Instruction In Bridge Offered

Those who have never sat in a foursome of bridge will have the opportunity to get professional instruction this summer.

Jack Timmons will teach beginners each Tuesday afternoon at 4 p.m. beginning June 16th. Lessons for advanced students will begin at 5 p.m.

Lessons will be held in room 315 of the Student Union. Any summer sessions student or staff member may take the free lessons. Interested persons should sign up in the Union activities office now.

Timmons is a graduate student in political science working on his masters degree. He taught bridge in service clubs throughout the country and Germany while he was in the Air Force.

A bridge tournament will climax the summer and trophies will be awarded the winners.

Summer Staff Plans Seminar

The University of Nebraska Teachers College is offering this summer for the first time three short-term workshop seminars in education for elementary and secondary school leaders and physical education specialists.

The new program, which will be given from June 22 to July 10, is being offered in response to requests from principals, supervisors and other educators engaged in curriculum planning.

The seminar for elementary school principals will be directed by Prof. Caleb Bucher of the Milton J. Brecht School in Lancaster, Pa.

The seminar for secondary school principals and supervisors will be conducted by Dr. Leo P. Black, assistant commissioner of education for Colorado and former assistant commissioner for Nebraska.

Dr. Doris O'Donnell, associate professor of women's physical education at the University, will be responsible for the physical education workshop, open to men and women.

In announcing this new short-term workshop program for Nebraska's supervisor-level educators, Dr. Frank E. Sorenson, summer session director, explained that persons enrolled in each seminar might earn three hours of graduate credits.

Swimming Pool Remains Open

The University swimming pool will be open to women from 4 to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday for recreational swimming. Swimmers must bring a cap and a health permit from Student Health. In addition there will be a charge of 10 cents for the rental of a suit and towel.

Pianists to be Featured In Second of Series

The second of the Union Artist series will be a duo-piano concert featuring Jack Crossans and Audun Ravnar. The presentation, to be held in the Union Ballroom, will be next Wednesday night at 8 p.m.

Crossan's performance activities include both solo and ensemble work. In the solo area he has recorded many times for international releases of Armed Forces Radio Service. These recordings have been heard in recent months in Formosa, Calcutta and Shanghai.

As an accompanist he has toured nationally and in Canada with many artists, among them John Raitt, John Charles Thomas, Igor Gorin, Francis Bible and Dorothy Warenskjold. With Miss Warenskjold he recently made a recording for Capitol Records. He has just completed a series of Community Concerts with Miss Warenskjold touring Virginia, Maryland, Ohio, Iowa and Texas. In addition to being on the staff of the University of Nebraska he taught at the University of Redlands and Occidental College in California.

Ravnar received his early musical training in his native country of Norway, where he was a soloist at the Norway Symphony at the age of 13. He made his concert debut in Oslo in 1947 and then came to the United States on a three year scholarship from the Institute of International Education.

In 1949, he graduated with highest distinction from Northwestern University. On a recent tour of Norway he was hailed by critics as "one of Norway's foremost pianists."

Ravnar came to the University of Nebraska in 1957 from the piano faculty of Northwestern University.

The program will include: El Salon Mexico by Aaron Copeland, Waltz from Suite No. 2, Op. 17 by Rachmaninoff, Sonata No. 1 in D Major by Mozart, Allegro, Variations on Theme by Haydn by Brahms, Ma mere L'Oyone by Ravel, Pavane for Sleeping Beauty in Forest, and Scar-amouche by Milhaud.

Planetarium Hours Set

A summer schedule for "Sky Shows" at the Ralph Mueller Planetarium went into effect last Sunday. The schedule, which will remain in effect through Sept. 1 is as follows:

Mondays through Fridays—2:45 p.m.

Saturdays and Sundays—2:15 and 3:30 p.m.

Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays—8 p.m.

The current show is entitled "Our Dynamic Skies."
