman and is a Navy ROTC midshipman.

Steel Meet Is Planned

A conference featuring some of the latest developments in structural steel will be held at the University Union May 28.

The conference, titled "Structural Steel in Modern Building Construction", is being sponsored jointly by the College of Engineering and Architecture, the Extension Division, the American Institute of Steel Construction and Gate City Steel. Other sponsors are Lincoln Steel Works, Midwest Steel Works, Ltd., Omaha Steel Works and Paxton and Verling Steel Company.

One Last Function Scheduled

The only social function scheduled for this weekend is the Burr-Fedde-Terrace Hall Street Dance on Friday from 8:30 p.m. until 11:30 p.m.

Judy Berry, a Kappa Kappa Gamma sophomore in Teachers from Omaha was pinned to Jack Duffek, a Phi Delta Theta senior in Business Administration from Lincoln.

Judy Lindgren, a Gamma Phi Beta junior in Arts and Sciences from Grand Island, was pinned to Jerry Miller, a Beta Theta Pi junior in Business Administration from Grand Island.

That's all for this school year!

Navy ROTC Instructors Transferred

Two members of the Navy ROTC staff have been assigned to new posts effective at the end of the semester. Lieutenant Peter Hughes, who served as an assistant professor of naval sciences, has been ordered to a submarine squadron at New London, Conn.

Hughes, who instructed naval engineering and strategy and tactics, will act as communications officer for one year and will then be assigned to a nuclear powered submarine as executive officer.

Commander J. P. Edwards, who has been associate professor of naval science and executive officer for the past 3 years, has been ordered to the Joint U.S. Military Aid Group in Athens, Greece.

Edwards, who originally came from the USS Boxer where he acted as navigator, will assume the position of Logistics Officer at Headquarters Operations after he receives four weeks of logistics schooling at Washington, D.C.

1,500 Words Entrants answering both quizzes satisfactorily will write a 1,500 word thesis on one of several topics listed in the February issue.

Entries will be judged on grasp of subject matter, general intelligence, originality and demonstration of special talents.

Enrollment blanks may be obtained by writing the Prix de Paris Director, "Vogue," 420 Lexington Ave., New York 17.

Grasses Studied In Ag Project

University scientists are studying Great Plains grasses in a new College of Agriculture project.

Gordon Van Riper, University agronomist, is the project leader. The scientists are studying changes that occur in plant food reserves in relation to structure and feeding value of grasses. They are also studying these changes in relation to management practices.

Great Plains grasses are an important source of forage used as either pasture or hay for livestock production. They also help control soil erosion.

Center Bids Will Open

Bids will be opened June 9 for the Nebraska Center for Continuing education.

The Center, which will be located on Ag Campus, is estimated to cost $2.6 million.

Chancellor Clifford Hardin said that the contracts call for completion of construction by Dec. 31, 1960. Financing of the building is to be accomplished by a $1.5 million grant from the W. K. Kellogg Foundation of Battle Creek, Mich., and a state-wide fund drive through the University Foundation, which has raised to date $1,095,169.

CAMPUS CHATTER

By Wendy Makepeace

"I taut I taw a puddy tat!" Sounds ridiculous but that is the name of this unusual sportswear outfit by Juniorette. The midriff top is in a Gold or Red calico print. The jamaica pants are black with the "puddy tat" done in a matching calico print on it.

Come see this cute outfit in all sizes for only 8.98, in Gold's second floor Campus Shop.

"Ten to one he forgot the Camels!"

If he did, the odds are he'll be hotfooting it right back for America's most popular cigarette. Nothing else gives you the rich tobacco flavor and easy-going mildness of Camel's costly blend. It stands to reason: the best tobacco makes the best smoke.

Instead of fads and fancy stuff . . . Have a real cigarette - have a CAMEL
